Peace Overture by U.S. Revealed After Closed Briefing

Gallagher Tells Reporters Of Contact After Bomb Pause

WASHINGTON (AP)—A member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee disclosed today that the direct communication from the United States to North Viet Nam was transmitted shortly after the present bombing pause began.

Rep. Cornelius Gallagher, D-N.J., told this to reporters after a 2½ hour closed briefing of the committee by Undersecretary of State George W. Ball. Ball himself brushed by reporters in the corridor and turned aside all questions.

Gallagher told newsmen the communication first mentioned Monday by White House press secretary Bill D. Moyers, was in the form of an aide memoire.

"The significance is that when an aide memoire was sent before, it was rejected out of hand," Gallagher said. "This one was accepted."

Direct Contact

Shortly before the report from Gallagher, Moyers had told reporters the administration's peace offensive is in the stage of evaluating, listening and waiting. He said he knew of no reaction to his revelation that a direct contact had been made.

Asked "where we stand now in terms of a peace offensive," whether "we are any closer than we were at Christmas," Moyers replied:

"I don't know of anyone in government who can answer that question."

He said he did not know whether President Johnson himself could answer.

Moyers said he could tell newsmen nothing about reports that the United States has seen to it that some documents were handed the North Vietnamese. That information came from other sources Monday night after Moyers had disclosed the bare fact of a direct contact. The press secretary said he could not confirm it.

Hanoi's receipt of the U.S. communication this time — during last May's bombing pause it refused a U.S. message sent through the British — was not regarded as significant here

India Mourns Shastri; Nanda New Minister

New Chief Will Honor Peace Vow

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Millions of mourning Indians packed the streets of New Delhi today as the body of Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri was brought home for cremation beside the sacred Jumna River.

As representatives of governments hurried from around the world to attend the funeral rites Wednesday, the world's leaders poured in tributes to the frail little man who struggled for 19 stormy months after the death of Jawaharlal Nehru to lead this troubled land of 460 million people.

Within hours after Shastri's death from a heart attack, India's new prime minister, Gulzarilal Nanda, promised to carry through his predecessor's final work—the peace pledge he signed with Pakistan a few hours before he died.

Died in Tashkent

Shastri, 61, died early today in the Soviet city of Tashkent. The 5-foot-2, 110-pound prime minister had signed a limited peace pact Monday with Pakistani President Mohammed Ayub Khan agreeing to pull their forces back from territory seized during the September war between India and Pakistan.

Nanda in a nationwide broadcast said Shastri died "after successfully concluding a mighty effort for peace. We shall honor the agreement he made and implement it faithfully."

A Soviet plane bore the remains of the humble-born little leader across the Hindu Kush Mountains to India's dusty plains.

Carried Coffin

Ayub Khan, whose forces fought Indian troops in a bloody 22-day undeclared war last September, and Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin, who was host to the Tashkent conference, helped carry Shastri's coffin to the plane in the Soviet Asian city.

Kosygin left shortly after to attend the funeral. Ayub returned to Rawalpindi, the Pakistani capital.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Secretary of State Dean Rusk flew from Washington for the funeral. They were accompanied by two former U.S. ambassadors to India, Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., and John Kenneth Galbraith

Nation Is United as Never Before

By CONRAD FINK

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Lal Bahadur Shastri's successor has one advantage Shastri lacked when he became prime minister of India. The country is united as never before in recent years.

The war with Pakistan and the constant battle against economic misery has given India a new spirit that should help smooth the way for the country's new leader, Gulzarilal Nanda.

When Shastri succeeded Jawaharlal Nehru in June 1964, trouble was breaking out everywhere.

Language riots swept the south. Separatist tendencies flamed in other sections. The nation's chief unifying force, the ruling Congress party, was splitting into factions.

Middle of Road

Because he belonged to no faction, Shastri was acceptable to all. A middle-roader, he had gained a reputation for mildness and conciliation in years of quiet but solid party work.

Shastri had a tough time at first, barely putting down one trouble before another flared up. But gradually he gained real, as well as paper, power and led India with firmness.

It was not until he showed steel as a leader in war, however, that Shastri was accepted by the general public. And not until India's war with Pakistan in September did he pull India together.

After the September war, it was said in New Delhi: "He will be prime minister as long as he lives."

Submit to Election

His successor, Nanda, probably will submit to a party election soon to determine if he is to continue as prime minister. In India's parliamentary democracy, the ruling party's members of Parliament elect a leader who then is asked by the president to form a new government.

Nanda, home minister in Shastri's Cabinet, is a stern, ascetic man who has characteristics that have made him unpopular in some sections of his party.

Like many Indians, he regularly consults astrologers.

He has led anticorruption campaigns which have not ended corruption but have made many enemies for him.

As home minister, Nanda was Shastri's No. 1 "Communist watcher." He ordered more than 1,000 jailed last year, charging that they were plotting revolt.

Except for those who publicly renounced their ideology, most of the Communists still are behind bars.

Lindsay Gets Tough

Investigate Means Of Settling Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — New means of settling New York's transit crisis are being explored under a get-tough policy laid down by Mayor John V. Lindsay.

The Transit Authority and the striking transit unions were asked to give their reaction today to proposals suggested by Lindsay for ending the tieup.

In a biting statement Monday, Lindsay had told the city's mediators to take stern measures to end the strike by the bus and subway workers.

Face Issues

He said it was "time for Mayor Lindsay to face the issues realistically and deal with us fairly. He should stop trying to cheat the people of New York with innuendo."

In the early hours of today negotiations again ended without agreement. The mediators told the Transit Authority and the unions to come back later ready to give their ideas about Lindsay's suggestions.

Here is what the mayor recommended as alternatives to a negotiated settlement:

That the mediators make specific recommendations for a settlement; that a fact-finding commission be appointed to study the dispute and make recommendations, or that new procedures be adopted, such as advisory or binding arbitration.

Return to Work

Lindsay coupled the last two alternatives with a recommendation that the strikers return to work pending final settlement

Sylvester Garrett, one of the three mediators, said regarding MacMahon's public rejection that he did not believe the union leader's statement "necessarily represented a full exposition of the union's views to the various alternatives."

MacMahon seemed particularly enraged by Lindsay's suggestion that the strikers return to work pending a final settlement.

He contended Lindsay wanted to "defer our claims until the end of 1967 to give (Gov. Nelson A.) Rockefeller and Lindsay an opportunity to get together as far as their political problems are concerned and let the workers wait.

U.S. Writers Ordered Out By Sukarno

Sukarno issued the order in a speech at a ceremony installing the new Indonesian ambassador to Syria, H. M. Sudjono.

The president said he has decided to expel American correspondents from Indonesia in retaliation for lies he said were being written in the American press about the current Indonesian political crisis.

There are now two American correspondents in Indonesia: R.E. Staniard of United Press International and Donald Kirk, representing the New York Times.

Antonie Yared of The Associated Press is a Lebanese.

Dominican Rebels Agree to Leave

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Seven rebel officers have agreed to accept diplomatic assignments abroad, a government source reported today.

The group, however, does not include such top rebel laders as Col. Francisco Caamano Deno or Col. Manuel Ramon Montes Arache, the informant said.

Guerrillas Flee Into Jungle

'Operation Crimp' Chases Viet Cong With Little Success

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Large forces of disappointed U. S. troops mopped up today in two big Viet Cong hideouts northwest of Saigon and in the central highlands near the Cambodian frontier after the bulk of guerrillas once more had escaped into the jungles.

For U. S. officers the operation by more than 8,000 Americans and Australians 35 miles from the capital was particularly annoying. Although they raised the Viet Cong death toll to 84 and captured 38 in the four days of Operation Crimp, they had hoped for far better results from the biggest American offensive of the war.

Their goal was to snare a Communist regiment on the edge of the Iron Triangle, an old guerrilla redoubt that has been Communist territory since the days of the French Indochina war. But only rear-guard elements put up a fight while the main enemy force vanished.

Brisk Fight

Paratroopers of the 173rd Airborne Brigade took on one guerrilla band in a brisk fight Monday and killed 29 Communists, U. S. spokesmen reported. Another 16 bodies were found after an air attack.

Soldiers of the 1st Infantry Division killed six more guerrillas in a 20-minute gun battle when the Reds tried to protect a large tunnel containing 15 bales of cotton and six tons of rice.

While U. S. troops explored a maze of tunnels underneath more than 100 houses in the area, soldiers of the Royal Australian Regiment reported killing three Viet Cong in small actions in the afternoon and finding five more bodies.

A U. S. spokesman reported "only light, sporadic contact in the whole battle area" by tonight.

Equally frustrating was an eight-day search for guerrillas by the U. S. 1st cavalry, Airmobile, Division in the central highlands on the Cambodian frontier, not far from the Ia Drang Valley where the Flying Horsemen battled it out with North Vietnamese regulars last November.

This time the Communists hurriedly pulled out, abandoning four rest camps capable of accommodating 3,000 guerrillas.

36 Killed in Brazilian Flooding

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — Thirty-six persons perished and many more were feared buried in the debris of 50 buildings — mostly in the slums—which collapsed Monday night after a downpour caused extensive flooding.

The rain continued into the early morning and more was predicted for tonight.

The Journal do Brasil said as many as 100 persons may have been killed, but a Fire Department spokesman declined to speculate on the number of dead.

He said six of the known casualties had drowned or died from heart attacks.

A shantytown on the steep hillside behind the fashionable Copacabar district was reported to have suffered heavy damage, and some of its buildings were swept away.

The Maracana River overflowed into a middle-and lower-class neighborhood and flooded dozens of homes. At some points in low sections of the city water was 6 and 7 feet deep.

Blast Wrecks New Ski Lodge

BRECKENRIDGE, Colo. (AP) — "I felt it first. I don't know if I ever heard it at all. Then there was a puff of smoke and the whole building just settled down. It was all over in about 15 seconds."

John Bos, 25, Chicago, lift manager at Breckenridge Ski Area, said he was about 300 yards from the new $62,000 week-old operations and administration building when it blew up Monday.

The blast killed one person and injured 11 others — three of them critically.

Bos and other employes said the apparent cause of the blast was a propane gas leak in a crawl space beneath the two-story building of rough-hewn timber. Officials had not confirmed the cause.

Harriman to Fly To South Viet Nam

Pat Nugent Starts Duty in Washington

WASHINGTON (AP)—Patrick J. Nugent began his duty with the District of Columbia's air national guard Monday by reluctantly posing for photographs for an hour.

The celebrated airman fiance of the President's younger daughter, declined to answer questions about his transfer here from the Wisconsin Air National Guard.

Nugent said he would live in barracks at the Andrews Air Force Base in suburban Maryland during his 120 days of active duty training.

Enforcement Unit

Committee Hears of Klan 'Wrecking Crew'

WASHINGTON (AP)—A self-described former member of a Ku Klux Klan "wrecking crew" told today of the beating of a white youth in rural Louisiana.

The witness before the House Committee on Un-American Activities was John H. Gipson of Slidell, La., about 30 miles from New Orleans.

Gipson, 29, testified that he joined a unit of the original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan because the way they explained it, it did sound good." But he said he became disgusted after finding the Klan engaged in violence.

Youth Whipped

Soon after he joined the Klan in 1963, Gipson testified, he was recruited for the "wrecking crew" or enforcement unit. He testified he was told the job was to take care of "smart niggers" and others and that it might be necessary to murder somebody.

Gipson said the only act of violence in which he participated was the whipping of a white youth in the community. Clarence O'Berry. He did not give an exact date, but said the incident was planned after a klavern meeting.

He said Oscar Anderson, whom he named as chief of the Klan bureau of investigations for the area, told the "wrecking crew" that O'Berry "drank and didn't take care of his family and he needed to be straightened out with a belt."

Post-Crescent's 4th Ski School Opens Tonight

Registrants are reminded that the indoor class of the fourth annual Post-Crescent Ski School will be held at 7:30 p.m. today at the Appleton Senior High School auditorium.

Tonight's instruction will consist of information regarding proper equipment and department at the respective ski areas. All students are urged to attend this evening so they will not take time from other students to get the information during the outdoor sessions. Instructional films also will be shown tonight.

In addition, each student will receive a map designating routes to the areas, a helpful booklet illustrating ski techniques and for the first time since origination of the school, ski patches will be distributed at the opening session. The class will end as close to 9 p.m. as possible.

Five Diocesan Priests Near 50th Anniversary

Jubilee Celebrations Scheduled During 1966; Seven Others to Mark 25th Year

Ordination anniversaries will be observed this year by 12 priests of the Green Bay Diocese.

Five golden jubilees, the largest number of such anniversaries observed in the diocese in any single year in recent history will be observed.

The five are the Rt Rev Msgr. Joseph Ahearn, former pastor of St Patrick Parish, Menasha, now retired and living in St Mary Home, Manitowoc; his brother, the Rev. Roland Ahearn, St. Augustine Parish, Chilton; the Rt. Rev. Msgr. John Landowski, St. Mary Parish, Manitowoc; the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Emil Schmit, Sacred Heart Parish, Appleton; and the Rt Rev Msgr. Louis Schorn, St Vincent Parish, Oshkosh.

All were ordained on the same date in 1916 and made up the first calls to be ordained to the priesthood in northeastern Wisconsin by the Most Rev. Paul Peter Rhode, immediate predecesor of the Most Rev. Stanislaus Bona as bishop of the Green Bay Diocese

Observing their silver jubilees will be seven diocesan priests.

They are the Rev Frederick DeGroot, Sacred Heart Seminary, Oneida; the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Orville Griese, St. Mary Church, Brillion; the Rev. Robert Hogan, Our Lady of Lourdes, Marinette; the Rev. Claude LeClair, Sacred Heart, Manitowoc; the Rev. Robert McCarthy, St. Kilian, New Franken; the Rev. Leo Ott, St. Margaret Mary, Neenah; and the Rev. Lawrence Stingle, St Gabriel, Neenah.

All were ordained by Bishop Rhode in the Cathedral Church, Green Bay in 1941.

Commuter Not Main Factor At New School

Early Planning for UW Branch Calls For Residence Halls

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — The daily commuter student is a less important factor in the planning for a new higher educational institution than has been supposed, according to preliminary conclusions of state officials blueprinting the location and construction of two new four-year collegiate institutions in northeastern and southeastern Wisconsin.

As a result, the early planning for the two new branches of the University of Wisconsin called for in a 1965 legislative act is based on the belief that campus residence halls will be needed, even as they are required in large numbers at the existing institutions in the state university system and at the parent University in Madison.

Instead of the daily commuter, the planners are thinking in effect of the weekly commuter student on the new campuses.

Students "Go Away"

Hundreds of students today respond to the opportunity to "go away," but also desire a campus located near enough to their homes to return to their families on weekends.

Thus there are many students from Milwaugee who are passing up the opportunity to attend classes at the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee, in favor of enrolling at Whitewater or Oshkosh, for example, and there are students from Madison attending the universities of Platteville or Stevens Point or La Crosse instead of the University of Wisconsin in close proximity to their homes.

The increasing financial ability of parents is a factor in such student migrations, but there also is a powerful attraction to the idea of campus residence for hundreds of boys and girls.

Assemblyman Glen Pommerening, chairman of the site selection committee studying locations for the two new campuses, has offered his own view that the daily commuting distance that is practicable for young people is about 20 miles. But there will be many other students of northeastern Wisconsin, for example, who are likely to be attracted to the proposed new Fox River Valley campus from homes up to 75 miles distant, if residence facilities are provided, he believes.

St. Norbert College Offers Four Year ROTC Scholarships

WEST DE PERE — St. Norbert College is one of 247 colleges offering four-year Army Reserve Officers Training Corps (ROTC) scholarships, Lt. Col. Clell W. Babler, professor of military science at the college, said today.

ROTC scholarships will be available for college and university students taking part in the four-year program. The scholarship program is in its second year, and provides full tuition, textbooks, and laboratory expenses, and $50-a-month allowance. Students enroll in their chosen field of study and also take ROTC training. They are draft exempt and upon graduation receive an officer's commission in the U.S. Army.

"It is expected that 1,000 scholarships will be awarded this year to college students throughout the country," Col. Babler said.

Information can be obtained at the college ROTC department, and application forms are available from ROTC Scholarships, Fifth US Army, 1660 E. Hyde Park Blvd., Chicago, Ill., 60615. Applications must be submitted by March 1.

New Officers Picked For Committee on Work of Handicapped

MADISON (AP) — The Governor's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped announced the appointments today of three new officers.

They are Robert Voss of Madison, chairman; John E. Linster of Wausau, first vice chairman, and Walter C Scherf of Green Bay, second vice chairman. They were elected to two-year terms.

Retiring chairman, Mrs Marie Hoyer of Oshkosh, was named to the executive committee. James F. Brown of Madison was retained as executive secretary.

Short Hair Frees Gals for Femininity

By KELLY SMITH

NEW YORK (AP) — Vidal Sassoon, the London hair stylist who makes Janes look like Joes, claims every woman in America ought to get rid of her hair "so she'll have time to do some real living."

Nightly pinups, teasing, bouffant hairdos and bobby pins are ridiculous, he says, "especially when this country is otherwise such a modern, spectacular place."

Short hair, he says, would give women time to be more feminine.

Sassoon expressed his views for 200 fashion writers attending New York Couture Group style previews Monday. The ladies gasped when shown one German model with platinum blonde hair shorter than Sassoon's.

"Every woman would cut her hair this way if she saw how easy it is," says Anna Lenz of Munich. To contrast her close-cropped hair, she wears make-up that takes an hour to put on.

Can't Believe It

"Men love my hair short," says Sassoon model Judy Mursch, 23, of Copenhagen, Denmark. "They rub their hands in it. They can't believe it's so straight thick. I think it's very sexy."

Kelly McKeown, 28, of New York, wears her blonde hair in what looks like a blown cut. "It's so interesting I get twice as many job bookings now," she says.

Sassoon charges $25 when he cuts a girl's hair, and she must have it recut every two to three weeks.

"Each girl's hair is done individually," he says. "It's styled to her bone structure and contour of her face. She can brush it any direction and it will look perfect."

Sassoon, 38 this month and handsome, has been cutting women's hair for 20 years. Most important is the over-all image.

Most Important

"The clothes image is destroyed without a good haircut," he says. "Modern clothes need short, architectural hair." He has a new style, also short, ready for the Paris and Rome fashion openings, but he won't talk about it. He just laughs.

Mortgage Contact May Not Permit Using Tax Monies

BY MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Dear Miss Feeley:

We have a $12,000 mortgage with payments of $79 a month, which we have been paying now for two years. We also pay the taxes to the bank. These taxes have gone up from $15 a month to $25, making a total payment of $104.

What I'd like to know is would I save money by putting this amount for taxes into a savings account paying semi-annually interest at 4 per cent—then paying the taxes myself?

Reader, Butler, Pa.

Dear Reader,

You'd get some return on that tax money, of course, if you put it into a savings account. But the point is you've signed a contract entitling the bank to assume collection of taxes under an escrow arrangement.

I question whether you can now take over this responsibility yourself, since you have such a small equity in the property.

Money put in escrow for taxes and other assessments is protection for the lender. There is no flat rule as to how specific requests are handled. Some large lenders will let a homeowner arrange payments of these bills directly, if his equity amounts to 50 per cent or more of the value of the property.

Other lenders, offering low down-payments on single dwellings, ask that another mortgage at the present going rate, be drawn up if these tax payment plans are changed. This can cost the homeowner an extra $25.

And some lenders insist that they continue to pay the taxes in order to protect their own investment no matter how large the homeowner's equity may be.

Dear Miss Feeley:

I am a widow who recently purchased a home. I am putting $5,000 down and will have a mortgage of $13,000.

I have about $3,000 in the savings bank and drew 4¼ per cent interest every three months.

I would like to know should I put an additional $2,000 down on the house in order to cut payments and interest? Or should I leave things as is?

My job doesn't pay too much and I'm helping one son who is in his last year of college.

Mrs. J. R., Chicago, Ill.

Dear Mrs. R.:

In your situation I'd say that $13,000 in the bank is too precious to tamper with. If you can continue to support the mortgage on your salary—and still have room to breathe—then leave things as they are. I realize you're putting out more in interest money than you're taking in. But there are times when it's smarter to have ready cash. You can't yet expect a helping hand from your son. When he finishes his education and gets a job, then review the situation.

Spattered Paint Can Be Removed

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN

Q. When I finished painting some windows, I noticed I had spattered quite a few drops of paint on the glass. I hesitate to try a sharp blade, such as a razor, to scrape them off, for fear of scratching. What else will work?

A. Wipe with turpentine and fine steel wool. Or use paint remover. Probably easiest of all: rub with the edge of a coin.

Q. I bought a second-hand dishwasher from a friend whose husband was being moved to another territory. It works fine except that it makes such noisy vibrations. Is there any easy remedy, at least a partial one?

A. Get oversize furniture cups at any furniture or hardware store. Get a small piece of thick, firm foam rubber, and cut four pieces, so you can set one in each furniture cup. Put each foot of the washer in one of these. I guarantee you'll at least notice considerable improvement.

Q. Please tell me how to plug up some small holes in the bellows of an almost ancient accordion. The notes come out all right. But there's a wheezy sound as well. Can you offer any suggestions for fixing this?

A. First locate every hole. Then mix up enough of the two-part epoxy adhesive to do all the holes. (You can use other clear cements.) Wipe the area around each hole clean, using cleaning fluid or benzene. Then dab on the cement. Don't use the squeeze box again for several days, to make sure the adhesives have thoroughly dried and bonded.

Q. Some of my radiators seem to leak around the valves. As a result, there are small pools under them when the radiators are working. How can I get rid of this condition?

A. This sounds like leaky packing around the valves. It may only be that the big six-sided nut under the valve handle is loose. Try tightening it with a wrench, but be careful not to scratch the metal. Very often this tightening works fine for several years. If not, get some graphite-soaked packing cord and put it inside the nut and wrap it on the faucet stem—just as you found it with the faulty packing. Caution: First remember to turn off the water!

Menasha Club Parties in Winter Decor

Party Chairmen Mr and Mrs Floyd Bollman shared smiles over the success of the Menasha Club dance Saturday evening at the Menasha Elks Club. Below, dance programs were filled in by Al Guentzel, Menasha, Mr. and Mrs Fred Hollenbeck, Neenah, and Mrs. Guentzel

The season of snow and cold is still very much at hand, and members of the Menasha Club were greeted by decorations taking note of that fact Saturday evening when they partied at the Menasha Elks Club.

Snow-covered branches and snowmen were given a note of gaiety by the addition of colorful birds promising springtime ahead.

The party began with a cocktail hour before the 9 p m dance. Mr. and Mrs Floyd Bollman, Appleton, were party chairmen Assisting them were Mrs. Warren Whitlinger and Mrs William Daniel Jr

Try Winter Sports to Keep In Shape for Swimsuits

Cut-out swimsuits, the designers report, are really "in" next summer. What you put into them, however, may well depend on how you're cut out to enjoy winter—and winter sports.

Many women feel that winter sports consist of either schussing down a perpendicular mountainside, or watching TV. With visions of broken limbs, they choose the latter. Come summertime, the shape they're in—both physically and mentally—can best be described as "flabby."

It is a fact that skiing, if it's your winter dish, builds overall endurance, strengthens muscles, slenderizes and tightens the whole body Like dancing, skiing develops grace and coordination.

But, if skiing leaves you cold, remember it is not the only winter sport . . . although some 3,500,000 schussers would argue otherwise! A survey revealed that bowling reaches its peak in the winter. The lanes attract some 14 million participants annually, many millions of whom are women. And why not? Bowling is especially good for muscles in the arms, shoulders and back—areas that get plenty of strain, but little actual exercise, during the average homemaker's day.

Another good winter activity for keeping in shape is skating, either roller or ice. Roller skating maintains its popularity with some 15 million fans, and is especially attractive in the winter. The increase of indoor ice rinks has made it possible for women all over to enjoy this sport, even in the Southern states

Either type of skating will provide you with exercise similar to running, but which is much less vigorous And it exercises the shoulders and arms, as well as the legs.

Afraid to tackle one of these sports? Don't be—but do remember a few pointers: wear proper clothing and shoes, whichever sport you choose; get instructions from a professional, or a friend who really knows the finer points; and always start your activity slowly, building up as the muscles become accustomed to their new chores. The first few times you participate, chances are you'll ache all over. But don't be discouraged. Immediately after a session, ease stiffening, tired muscles by relaxing in a hot, luxurious bath.

Keep another thing in mind: participating in winter sports can be loads of fun if you don't push yourself to exhaustion. The most important element in any sport is enjoyment. Pick the one you like and go at it intelligently

You'll be glad you did next summer!

Bride-Elect Guest of Honor At Showers

Miss Beverly Moon was honored at a miscellaneous bridal shower Dec. 28 at the home of Mrs Edward Niec, route 2, Black Creek. Co-hostesses were Miss Doris Niec and Mrs. Kenneth Kahler.

Miss Kathleen Moon and Miss Kathy Deeg gave a miscellaneous shower Saturday at the home of the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Moon, 301 S. Lee St.

June Nuptial Rite Planned

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Peters, route 1, Appleton, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Judith, to Martin Verhagen Jr. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Martin Verhagen Sr., 1203 E. Lincoln Ave., Little Chute.

Both Miss Peters and her fiance are employed at Zwicker Knitting Mills, Appleton.

Their wedding will be June 25.

Currants, Gooseberries, Easy to Grow

Currant jelly—gooseberry pie If these foods make you wish for your own backyard supply, they are easy to grow, according to George Klingbeil, fruit specialist at the University of Wisconsin.

Currant and gooseberry bushes will grow in shady locations so most any corner of a city lot works well. Most fruits need full sun, but partial shade in a cool moist spot is fine for these plants. They do need good air circulation around them.

These fruits need to be planted where grass and weeds are kept away. A good cleared spot where you can keep the quack out is ideal. The roots are shallow so they need light cultivation It helps keep weeds down and moisture in if you use a mulch.

Prune In Spring

A spring application of any complete fertilizer and a healthy spring pruning keeps the plants in good condition. The pruning is aimed to keep about six new shoots growing. After the plant is growing, follow a regular sequence of cutting out some of each of the one two-and three-year canes and getting rid of all the four-year ones.

Pruning keeps the plants producing and encourages new cane growth.

General Showed Early Leadership

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — What goes into the making of a four-star general?

The mother of Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in Viet Nam, says he was determined to win even as a boy and "if he ever began a job, he would finish it."

In an interview, Mrs. J. R. Westmoreland said her son "always was a leader but would listen to the advise of those he repected. He never rebelled about punishment.

"I stressed obedience with my children," she said. "If you don't learn to obey, you don't get anywhere in life."

"I remember once when he was a Scout patrol leader and he was trying to teach some Cub Scouts," she said. "One of the boys didn't obey. My boy just picked him up and put him down in the creek with his clothes on.

No Resentment

"You'd think the boy would have resented my boy for that, but instead, he adored him and my boy never had any more trouble with him."

Mrs. Westmoreland, who will be 80 in March, said she wanted her son to be a physician even though "he was always playing soldier."

"I thought he'd be a good doctor," she said, "but he didn't think so."

Her son chose West Point, although she said: "He didn't dream he'd ever get into Annapolis or West Point."

She told of visiting him at West Point once when he had forgotten his sword for a dress parade. But, she said, her cadet son was able to maneuver so expertly while marching that no one noticed.

Mrs. Westmoreland, a widow, still worries about her son.

"But I try to have faith," she said. "The Lord has taken care of him for 51 years. I'm hoping and praying he'll be used in some way to bring peace."

Mrs. J. R. Westmoreland, mother of Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U. S. Forces in Viet Nam, says that her son was always a leader. Commenting at her home in Columbia, S. C., the 80-year-old added that he would also listen to advice. She wanted him to become a doctor, but the general, now 51, chose West Point instead. (AP Wirephoto)

Miss Hayes, Fiance Plan Fall Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Beverly Hayes, 1348 W. Spring St., have announced the engagement of their daughter, Sharee, to Roy J. Vandenberg. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester J. Vandenberg, 703 N. Wilson St., Little Chute.

The bridegroom-elect, a graduate of St. Norbert College, De Pere, is employed by the American Can Co., Neenah. His fiancee works at Medical Arts Clinic.

A September wedding is planned.

Naked Look, Like Measles, Catching

By TOM JOHNSON

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—What the topless bathing suit did for the ladies, the new "naked look" should do for men: not much.

The "naked look" is about the latest thing in men's swimsuit attire. It features several silver dollar-sized holes placed here and there in an ordinary looking pair of swim trunks.

"But this is really just a kook item," said Bob Moore, one of some 525 representatives displaying latest styles at the spring market of the Southwestern Men's and Boys' Apparel Club in Dallas.

Three thousand retail buyers from 16 states are looking over 1,400 lines of conventional, continental and new-look, high-style merchandise.

Color-Packed

The new look for men this spring encompasses everything from surfer swim trunks to double-breasted blazers. The emphasis is on color.

Polka dots, paisley and pareu are in. Pin-stripes, pants pleats and anything plain are out.

Bell-bottom slacks are coming in. Padded shoulders will never get back in.

Even neckties are radical compared with last year's standards. Bold, vibrant colors are dominant, and some patterns are masterpieces of florid, intricate detail.

Fashion's "Rights"

The American male is just now reaping the benefits of the "fashion bill of rights" which developed after World War II, says Robert L. Green of New York.

Green was on hand Monday night as producer of the Dallas presentation of the Caswell-Massey fashion awards, held here for the first time.

Green said the revolution in men's fashions the past few years was the result of widespread economic well being and the cohesive effect of modern communications.

"The privileges of the rich are now becoming the pleasures of everyone," he said.

Green predicted that men's clothing trends are about to become as fashion-dominated as women's.

A Lovelier You

By Mary Sue Miller

Energy Drain

A lovely writes: My skin doesn't fit my face any more. It has come loose from my jaw bone and droops under my chin. I didn't think this would happen until I was too old to care. I'm in my mid-forties and care terribly. Can you help?

The Answer: A woman never gets "too old to care." And that's why she should always take very special care of herself. Lack of it causes aging before time.

In the throat and chin areas, crepey conditions are hastened by faulty posture and inadequate attention to the skin. If the head were always carried erect — neck drawn out of the shoulders and chin tilted upward — the jaw and throat muscles would resist the laxity that age threatens.

As for the skin below the jawline, it requires as much pampering as that above. Yet the neck is a victim of neglect. And you just know it! Honestly now, how often do you apply a cream to your face and stop short at the chin?

Whenever you use a cleanser, emollient or moisturizer, it should be applied upward and outward from the base of the throat to the hairline. In addition, the fortieth birthday signals the need for throat oils or ceams. These are formulated to firm and tone the special texture of the throat complexion.

It is never too late to take these measures. They help both to prevent and remedy crepiness.

To firm and uplift sagging facial muscles and flesh, use my four-way method. It works wonders through corrective exercise, posture, skin care and make-up. Procedures are detailed in the leaflet, "Banish Crepey Throat & Chin." For your copy, write Mary Sue Miller in care of The Post-Crescent, enclosing 10 cents in coin and a large self-addressed stamped envelope.

Correction

In the Monday Post-Crescent story of the engagement of Miss Karla Kay Kortness to Gary P. LeBlanc Miss Kortness's first name was incorrectly stated. Miss Kortness, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kortness, Paynes Point, Neenah, and her fiance, son of Mrs. Mark Kuettel, route 2, Neenah, and Phil LeBlanc, 315 S. Helen St., Kimberly, will be married in July.

Well-Meaning Parents Could Cause Child's Bedwetting

BY DR. EVE JONES

Dear Dr. Jones: My memory was greatly stirred by the letter you had in a recent column concerning a six-year-old boy who wets the bed. I, too, was a bedwetter when a child, and I can't tell you how much I wanted to get up one morning and have the bed dry. But it wasn't until I got away from my parents for a summer at camp that I was able to stay dry at night.

As I look back on it, I think the trouble was that my parents didn't show any emotion to us children. They were both well-known people in the community and they were always calm and collected. When we were hurt or upset, they tried to kid us out of our feelings or else told us they knew we'd figure things out for ourselves.

I suppose their purpose was to give us confidence in ourselves, but the results were just the opposite. Their attitude made us feel they didn't care what happened to us. They never lost their tempers or told us point-blank what they wanted us to do—instead, they were always giving us choices: "You may go ahead and do that if you wish, but you'll have to suffer the consequences if you do." They didn't seem to know how to help us talk about our feelings or how to relieve our pent up feelings.

I know, of course, that many children wet the bed because they're fearful and resentful of their parents' brutality and domination. But I often wonder if there aren't many others caught in this trap of bedwetting by fears and angers over the way their parents fail to show serious worry and honest annoyance with them. Mr. P.M.

You're right. Many children, indeed, are bedwetters because of the tensions built up when too much is expected of them. It's often difficult for well-meaning parents to draw the line between expressing confidence in a child's ability to handle a problem independently and failing to give a child sympathy and help when he needs it.

If parents are certain to show their children real and open affection whenever the children ask for it and strive to be equally direct about giving their children orders, they can avoid creating some of the problems you indicate your parents made for you.

Some Make Motion; Some Tricks

Early in his career a bridge expert leans to go through all the right motions. When he doesn't know what to do he strokes his chin and scratches his head. This makes him look thoughtful, even if not a brain cell is working.

When today's hand was played at four hearts in the recent Team Trials in San Francisco, the opening lead was the three of diamonds to East's ace at all eight tables. Then it turned out that there were only two bridge players in th eight East setup.

Most of them led the ace of hearts at the second rick and then a low heart. West shifted to a spade at once, but it was too late. South could put up dummy's ace of spades and get rid of two spades on dummy's clubs.

Two experts, Norman Kay and Arthur Robinson, found the proper defense. Each of them led the low heart at the second trick, without first taking the ace of hearts.

West won with the king of hearts and returned a spade. Now South couldn't discard spades on dummy's clubs because West would ruff the fourth club with his low heart. And if South tried the spade finesse East would get the king then and there.

When you think about it, you wonder what the other six players were doing. It should be obvious to East that the contract cannot be beaten unless West has the king of hearts or four clubs headed by the ace-queen.

East must try the trump first. If that fails, he can lead a club in the hope that West has the ace of clubs and that South cannot get enough discards on dummy's clubs.

ANSWER: Pass. You need about 4 points to respond to the opening bid of 2 NT, and in this case you have only 3 points. Partner should have 22 to 24 points for his bid and will need something more than just one king to make game.

Ann's Column Reaches Readers With Like Questions, Problems

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS I live in Denver If I lived in Chicago I would go right over to your office and give you a kiss for the letter you printed about the woman who is going through the menopause and whose husband thought she was complaining just to get attention I am married to the same kind

For over a year I have had dizzy spells and hot flashes One minute I feel like Iam burning up Ten minutes later I have to put on a sweater Last week I got a terrible hot flash during a bridge game Max and I have a set game every Thursday night with my sister and her husband Thank God it wasn't strangers I said. Max, I'm hot Please open the window "

He said. In five minutes you'll be telling me to turn up the heat I think you are getting nutty "

A person who hasn't gone through the change can't imagine what it's like Please print this letter and I will put it right under Max's chopped herring tonight —Grateful

Dear Grateful: Here's your letter and I'd like to add a word of my own. Any wife who goes to the trouble of making chopped herring for her husband deserves extra love and consideration. Now, aren't you ashamed of yourself, Max?

DEAR ANN LANDERS· I am 12 years old and need your advice already

Yesterday was Mom's birthday Us kids didn't remember her with a card or anything and neither did Dad. Mom was very quiet until dinner time. Then all of a sudden she said. "I guess I am only a housekeeper and laundry woman around here. Nobody cares about me. Not one of you remembered that today was my birthday."

Dad said he was sorry but he had had a lot on his mind lately. My older sister almost cried. My little brother went to his room and got his piggy bank. He tried to give it to Mom but she wouldn't take it.

We love Mom and feel very sorry about this. What can we do to make her happy again? —Family Troubles

Dear Family: It's too late to do anything about Mom's birthday this year, so stop trying. She will cheer up faster if you are sweet and helpful around the house.

Get a 1966 calendar now and mark off Mom's birthday a week in advance so you don't forget next year. And be sure to remind your Dad. He may have a lot on his mind a year from now, too.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Four months ago I married a wonderful man. It was a second marriage for both of us. He has three children.

I was born and raised in another part of the country and I'm doing my best to make friends here The big problem is that I have never met my husband's parents although they live less than five miles from us My husband says very little about them but I know they are fond of his former wife and children

Am I being rude by not making the first move? A friend of mine says it is up to me to invite my in-laws to our home Is she right? Please give me some advice —Sticky Wicket

Dear Sticky: This whole deal smells like a strong wind from a glue factory.

Either your husband's parents have told your husband that they don't wish to meet you, or he has not had the nerve to suggest it. You are entitled to know the truth Ask him.

When necking becomes petting, watch out! To learn how the smart girl keeps both her dignity and her boy friend, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Necking and Petting — And How Far to Go," enclosing with your request 25 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope

Lawrence Plans 3-Day Conference On Religion in Life

Chicago Professor Featured Speaker at Parley on Arts

Dr. Nathan A. Scott Jr., professor of theology and literature at the University of Chicago, will be the featured speaker at Lawrence University's annual student-sponsored Religion in Life Conference next Monday through Wednesday.

General heading of the conference is "Religion and the Arts". The conference schedule includes three major addresses by Dr. Scott and a dramatic reading, "The Killer," by Eugene Ionesco, coupled with a discussion by Lawrence faculty members.

Discussion participants will be Dr E. Graham Waring Jr., chairman of the religion department; Dr. John P. Dreher, assistant professor of philosophy; Rev. Claud A. Thompson, lecturer in English and assistant pastor, All Saints Episcopal Church, and Dr. Bruce W. Cronmiller Jr., associate professor of French.

Dr. Nathan Scott Jr.

Events during the three-day conference, all open to the public without charge, are:

Monday — Keynote address, "The Testimony of Flannery O'Connor; The Pressure of Glory," Dr. Scott, Memorial Union, 8 p.m.

Tuesday — Convocation address, "Man in Modern Literature," Dr. Scott, Memorial Chapel, 10:40 a.m.

Address — "Is a Theological Criticism of Literature Possible?" Dr. Scott, Memorial Union, 7:30 p.m.

Jan. 19 — Dramatic reading, "The Kiler," by Eugene Ionesco, followed by faculty discussion, Harper Hall, 8 p.m

Purpose of the conference, according to Lawrence senior David Glidden, co-chairman of the event, is "to look at the arts from a religious perspective to show tthat the artist and the Christian have something in common." He adds, just as the arts cannot be overlooked in human experience, "it is our aim to demonstrate that religion cannot be easily forgotten."

American Author

Dr. Scott's opening address concerns author Flannery O'Connor, who died last summer, leaving behind what Scott calls "one of the most interesting bodies of work in recent American fiction."

The convocation talk will deal with an overview of recent religious literature. Scott's third address will consider the effects of a theological perspective on literary criticism and analysis.

The speaker joined the University of Chicago faculty in 1964. He taught earlier at Harvard University, and has been literary editor of The Christian Scholar since 1960.

He received a bachelor degree from the University of Michigan, a bachelor of divinity degree from Union Theological Seminary, and his doctorate from Columbia University.

He has been a member of the board of directors of the Foundation of Arts, Religion and Culture since 1962. Among his writings is a book, "Modern Literature and the Religious Frontier." He has also edited a number of anthologies for Knox Press.

Serving as co-chairman of the conference is Robert Dahlberg, Rockford, Ill Glidden is from Batavia, Ill. Both are seniors.

Democrats to Sponsor Talks On Viet Nam

Outagamie Party Promotes Debate Thursday at Bank

A debate on "Why We Are in Viet Nam" will be sponsored by the Outagamie County Democratic party Thursday night at the Outagamie County Bank. The debate will follow the 8 p.m. business meeting.

Defending United States policy in Viet Nam will be Prof. Harold K. Schneider, chairman of the anthropology department at Lawrence University. Opposing U S policy will be Jerrold L Aronson, philosophy instructor at the University of Wisconsin-Fox Valley Center.

Mrs. Robert Taylor, county party chairman, said the party is sponsoring the debate "because the subject is of great concern to everyone and we feel we should, to the best of our ability present both sides." She said that "by informing the people of the situation, they can make up their own minds about U.S policy."

Plan Carley Day

During the business meeting, party members will discuss plans for David Carley's day of campaigning in Outagamie County Jan 26 Carley, Democratic national committeeman from Wisconsin, has announced his candidacy for the governorship. He will be opposing Dominic Frinzi, a Milwaukee lawyer who has also announced his candidacy, and Lt Gov Patrick Lucey, who is expected to make a formal statement soon, for the Democratic nomination

The meeting will be open to the public.

Peter L. Berg, Treasurer of the Town of Grand Chute, was sworn in as Outagamie County treasurer by Miss Mollie E. Pfeffer, county clerk, immediately after he was elected by the Outagamie County Board of Supervisors to complete the term of the late R. A. Bentz at the board session this morning. Board Elects Berg County Treasurer

Grand Chute Man Selected on 5th Ballot to Succeed R. A. Bentz

Peter J. Berg, 38, Town of Grand Chute treasurer since 1955, this morning was sworn in as the new Outagamie County treasurer to fill the unexpired term of Raymond A. Bentz who died Dec. 16.

Berg, who lives at 3221 N. Ballard Road, was elected by board members on the fifth ballot at 1:15 a.m.

He and Clarence H. Wundrow, route 4, clerk of the Town of Buchanan, were neck and neck through all five ballots. Berg had 28 votes and Wundrow 24 on the final ballot. Some 55 votes were cast on each ballot.

The new treasurer sworn in by County Clerk Mollie E. Pfeffer immediately after the election probably will assume his duties Wednesday morning, according to County Board Chairman Alvin Fulcer.

Office Manager

Berg is office manager and salesman at Western Elevator Co. where he has worked the past 19 years. He has held the present position eight years.

A life-long resident of Grand Chute, Berg graduated from high school in 1945. He served in the Army from 1952 to 1954 having been stationed at Fort Jackson, S.C.

He has been on the Grand Chute fire department ten years.

Civic activities include membership in the Catholic Order of Foresters, of which he is a trustee, Catholic War Veterans, and Catholic Club Association of which he has served on the board of directors for the last two years.

He and his wife, Anita, have a son, Daniel, 7, and a daughter, Christine, 10.

Although 13 persons had submitted applications for the post which pays $7,100 a year, the field was reduced to 12 shortly after the board meeting started Thomas Wendland, 20, route 1, Kaukauna, was eliminated as a candidate when A. W. Ponath, Outagamie County corporation counsel, pointed out that state law requires a person seeking public office be a qualified elector.

Three of the 13 candidates did not appear for interviews at the meeting.

Pointer Announces Intention to Run For Re-Election

Ald. Roy H. Pointer (14th), who has served eight years on the Appleton Council, announced today he will seek reelection to another two-year term.

Pointer, an employe at the Appleton Wire Works, resides at 943 E. Frances St. He took out nomination papers at the city clerk's office this morning.

Pointer is chairman of the council's street-sanitation committee.

The deadline for filing nomination papers for the March city primary is Jan. 25.

Welfare, Ordinance Group To Consider License Fate

The tavern license (beer and liquor) application of a former Milwaukeean will be before the city's welfare-ordinance committee for approval or denial Thursday night

Ald R P Groh (8th), committee chairman and council president, said the committee meeting had originally been set for tonight but was postponed and rescheduled

Vincent J Maniaci, 1718 S Peabody St., applied for the license the latter part of November and since then his application, as a matter of routine, has been checked out by the police and other municipal departments

Maniaci wants to open an Italian-American restaurant at 512 W. College Ave.

Police Chief Earl O Wolff has said he will recommend denial of the license.

At the last meeting a resolution was introduced by 13 aldermen asking the welfare-ordinance committee to deny the application and refund Maniaci the money he deposited with the city clerk for the license fees

That resolution was referred to the committee and will be taken up at 7 p m Thursday at the city hall with Maniaci's application

Appleton to be In Vocational School Area

Board Okays Move, Subject to Approval By State Agencies

A resolution to include Appleton Joint School District 10 in an area vocational school district, subject to approval by the State Board of Vocational and Adult Education and the Coordinating Committee for Higher Education, was approved by the board of education Monday.

George Howden, AVS board chairman, and Carl Bertram, director, made a short presentation to the board relative to the area vocational school plans for the Fox Valley.

Complete information pertaining to such a school had been distributed to the board for study early in December.

In other business the board also approved a resolution requesting permission from the council to select an architect for the northwest elementary school in the Gillett Highlands area.

William Spears, superintendent of schools, also informed the board that Mrs. Gene Nienow, English teacher at Appleton High, has resigned. She will be replaced by Daniel F. Cibrario beginning Jan. 31. Cibrario, a native of Kenosha, is a University of Wisconsin-LaCrosse graduate.

The executive committee of the Outagamie county bar, has created a title standards committee and named David Fulton as its chairman. Serving with him will be Edgar E. Decker, Gerald B. Downey, Donald E. Swetz, James I. McFadden, A. Gerard Patterson, Vernon Lubinski and Urban Van Hoof.

Stanton W. Mead George W. Mead II

Elected as Father's Successor

Consolidated Picks George W. Mead II

Special to Post-Crescent

WISCONSIN RAPIDS — George W. Mead II was elected president and chief executive officer of Consolidated Papers, Inc., here Monday, at a meeting of the company's board of directors He succeeds his father, Stanton W. Mead, head of the firm since 1950, who continues as a member of the board.

The board acted after Stanton Mead formally presented his "long held personal desire to retire during his 66th year." He commented that he appreciated "my good fortune in having my retirement occur at the close of an excellent year and when prospects for continuing good progress are evident."

The new president said he "would continue to maintain the traditions and customer-oriented policies of Consolidated and the high standards of quality in product and service."

Enamel Paper Leader

Consolidated is the largest specialist in its field and ranks first in the nation in enamel paper sales. The company also produces coated packaging papers, paperboard products and sulfite pulp. Decorative and industrial laminated plastics are produced by its subsidiary, Consoweld Corp. The company maintains a division and operates a plant in Appleton.

In fiscal 1964, Consolidated net sales were $95,235,411 with earnings of $6,839,140.

The new head of Consolidated is 38, began his career with the company 13 years ago, and has had extensive experience in the paper and pulp industry He is the third generation head of the company, the grandson of George W. Mead, Consolidated president from 1916-1950, and the son of the retiring president

Upon graduation from Yale University where he earned a bachelor of science degree, and the Institute of Paper Chemistry in Appleton, where he was awarded a master of science degree, Mead joined Consolidated and has worked in virtually every area of the company.

Chemical Engineer

He began as a chemical engineer, a post he held for two years Subsequently he worked for Consolidated in various research, production, and quality control capacities. In 1962 he was elected vice president in charge of operations, and the following year he was elected a director of the company, a post he continues to hold

The younger Mead has inherited his father's interest in Wisconsin conservation programs, particularly in the fields of forest management and water purification Under the guidance of the senior Mead, the company in 1959,

Mayor Responds to Appeal

Appleton May Donate Obsolete 1928 Fire Truck to Boys' Home

Appleton city officials are going to see if they can muster up an old fire truck to donate to Rawhide, Inc., a home and camping area for boys near Fremont in Waupaca County.

"I think there is a possibility the city might be able to do something to help the boys," Mayor Clarence Mitchell indicated today

His comment was in response to a letter received Monday from John Gillespie, director of the non-profit corporation to help youth with problems, who said a fire truck was needed

Gillespie said Sidney Miller, Waupaca County forest ranger, has offered to train the boys at Rawhide in forest fire fighting

Need Equipment

"We will, however need a pumper truck, suction and pressure hose and nozzles," Gillespie wrote. He asked if it would be possible for the City of Appleton to donate one of its old pumpers and some equipment when it becomes obsolete.

It just happens the Appleton Fire Department is advertising for bids on a new 1,250 gallon pumper truck and when the new equipment is purchased, a 1928 model Seagrave-model pumper will be "retired."

The fire department has been using the old-timer as stand-by equipment It has been demeed obsolete after 38 years of service.

Fire Chief Roland Kuehnl recently informed city officials the '28 Seagraves "has had it" and that was the reason for budgeting for the new equipment.

"I wouldn't recommend driving the old truck in any traffic but it might be just the thing for use in an isolated area," Chief Kuehnl said. He said it would be up to the council to decide what to do with the old truck.

Mayor Mitchell said he thought there was a possibility of donating it to Rawhide, but it would be a matter for aldermen to decide

Reminding that Rawhide will be working with more than 250 problem boys each year, Gillespie said, ". . . A fire truck and fire training will be a tremendous incentive for rehabilitation."

The fate of the Seagrave truck will not be decided, however until the new equipment arrives this spring.

Kaukauna Firemen Spent More than two hours this morning extinguishing a $20,000 fire that virtually destroyed the home of Earl Verbeten, Kaukauna police sergeant, 709 E. Ninth St. The fire is believed to have started in the basement near the furnace and worked up into the upper floors. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Bond Signing Day in Chicago

Appleton's Bank Account Will Swell

BY WILLIAM C CAREY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Quite a bundle of cash — $6.5 million to be exact — will be pumped into the City of Appleton's bank account Wednesday

The reason It's bond-signing day in Chicago

Mayor Clarence Mitchell, Clerk Elden Boehm and Treasurer Ray Feuerstein will make the trip to the Windy City to wrap up the mayor bond issue the common council recently floated

The $6.9 million will be used to pay for the new $5 million senior high school now under construction an addition to Huntley School and a new municipal garage.

The mayor and clerk are likely to have writer's cramp by the time they complete the transaction They will be required to sign an estimated 1,480 bonds, each of $5,000 denomination

I won't be doing any signing," Feuerstein said today. My job is to bring the cash back"

Lest someone get the wrong idea, it should be reported that Feuerstein will not be returning to Appleton in a Brink's truck

The group which submitted the low interest rate for the city's bonds will confer with representatives of Chapman and Cutler, Chicago, financial consultants to the City of Appleton

Chicago Account

Because the First National Bank of Appleton was a member of the group awarded the bond issue, the local bank's Chicago account will be credited with $6.9 million, and it in turn will be credited to the city's account at the bank here

Once the money is credited to the city's account, Feuerstein has to certify various documents and then sign the receipt for the $6.9 million

On Thursday the $6.9 million will have been delivered to the First National Bank here and then it is planned, according to Feuerstein, to divide the money up and also make deposits at the other local banks

We're going to start earning interest for the city right away," Feuerstein said

Extra Income

The city always invests bond proceeds and receives extra income via interest paid on the deposits by the banks.

When the money is needed to pay the construction bills, it is then withdrawn from the deposit accounts

City officials say the $6.9 million should make for a sizeable investment income

As Feuerstein would say, "It's cash in the bank for the city."

Need 3 Shifts For Expected 2,400 Pupils

A modified time block schedule with nine 55-minute class sessions for the 1966-67 school year for Appleton High School was accepted by the Appleton Board of Education, Monday. The school day will start at 7:30 a.m. and run to 4 45 p.m.

One of six plans worked out by an 11-member committee at the high school, the plan provides a means of housing all of the students in the building during a part of the school day and continues to "give us the feeling of still being 'one'," according to officials.

According to Orlyn Zieman, acting principal, the need for a different system for the next school year stemmed from the fact that an enrollment of 2,400 is anticipated next year — 200 more than are enrolled this year.

School Overcrowded

"And we already have from 500 to 700 more than the school should hold," he said.

The plan, outlined by the committee, provides a method of keeping the number of students in the building, at any given time, to a given size, thereby allowing them to be housed in the teaching stations available

Study halls will be eliminated: each student will carry only four classes and physical education with an additional subject in some cases.

The flexible plan has the student body divided into three groups of 800 each.

Class Schedules

The first group of 800 will begin classes at 7.30 a.m. and end at 12:35 p.m. with a 15-minute break from 10:25 to 10:40.

Group two will remain home

Family Flees Home Of Police Sergeant In Sub-Zero Weather

KAUKAUNA — Fire virtually destroyed the home of Police Sgt. Earl Verbeten, 709 E. Ninth St., about 7 a.m. today, with damage expected to run as high as $20,000. The loss is partially covered by insurance.

The fire, which is believed to have started in the basement near the furnace, worked up between the walls into the upper floors and attic. Mrs. Verbeten and four youngsters fled into the sub-zero temperatures in night clothing to a sister-in-law's house across the street. She then called the police department which alerted the firemen.

Sgt. Verbeten had left for duty about 6.30 a.m. and everything appeared normal. When firemen arrived at 7:05 a.m. smoke was pouring from the building and flames could be seen on the second floor.

Attempted to Enter

At first it was thought the youngsters were still in the structure and Sgt. Verbeten, who accompanied firemen, attempted to enter the building but were driven back by the intense heat and smoke They later learned the family was safe across the street.

Firemen were forced to chop away much of an exterior wall and tear off a large portion of the roof before bringing the blaze under control about 9:30 a.m. More than two feet of water accumulated in the basement and all furniture and clothing were lost in the blaze

Off-Duty Men Called

All off-duty firemen were called in to assist with the fire and were still cleaning up at the scene late this morning

The Verbeten children upon seeing their father, called him to attempt to save a bird which was in the house, but it was too late

The two girls in the Verbeten family are 11 and 5 years old, boys 9 and 7

Trial Set Feb. 14 for Traffic Violation

Russell P Loberg, 47, 1501 W Fourth St., pleaded innocent of operating a motor vehicle after his license had been revoked when he appeared in Outagamie County Court Branch 3 today. He posted a bond of $100 and the trial date was set for Feb. 14

He was arrested by county police on Dec. 26 in the Town of Grand Chute.

Fairchild Says Supreme Court Hears 'Dissatisfied Customer'

Justice Speaks At Chilton C of C Annual Dinner

CHILTON — 'A case reaches the State Supreme Court because of a dissatisfied customer," said Supreme Court Justice Thomas E Fairchild, at the Chamber of Commerce annual banquet here Monday

In explaining the workings of the Supreme Court he said the party seeking redress must convince the justices that the trial judge made an error in the legal principles of the case

The court does not dispute the verdict of a jury

Fairchild explained that although a small percentage of cases dealt with matters of constitutionality, many of the 250 to 300 cases heard each year concern damages from personal injuries and property boundaries

Although the court may interpret the constitution and statutes in reaching a verdict, there are areas in life and business not covered by state statutes

In these areas, Fairchild said, the courts decide the cases by following precedent set by past court decisions in similar cases These precedents make up what is known as common law

Although the courts are not quick to change principles of common law, when it is apparent that they are no longer serving the cause of justice, changes are made, Fairchild noted

He said an example may be seen in the former common law doctrine which held that a person injured by the fault of a city employe could not sue the city

Person Bears Burden

If the employe could not be identified or was not financially responsible, the injured person was required to bear his burden alone, Fairchild pointed out

The rule had been criticized for many years, and several years ago the Wisconsin Supreme Court and courts in nine other states decided to get rid of it, he added

Besides changing common law rulings, courts may also reinterpret the provisions made in the Constitution to hand down new court decisions, Fairchild noted

He said an example of this is the reinterpretation of the 14th amendment, concerning "equal protection of the laws" which led to the U S Supreme Court decision regarding school segregation

1963 Ruling

The 1963 ruling stating that any person charged with a criminal offense is entitled to counsel and that the court must provide him with counsel if he cannot afford to hire one, is an example of reinterpretation of the clause concerning "due process of law" in the same amendment, said Fairchild.

A recent reinterpretation led to the decision that district attorneys may no longer issue warrants This required a change in Wisconsin legal procedure, he said.

A highlight of the 18th annual chamber dinner meeting came when Gordon Aebischer was honored as Chilton's "Man of the Year" The plaque was presented in behalf of the chamber by Atty. Robert Lutz, a past chamber president.

Retiring Secretary Honored

Last year's president, Arthur Hugo, honored retiring secretary, F J Flanagan with a plaque for "years of service not only to the Chamber, but to the whole city of Chilton".

In tracing chamber accomplishments of the past year Hugo listed the annual scholarship dinner; the purchase of three new welcome signs by the city with chamber assistance; the purchase of two acres of land south of Chilton for establishment of the Calumet County Historical Society's museum, and plans for a new city brochure

Other highlights of the year, Hugo said, included the investigation of a criteria for the new northeastern University of Wisconsin to be established in the Fox Valley area, four sales promotions planned by the retail committee, the annual children's Christmas party; the Christmas home decoration contest, the raft contest; the antique car rally, and continuation of the Welcome Wagon program

Neenah Town, City Discuss School Bonds

NEENAH — Members of the Neenah Town Board voted Monday to present arguments to the Neenah City Council concerning the use of school bond issue interest funds for city improvements.

Town Chairman Laurel Heaney appointed Supervisor Birt Oberlies to investigate the matter and to voice the Town of Neenah's views.

The City of Neenah administers all school funds collected from taxpayers in towns in Neenah Joint School District

Driver Blinded by Snow, Accident Results

KAUKAUNA — Several hundred dollars damage resulted but no one was injured in an accident at the Main Avenue and Chicago and North Western Railway crossing about 6:50 a m. Monday, according to police

The mishap occurred as a car being driven south on Main Avenue by Mrs. Lillian Lucas, 301 W. Seventeenth St., Kaukauna attempted to pass city equipment loading snow in the area and collided with a vehicle being driven north on Main Avenue by Thomas Nettekoven, 520 W. Eighth St., Kaukauna. Mrs Lucas' vision was obscured by snow blowing from the loading operation.

Orientation Set For Congregation Of New Church

Rev Russell B Helgeson, director, American Missions of The American Lutheran Church, Upper Midwest Region, will represent the synod at the congregational orientation at 8 p m Thursday at Prince of Peace Lutheran Church

Rev. Helgeson

Pastor Helgeson will introduce the program of The American Lutheran Church, outline proposals for the new congregation and explain the American Mission Agreement.

Every adult who will be a charter member of the newly-organized church has been asked to attend the orientation.

Jan. 30 is the date for official organization of the church.

Realtors Oppose Neenah Rezoning

NEENAH — The Neenah-Menasha Board of Realtors has gone on record opposing the revised zoning ordinance as published and is requesting acceptance of the ordinance be postponed until some revisions are made.

The zoning ordinance which changes and realigns property classifications, and revision of the official map are scheduled for public hearing Jan. 19.

The board of realtors feel the ordinance as presented will curtail progress by limiting the normal and desired growth of the present facilities and will fail to attract new business

"We believe the central business district should be expanded substantially to attract new business and help expand our present businesses," the board letter says. "This is progress Reducing the area is regression."

Need $2,000 Budget

Kaukauna Youths Aid Fund Drive for Center

KAUKAUNA — Student members of the Youth Center will distribute letters announcing the annual fund drive Thursday and then make a house-to-house appeal in the city Sunday

Letters contain an addressed envelope for persons who will not be home Sunday but who wish to make a contribution The goal in the house-to-house canvass has been set at $950. Early in December, letters were sent to a select list of Youth Center supporters asking for contributions toward a $700 goal

The two drives and the $585 collected in membership dues will give the Youth Center an operating budget of about $2,200, according to James Bambery, secretary-treasurer of the Youth Center Board.

The Youth Center has reached a record high membership of 585 and student attendance averages about 210 There are 80 meetings a year in the Center where students can join in games, play records, dance or find other forms of entertainment and relaxation.

The Center operates with two faculty advisers, but is under the direction of a group of adult board members These include Mrs Gen Anderson, Bambery, Eugene Lange, Wayne Carr, Anton Berkers, Miss Hazel Egan, Clarence Theis, Mrs Fred Ludke, Norbert Gerend and Donald J. Geenen

For campaign purposes, the city has been divided into 22 districts with a student captain from each to appoint block workers Students will be furnished transportation back to the Youth Center to turn in funds collected Philip Weiner and Francis DeBruin, co-directors of the center, will supervise it

Narcotics Arrests Up

Large Blocks Of Stock Traded

Market Reaches Historic Highs in Heavy Exchanges

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market mounted a renewed advance to historic highs in heavy trading early this afternoon.

Big blocks in speculative as well as investment-grade issues were traded.

Wall Street was continuing its efforts to crowd a full day's trading into an abbreviated four-hour session instead of the usual 5½ hours which have been reduced because of the transit strike in New York

The sharpest week-to-week gain in steel production in two years was one bullish factor and steels responded to it by rising But this ran afoul of some mild profit taking as the session wore on

Post Gains

Airlines, rails, electronics, coppers and chemicals posted gains

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .6 at 365.8 with industrials up .7, rails up 1 3 and utilities off 5

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 2 28 at 987.69

Both indicators were above their latest closing highs on an intraday basis.

Anken Chemical, Monday's most active stock, opened on a delayed block of 5,000 shares, up 1 at 28, and improved this price fractionally

Crucible Steel, the biggest recent gainer in its group, clipped a fraction from its 2⅛-point spurt of Monday.

Prices advanced in heavy trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Constable Renews Request For Lights After Girl Is Hit

MENASHA — After reporting to the town board Monday that a young girl had been hit by a car on Appleton Road two hours earlier Town Constable Robert Weyenberg renewed his appeal for better lighting on Appleton Road between Ninth Street and Airport Road

The car had struck 13-year-old Diana Kobs daughter of Mr and Mrs Darwin Kobs 1049 London St , at 5 40 p m as she was walking home from Bethel Lutheran School She was taken to Theda Clark Hospital by ambulance but at the time the town board had not been informed of her condition

About two months ago Weyenberg asked the board for better lighting along the same road after another child was struck and injured by a car On Dec 10 an elderly man was injured when hit by a vehicle in the same area

The town constable repeated his position that the six-block section is quite dangerous for the large number of pedestrians especially school children, who must walk along the road's edge because there is no sidewalk there

He said that from the Menasha city limits to Airport Road there are only five street lights, which seem like 20-watt bulbs "

Weyenberg also suggested that sidewalks might be constructed in the area

Board members took no action on the lighting request, but indicated they would study the possibility of installing additional and brighter lamps

for the first four periods of the day and begin classes at 11:40 a.m. and end the day at 4:45 p.m. with a 15-minute break from 1:35 to 1:50 p.m.

The last group of 800 will carry an additional subject and be scheduled for six periods with a two-hour lunch period. Classes will be scheduled from 7:30 to 10:45 a.m. followed by a lunch period lasting until 12:40 p.m. The afternoon classes will start at 12:40 p.m. and last until 3:45 p.m. with a break from 1:35 to 1:50 p.m.

Gives Guideline

The numerical breakdown of the student body would not necessarily follow that plan, but it gives us a guideline, Zieman said.

Pros and cons of this plan were also outlined by the committee. The pros are:

—Provides a program for all of the students within a nine period day.

Lessens interruption due to corridor noise.

—Eliminates need for additional facilities.

—Eliminates study halls and teacher time used for supervision.

—Provides study rooms for other purposes.

—Eliminates auditorium and stage from class use.

Cons include:

—Frees some students four periods.

—Limits some student programs to four courses and physical education.

—Causes some disruption of family schedules.

Much to be Desired

"While we realize that the nine-hour modified time block leaves much to be desired when compared to an ideal arrangement, we feel that for Appleton it is the best solution to the dilemma in which we find ourselves," Zieman said.

Herbert A. Simon served as chairman of the committee. Committee members include Mrs. Evelyn Burroughs, Mrs. Ellen Goolsbey, Mis Elizabeth Plowright, Stanley H. Ore Jr., Norman C. Johnson, Justin H. Standiford, Jack Burroughs, Charles Scribner, James E. Finical and E. John Goodrich.

New Treasurer Selected by County Board

bert G. Wettengel, both Appleton residents, received no votes on the first ballot and were eliminated, according to provisions set up for the election.

Candidates Eliminated

A. J. Laudert, Appleton, was eliminated on the second ballot, Harold Gullixon, Appleton, and Malcolm P. Jeske, Kimberly, fell on the third and Henry T. Flanagan, Bear Creek, was dropped in the fourth round. The only candidates receiving votes on the final round, other than Berg and Wundrow, were Fred A. Rehfeldt, Robert N. Derfus and Gordon A. Schultz, all of Appleton, who each received one vote.

Prior to the balloting, each of the applicants who appeared at the meeting presented a brief oral resume of qualifications to the board members.

Ask Affiliation

On a motion by Supv. Mark Catlin (App.7) each was asked to state his political affiliation and most indicated they would seek election to the office at the end of the unexpired term on the Republican ticket.

The treasurer job is filled by public election during the fall of every even numbered year. Bentz had held the post since 1957 when he was named to replace Ray Feuerstein who resigned to take a similar post with the City of Appleton.

Suzanne Janssen, deputy county treasurer, temporarily has assumed the duties of the treasurer.

Rev. Frank Oslin

New Pastor Accepts Call By Baptists

The Rev. Frank Oslin has accepted a call to be the new pastor of the Fox River Baptist Church, Appleton.

A graduate of the Northeast Missouri State Teachers College, Kirksville, Mo., and the Moody Bible Institute Seminary, Chicago, the Rev. Mr. Oslin comes to Appleton from Ironwood, Mich., where he served the past seven years.

Parents of four children ranging in ages from 4 to 15, the Rev. and Mrs. Oslin will reside at 321 S. Schaefer St.

The Fox River Baptist Church, an extension of both the Wisconsin Baptist Conference and the Baptist General Conference, is located at 1506 N. Meade St.

Tax Bills Ask For $312,783 In Harrison

SHERWOOD — Taxes to be collected in the Town of Harrison total $312,783, recently mailed tax bills indicate. The town also received a $21,783 state tax credit.

School taxes make up the largest portion of the tax roll. Five districts are represented in the town.

Kimberly school district residents will pay $34 per $1,000 of assessed valuation; residents in the Stockbridge district will pay $28 per $1,000; Kaukauna school district, $27.80 per $1,000; Hilbert school district, pay $27 per $1,000 and those in the Appleton School District $26 per $1,000.

About 2,000 tax bills were mailed by treasurer Jerome Spang. Collections will be made every Thursday from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. during January and February. Tax deadline is Feb. 28. Taxes may be paid from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. on the final day.

Persons paying by installment must pay half of their real estate tax and all their personal property tax by Jan 31. The balance must be paid to the county treasurer at Chilton by July 31.

Divorce Granted In County Court

Thomas A. Witzke, 26, 714 E. Franklin St., has been divorced by Carol A. Witzke, 33, 1331 Ballard Road, in Outagamie County Court Branch 1, on the grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment.

Married June 5, 1961, the couple had one minor child. Custody of the child was awarded to the mother and Witzke was ordered to pay support of $32.50 twice a month. A property settlement also was approved.

G. W. Mead II New President Of Paper Firm

presented 20,000 acres of forest land in Wood, Portage, and Marathon counties to the State of Wisconsin for wildlife conservation purposes.

The new Consolidated president also has taken an active role in many paper industry associations. He has served as general chairman of the Wisconsin Paper Industry Information Service, an association of 26 major Wisconsin paper manufacturers; has been active in the Technical Association of the Paper and Pulp Industry (TAPPI); and now serves as director and a member of the executive committee of the Wisconsin Paper and Pulp Manufacturers' Traffic Association.

Civic Leadership

Mead, like his father, also has assumed many roles of civic leadership in his community, including membership in the Wisconsin Rapids Chamber of Commerce board of directors and chairman of the Chamber's economic expansion committee, past drive chairman of the South Wood County Community Chest, and co-chairman of the Riverview Hospital fund drive.

He was awarded the Distinguished Service Award by the Wisconsin Rapids Jaycees in 1961.

The younger Mead will continue to serve as president and a member of the board of directors of Consolidated Water Power Co., a subsidiary of Consolidated's Civic Foundation, Inc.

Stanton Mead, the retiring president, has been with Consolidated since 1922, and has been a member of the board of directors for 38 years. The elder Mead, a nationally prominent leader of the paper industry conservation programs, was president of the Sulphite Pulp Manufacturers' Research League from 1954 to 1965.

He was instrumental in the founding of "Trees for Tomorrow, Inc.," a non-profit organization dedicated to the advancement of reforestation in Wisconsin, and he has served since 1950 as a director of Wisconsin Valley Improvement Co.

In 1959 he was named "Citizen of the Year" by the Wisconsin Rapids Area Chamber of Commerce. He also holds a Boy Scouts of America Silver Antelope Award for distinguished service to scouting programs.

Consultant Explains Federal Aid for Guidance Center

How to apply for federal building funds for a community guidance center and the problems involved were explained to the board of directors of the Community Guidance Center by Theodore Dettweiler, mental health consultant, Green Bay District, State Division of Mental Health, Monday.

According to Dettweiler, the first federal funds for this program were made available in 1963 when the Federal Health Act was passed.

Aid is provided to those communities offering services including in and out-patient services, partial hospitalization, diagnostic rehabilitative pre- and post-care, and research and training.

Five Counties

Patronage Power Shifts to Nelson

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

MADISON — The dismissal of two members of the federal government's agricultural stabilization and conservation committee (ASC) for Wisconsin is a demonstration that the patronage power in Wisconsin Democratic politics has shifted to Sen. Gaylord Nelson and his intra-party organization.

Informed Democrats report that the appointments of Martin Thorson of Iola, Waupaca County, and William Tschudy of Monroe, Green County, to the committee are intended in part as a showing to the party that the patronage power of Lt. Gov. Patrick J. Lucey, the former party chairman of the state, has vanished.

Thorson and Tschudy were chosen by Nelson, with the collaboration of National Committeeman David Carley and the concurrence of Sen William Proxmire, to replace two other men who were originally chosen by Lucey and were regarded as supporters of Lucey's bid for the governorship this year.

Displaced Officials

The displaced officials are Ralph Gehring of Shiocton, Outagamie County, and John Hansen of Franksville, Racine County.

The ASC appointments have traditionally been regarded as political patronage and most of the officials who have had the posts in the past have known that their tenure is doubtful. The appointments are made on an annual basis by the secretary of agriculture. But this year Secretary Orville Freeman reappointed LeLand Mulder of LaCrosse County, the chairman of the state committee, while notifying Gehring and Hanson that he had decided not to reappoint them.

Because Mulder is regarded as a friend of Nelson, the incident is being interpreted by Democrats as another sign of the intra-party struggle between Lucey and Nelson that has continued since Lucey was chairman and failed to get along with Nelson who was then occupying the governor's office.

Early Test of Power

Because Nelson's friend Carley is a rival of Lucey for the party gubernatorial nomination this year, the affair is also regarded as an early test of power within the party of the lieutenant governor and national committeeman, although the principals in the struggle have resolutely refused public comment about their roles.

The offices involved in the dispute are also highly desirable among Democrats with rural backgrounds. Ostensibly they are part-time, but the per diem arrangements are such that a member of the state committee can claim up to $11,000 a year if he desires to approach full-time effort.

Generous expense allowances, equivalent to "portal to portal" compensation, also make the appointments attractive. The ASC state offices are in Madison, and members of the state committee are entitled to collect travel reimbursement from their homes to the headquarters. There are also subsidiary patronage benefits, as in some control over the appointment of field men and in the staffing of the county offices of the organization, party informants noted.

Potential Influence

A vital consideration to the state party leaders is the potential influence of the organization in shaping the views of friendly farmers who are leaders in the rural precincts.

Lucey arranged the appointments of Hansen and Gehring during the administration of the late President John Kennedy. The replacement of the men is the first important showing of a loss of influence by the Wisconsin Kennedy forces in Washington since the succession of President Lyndon Johnson.

Party men will also speculate that the patronage reshuffle may involve the interests of Vice President Hubert Humphrey, who counts Secretary Freeman, Sen. Nelson and Carley as faithful friends and supporters.

Banta School Children Learn Value of UNICEF Collections

MENASHA — The United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund (UNICEF), CARE, the remote mountain village of San Manuel Chaparron, Guatemala, and 60 boys and girls at Banta School have completed a circle of sharing.

In fact, the sixth grade boys and girls at Banta School, with their Halloween collection for UNICEF, have assumed the roles of big brothers and sisters to children in San Manuel Chaparron who now have the equipment with which to play baseball, basketball, volley ball, horseshoes and tether ball.

"The children have been collecting for UNICEF for four years now but this is a rare bonus," said Principal Raymond Feit. "In early November when we sent the check for $105 to CARE headquarters we asked that the money be used to provide Robert Keberlein, Peace Corps worker in San Manuel Chaparron with the equipment he needed. By Christmas time word came through his mother that the kit had been received."

In a letter to his mother this week Robert wrote, "I wish every one of the children could see how happy it makes them down here." "Down here" is 12 hours by horseback from Guatemala City and the average wage earner takes home 50 cents a day. Keberlein, a native of Menasha, has been there since early 1964.

PSC Okays Green Bay Water Project

GREEN BAY — A $3.2 million addition to Green Bay's public water facilities was approved by the Wisconsin Public Service Commission Monday.

Green Bay's major water source is Lake Michigan and $1.4 million of the project expenditure is for the construction of a larger filtered water transmission main.

The $4.3 million expansion program will boost the utility's present 23 million gallon daily capacity to 38 m.g.d. to meet peak daily water demands which have increased 143 per cent since the city started getting its water supply from Lake Michigan in 1957.

The council has approved the program.

Under the program, the city will expand its intake, pumping, transmission, filtering and distribution facilities.

The total program will cost an estimated $4 million, but the utility plans to delay several of the projects, reducing initial spending to $3 million.

The proposed bond issue will finance a new pipeline between Green Bay and the filtration plant at Sugar Bush, midway between the city and Lake Michigan.

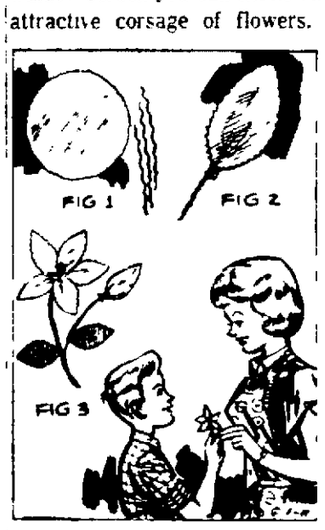
Make Handmade Flowers of Old Nylons and Green Wire

BY CAPPY DICK

From an old nylon stocking (that has been discarded) and some lengths of crinkly copper window screen you can make an attractive corsage of flowers.



Use the wire for frames.

Cut a round piece of the stocking two or three inches in diameter depending upon the size the petals are to be. From a six-inch square of window screen remove several lengths of crinkled wire (see Figure 1). Bend one piece to the shape of a petal, twisting the ends together. Cover this framework with the circle of nylon, stretching the material over both sides and gathering it together at the ends of the wire.

Wind a piece of wire around it at that point to hold the material taut. Figure 2 shows a completed petal.

Make other petals the same way, then wire them together to form a flower, adding a few stamens at the center. The wire that holds the petals together should be long enough to serve as a stem and this should be wrapped with green mending tape. An artificial leaf or two may be attached to the stem.

Two or more of these flowers will make an attractive little bouquet (Figure 3).

Badgers Meet Leading Illinois Quint Tonight

Wisconsin Plays Underdog Role In Big Ten Clash

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — Wisconsin, fresh from an upset victory over Big Ten basketball favorite Iowa, runs headlong into the present conference pacesetter, Illinois, tonight.

A 90-70 victory over the Badgers in December is half of the reason why the Illini own the top perch and also much of the reason why Illinois is a predominant pick to stay unbeaten in the Big Ten in the rematch on its home floor.

Badger Coach John Erickson recalled, however, that the Badgers owned a 39-37 halftime advanage in that game and said, "They only ran away from us near the end."

Erickson explained, "We hit that cold spell when we went from the second half tipoff for seven minutes before we got a basket. It was too much to make up, but I don't think there was 20 points difference between the teams."

Improving Rapidly

Wisconsin has been improving rapidly since then. The Badgers have notched four victories in their last five games after Erickson gained bench power by keeping one or two of his normal starters in reserve each night.

Captain Ken Barnes, scrubbed from the starting lineup because of a scoring slump, came off the bench to lead the Badgers past Pennsylvania and Marquette. Ken Gustafson, the team's leading scorer, was benched at the start of the Iowa game Saturday and responded in relief to help spark the Badgers to a 69-68 victory.

Paul Morenz, a reserve promoted to a starting role, won both the Marquette and Iowa affairs with free throws in the closing seconds.

Remains In Doubt

As a result, Erickson's starting lineup tonight remains in doubt. Sophomore Joe Franklin and pivotman Mark Zubor are expected to open on the front line with the rest of the positions up for grabs.

Illinois, with a 2-0 Big Ten mark, is led by Don Freeman who hit 28 points in a 98-84 beting of Indiana Saturday. Freeman got 27 in the first game against Wisconsin.

The Badgers, 1-1 in the Big Ten and 5-6 overall, take a 16-day holiday after tonight for semester examinations and a brief classroom vacation. They return to action at home Jan. 27 against Hardin-Simmons.

Kenneth Barnett, a 16-year-old football standout from Lawrenceburg, Tenn., faces an uncertain future in athletics and, indeed, in life itself. The youth had just undergone a lengthy operation for cancer. But he managed a half-smile as Chicago Bear quarterback Bill Wade stopped by to cheer him up a little. Wade is in the same hospital, recuperating from a knee operation. (AP Wirephoto)

Frank Howard Will Be Feted at Dinner

Red Smith Sports Awards Event Announced as Sell-Out

Slugging outfielder Frank Howard will receive the "Nice Guy" award at the Red Smith Sports Awards dinner next Tuesday night at Reetz'.

The dinner, which will be attended by more than 500 persons, has been sold out, according to Fox Cities Foxes officials. Proceeds of the affair will go to the Foxes.

The gigantic Howard, who got his pro baseball start with the Green Bay Bluejays in the 3-I League in 1958, is now a member of the Washington Senators. Despite being hampered by an elbow injury last season, he hit 21 home runs and drove in 84 runs while batting .289. Previously, he had played for the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Frank Howard

Howard is well remembered by Foxes fans for his long drives at Goodland Field in '58—especially the one that was measured at more than 500 feet.

Other banquet notables, besides Howard and Smith, include Glen Miller, Arthur Allyn, Charlie Grimm, Eddie Stanky, Ed Short and "Dizzy" Trout.

Coin Flip to Decide East's Center Starter

Auerbach Must Choose Between Russell, Wilt

CINCINNATI (AP) — Deciding whether to start 7-foot-1 Wilt Chamberlain or 6-9 Bill Russell at center for the East squad in the National Basketball Association's All-Star Game tonight is a towering problem for Coach Red Auerbach.

So, Auerbach said he will flip a coin before the game to determine which of the superstars will be in the starting line-up against the Western Division All-Stars in the 16th annual classic in Cincinnati Gardens.

The East, with the likes of forwards Jerry Lucas and John Havlicek and guards Oscar Robertson and Sam Jones to support Russell and Chamberlain, is a 10 point favorite to capture their fourth straight victory over the West.

League rules state that the five players receiving the most votes must start in the classic. Both Russell and Chamberlain were unanimous choices for the pivot position.

With his array of talent, Auerbach admits, "I think we've got the edge."

But Los Angeles Coach Fred Schaus, who is guiding the West squad, said he was not giving up until the final buzzer.

"They've got all the firepower, no doubt about it," said Schaus, "but I think we've got much better defense at all positions except maybe at center when Russell is in there."

The West starters will be forwards Rick Barry of San Francisco and Bailey Howell of Baltimore, center Nate Thurmond of San Francisco, and guards Jerry West of Los Angeles and Guy Rodgers of San Francisco. Barry is the only rookie on either team.

Michigan Rolls Over Indiana; Spartans Win

Victors Move Into First Place Tie With Illinois in Big Ten

CHICAGO (AP) — Michigan, the defending champion, and Michigan State, an upstart in the Big Ten basketball race, climbed into a first place tie with Illinois Monday night. All three teams have won their first two conference games.

Illinois, in quest of a third straight conference victory, will take on Wisconsin tonight.

Iowa, meanwhile, recorded its first conference triumph with a 70-58 victory over Northwestern.

Cazzie Russell poured in 27 points and Jim Myers added 24 to lead the Wolverines to their 88-68 triumph over Indiana. Vernon Payne topped the Hoosiers with 25 points.

Stan Washington scored 31 points and Bill Curtis connected for 27 to lead Michigan State to its 89-78 decision over Purdue. Dave Schellhase, the nation's leading scorer, had 30 for the Boilermakers but received little help.

Iowa, a loser in its opener at Wisconsin, stormed to a 34-20 haftime lead over Northwestern but had to scrar'le for its victory. Northwestern managed to climb into a 49-all tie before the Hawkeyes moved ahead to stay. Chris Pervall led Iowa with 24 points.

Titan Cagers, Platteville Clash Tonight

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Platteville invades Oshkosh tonight to try to regain a share of the second place berth it lost to the Titans in the Wisconsin State University Conference basketball race just four days ago.

The game is the feature of the week's scanty WSUC card, which began Monday night as Eau Claire routed River Falls 84-61 with a 38-point outburst by high-scoring Stan Johnson.

Oshkosh took second alone over the weekend when Stout, the unbeaten WSUC leader, handed Platteville its second loss by just three points. Platteville is tied with La Crosse for third, with River Falls dropping from that crowded rung to fifth after Eau Claire's victory.

The Blugolds built a 33-25 lead by intermission, then raced away as Johnson sank 28 of his points in the second half. The Falcons never led. Eau Claire, in sixth, now has a 3-3 mark to River Falls' 4-3.

Isbell Among 22 Nominated For Fame Hall

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cecil Isbell, the Purdue halfback who helped lead the Green Bay Packers to the National Football League title in 1939, was among 22 former college players nominated Monday as finalists in balloting for the National Football Hall of Fame.

Isbell played for the Packers from 1938 through 1942 in a period when they never finished out of the first division. He was among 18 players nominated in the post-1910 category. Nine will be chosen for Hall of Fame honors next December.

Among the 18 nominated with Isbell were halfbacks Albie Booth of Yale, Charlie Conerly of Mississippi, James Crowley of Notre Dame, and Dick Kazmaier of Princeton, and quarterbacks Angelo Bertelli of Notre Dame and Bobby Layne of Texas.

Duke Retains First Place in AP Cage Poll

BY BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The streaking Duke Blue Devils held onto first place in The Associated Press basketball poll today and Kansas replaced Iowa in the major-college Top Ten.

Duke's margin over second-place Kentucky was trimmed considerably, though. The Blue Devils, winners of nine in a row for an 11-1 mark, collected 32 first place votes and 405 points in the balloting by 44 regional experts.

Kentucky, unbeaten in 10 games, trails by only 40 points, 50 less than a week ago. The Wildcats polled eight votes for the No. 1 position and 365 points in the latest balloting based on games through last Saturday.

Duke and Kentucky set the pattern for the other teams in last week's Top Ten, each winning twice. Among the other eight teams, only Iowa was a loser. The Hawkeyes, seventh a week ago, dropped a 69-68 decision to Wisconsin.

Kansas whipped Colorado 69-55 and Iowa State 82-65 for an 11-2 mark and moved into 10th place.

Halas Seeks to Block Ram Acquisition of George Allen

Bears' Aide In Middle of Bitter Feud

BY BOB MYERS

LOS ANGELES (AP)—George Allen was due to fly back to Chicago today as the new head coach of the Los Angeles Rams and probably to confront his enraged boss for the past eight years as assistant coach, George Halas of the Chicago Bears.

The 43-year-old Allen, who has spent 18 years in more or less obscurity as a small college head coach and an assistant in pro football, found himself in the middle of a bitter row between two owners in the National Football League, Bear president coach Halas, and president Daniel F. Reeves of the Rams.

Allen, recognized as one of the finest young assistants in the NFL, has accepted the job as head man of the Rams, it was announced Monday afternoon.

Soon after, the fur began to fly between Los Angeles and Chicago.

The Rams announced that Allen had signed a multi-year contract, salary undisclosed. He succeeded Harland Svare and is the ninth head coach for the Rams since they came to Los Angeles in 1946.

Halas attacked the Rams-Allen agreement as "a flagrant case of tampering with a coach under contract." He indicated he would take action to hold Allen to the two years remaining in his contract.

He said he had not given the Rams permission to negotiate with his assistant.

Reeves in Los Angeles, quickly declared that Halas had indeed originally given Allen the go ahead to talk with the Rams, but later withdrew his permission.

Allen planned to return to Chicago to dispose of his home in suburban Deerfield and return as quickly as possible to review the problem of hiring assistants. He indicated he would see Halas during his stay in Chicago.

On his coaching prospects, Allen said he regards the Rams as potentially one of the best young teams in the league, but he emphasized that, "no coach

Lemm in Doubt as to Whether He Quit or Was Fired by Cards

St. Louis Club Owners Seek Full-Time Coaching Replacement

By MIKE RECHT

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Wally Lemm's choice to spend more time with his family than with the St. Louis Cardinals of the National Football League left him wondering today if he had quit or had been fired.

He and the Cardinals parted company Monday in an apparent disagreement involving how much time Lemm should devote to his job as head coach, and the Cardinals joined the fluctuating list of NFL teams without a head coach.

Wally Lemm

Lemm's departure left five NFL teams looking for new leaders until Los Angeles cut the list to four later in the day by hiring defensive specialist George Allen away from the Chicago Bears.

Other vacancy signs are still out front at Pittsburgh, where the Steelers recently fired Mike Nixon; at Washingon, where the Redskins gave Bill McPeak the gate, and at Atlanta, for the new Falcons.

Gave Lemm Choice

Cardinals owners Charles and Bill Bidwill gave Lemm the choice of coaching year around or coaching not at all. Lemm selected the latter.

"My contract didn't call for me to spend full time in St. Louis," Lemm said by telephone from his Lake Bluff, Ill., home. "I told the Bidwills four years ago I wouldn't move away while I still had children in high school.

"Now I'm in a quandary," said Lemm, who has one year remaining on his two-year pact. "I don't know whether I was fired or whether I resigned."

"The Bidwills said they had no complaints about my work. I wonder what they would have said if I had agreed to spend full time there?"

Charles Bidwill said Lemm was the only NFL coach that was not on the job 12 months a year.

No Dissatisfaction

He said there was no dissatisfaction with Lemm's coaching. The Cardinals hired him with a "perfect understanding that he

Bill Freehan Has Appendectomy

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit Tigers catcher Bill Freehan underwent an appendectomy at a Detroit hospital Monday.

Freehan, who had been attending classes at the University of Michigan's Dearborn Branch, complained of pains in his side Sunday night. He entered the hospital Monday morning.

Doctors said the surgery would not prevent Freehan from starting spring training on schedule next month.

The latest standings in the pro football coaching sweepstakes show.

One resignation—Wally Lemm at St. Louis, by mutual consent.

One hiring—George Allen at Los Angeles, without mutual consent.

Still open—Five jobs, and George Halas' mouth.

The latest shuffling and scuffling occurred Monday when Lemm and the Cardinal owners agreed to a parting and the Rams and Halas agreed to disagree over Allen's decision to leave the Chicago Bears for the head coaching job at Los Angeles.

George Allen

Halas, infuriated at losing his defensive coach to the Rams, cited the signing of Allen as "a flagrant case of tampering" and said the "Rams' utter disregard and contempt for legal obligations present a serious challenge not only to the Bears but to the entire structure of the National Football League."

Threatens Action

And he threatened action in a higher court — Commissioner Pete Rozelle's—by saying "the Bears must take whatever steps are needed to protect our best interest."

Halas pointed out that Allen still had two years to go on his contract with the Bears and had been expected to fulfill the terms of his agreement.

Dan Reeves, president of the Rams, said Allen had first contacted the club to see if they were interested, then had

Penalty One of Longest in NCAA History

Slap Houston With 3-Year Probation

By BOB GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The University of Houston stunned with a three-year probation, one of the longest in NCAA history, expressed regret today. University officials said they'd try to see that it didn't happen again.

Dr. Frank L. Stovall, chairman of the university's athletic board, and Athletic Director Harry Fouke said they deeply regret that violations have occurred and have taken appropriate steps to make certain that violations do not occur in the future.

Their joint statement came after the National Collegiate Athletic Association had prohibited the school's football teams from participating in postseason bowl games or appearing on NCAA-sponsored telecasts for three years.

Three Counts

The school was found guilty of violations on three counts of financial aid to athletes, five of illegal recruiting and one of out of season football practice. All took place between 1952 and 1965.

These are serious violations, said Art Bergesen, NCAA assistant director. The seriousness of them is reflected in the type of penalty."

The violations were caused by some members of the coaching staff and by several well-intentioned but somewhat overzealous friends of the University of Houston, Dr. Stovall and Fouke said in their statement.

In other major developments at the NCAA convention which opened here Monday:

1. The rules committee of the Football Coaches Association overwhelmingly approved the unlimited substitute rule and asked that the rule makers leave the game alone for two or three years.

2. The College Baseball Coaches Association named Bobby Winkles of Arizona State coach of the year. It also inducted 18 former coaches into the Collegiate Baseball Hall of Fame.

3. The NCAA Council lifted a one year probation from Arkansas and West Texas State and restored them to full membership.

4. The NCAA Extra Events Committee heard requests for four new bowl games from groups in Tampa, Fla., Phoenix, Ariz., Raleigh, N.C., and Atlanta, Ga.

Jack Curtice of the University of California at Santa Barbara, chairman of the Coaches Rules Committee, said a survey of football coaches showed 92 per cent in favor of unlimited substitution.

Draft Can't Stop Protests, Justice Department Rules

Laws Not Meant To Muffle Views Of Young Men

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Justice Department official said in a letter made public today that the draft laws cannot be used to muffle any "constitutionally protected" expression of views — such as student protests against U S actions in Viet Nam

The letter, from Asst Atty. Gen Fred M Vinson Jr., was made public by Sen Philip A. Hart, D-Mich who had protested Selective Service Director Lewis B Hershey's action to reclassify as 1A a number of University of Michigan youths involved in a draft board sit-in

Hershey had told Hart in a letter that he was authorized by a presidential executive order to reclassify men "found to be delinquent under the Selective Service Act"

Hart had asked the Justice Department to comment on that

No Concurrence

Vinson said in his letter that "we know of no executive order or of any pronouncement by this department indicating either concurrence or disagreement with the views expressed in General Hershey's letter or in the action taken by the (Selective Service) System"

Vinson added that "I am satisfied, as a matter of both law and policy, that sanctions of the Universal Military Training and Service Act cannot be used to stifle constitutionally protected expressions of views."

The sit-in students were convicted of trespass under an Ann Arbor, Mich., ordinance. But Hart said in his statement, "No court ever ruled that the Selective Service Act was violated —only Gen. Hershey. And he cites as his authority an executive order that the Justice Department says is non-existent."

N. Vietnamese Made More Determined by Bombs, Returnee Says

MILWAUKEE (AP)— Bombings of North Viet Nam are only strengthening the determination of that nation's people to fight and win, an American who made an unauthorized visit to the Communist nation said Monday.

Michael Myerson, 25, San Francisco, international secretary of the W. E. B. DuBois Clubs of America, said the bombings have had the same effects "as I understand the blitzkrieg had on the British population."

He made his comments at a news conference at the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee as part of a speaking tour.

Students Demonstrate

Tuskegee Might End Segregation

TUSKEGEE, Ala (AP) — Tuskegee's city council meets tonight to consider a proposal to halt "every form of segregation and discrimination" in public accommodations. Negro students say they plan to continue demonstrations.

A faculty group from Tuskegee Institute read its own version of the proposed law at a special council meeting Monday.

The statement, read by Dr. Paul L. Puryear of the institute, listed service stations, bus stations, retail stores and restaurants, motels, private clubs and recreation areas as facilities which should be completely desegregated

Ask Fine

The committee also asked the city to invoke a $100 fine while closing for 90 days any business or facility found to have violated the proposed ordinance

Council members agreed to consider the proposal at tonight's regular meeting.

Students attending the meeting said they plan to continue demonstrations regardless of whether the proposed law is adopted.

Earlier, Negro students carying picket signs staged two demonstrations without incident The first was held in front of the city hall and the county courthouse which is next door. The same group then held a brief demonstration in front of a store owned by Tuskegee's mayor and the bank where a city council member is president.

Brief Protest

More then an hour later, about two dozen students staged a brief demonstration in front of the city hall and courthouse

The street marches marked the fifth day of such demonstrations in Tuskegee since the slaying of Samuel Younge Jr., 21, whose body was discovered last Tuesday. Younge was a student at Tuskegee Institute and an active civil rights worker.

A white service station employe, Marvin Segrest, 67, was charged with murder on a warrant signed by Younge's father. Segrest is in jail without bond.

U. S. Freighter Saves 4 Off Spanish Ship

Survivors Plucked From Raft in Storm Among 38 Crewmen

NEW YORK (AP) — An American freighter reported today she had rescued four men from a stricken Spanish freighter in the stormy North Atlantic, the Coast Guard said.

The rescued seamen said they had seen 18 other crewmen in lifeboats and five on a liferaft.

That left 11 of the 38 crewmen of the Monte Palomares unaccounted for.

The Coast Guard said other crewmen of the ship, which was abandoned Monday, might be in lifeboats or rafts not sighted by the four survivors who were plucked from a raft.

The message from the rescue ship, the Steel Maker, was relayed to the Coast Guard by an Air Force plane.

Search Seas

Two ships were searching the seas around the Monte Palomares. They were the Pentellina, a French ore carrier, and the Thuro Maersk, a Danish refrigerated cargo ship

Weather in the area was reported bad — winds of 28 to 33 knots and 25-foot waves

The Coast Guard dispatched its cutter Escanaba Monday to aid the Monte Palomares, but the high seas damaged the cutter and delayed it.

The Coast Guard received a radio message from the Steel Maker Monday night saying it had sighted a small boat and "will attempt rescue."

Caught in Storm

The Monte Palomares reported that its cargo of grain shifted in the high seas and strong wind and the ship developed a 30-degree list.

The Monte Palomares — one of two freighters caught in the storm and asking help—reported at 4:27 p.m. Monday that it was listing badly and would have to abandon ship shortly. It gave its position as 840 miles east-northeast of Bermuda

Two planes were also sent to the Monte Palomares, which was en route to Spain from Norfolk, Va

The other distressed vessel, the 7,229-ton Greek freighter Lampsis, sustained a cracked deck but was last reported afloat 240 miles southwest of the Spanish ship It has 30 crewmen aboard

After a perilous 36-mile journey, the cutter Androscoggin reached the Lampsis' side, but the Coast Guard said the crewmen would remain aboard the Greek vessel until the storm subsided

Federal Authorities Examine Fiery Death of Southern Rights Leader

HATTIESBURG, Miss. (AP) — The death of a Negro civil rights leader from burns suffered when his rural home and store were set afire has touched off an investigation by federal, state and local authorities.

"What happened to us can happen to anybody, white or black," said Vernon Dahmer in a deathbed interview Monday.

"The full resources of the Justice Department will be made available until the persons responsible are identified and apprehended," said Atty Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach in Washington.

"We hope and urge that people of good will of both races will join together in a mutual effort against lawless minorities which seek to destroy the respect and understanding from which the majority of our citizens are working," said Mayor Paul E. Grady and President Selby C. Bowling of the county supervisors board in a joint statement.

Dahmer talked to newsmen before he died He said he had been awakened about 2:30 a.m. by gunshots He said he grabbed a shot gun and fired several times at a car before fleeing with his family from his burning house.

Dahmer's daughter, Betty, 10, also was burned. She remained in a Hattiesburg hospital today in fair condition Mrs. Dahmer was treated for burns and released. The couple's two sons, Harold, 26, and Dennis, 12 were not injured.

Deputy Sheriff T. A. Woodward said the blaze that destroyed the Dahmer home and store, which were about 200 feet apart, was ignited by some type of fire bomb

A car, its tires punctured by shotgun pellets, was found abandoned 2½ miles from the Dahmer home. Officers said the owner had reported it had been stolen.

Katzenbach said President Johnson had expressed to him "his deep concern over the grievous tragedy."

Reno Replaces Leaves on Tree

RENO, Nev (AP) — A tree grew in Reno — in the enclosed courtyard in the new City Hall. But it died.

Now, workers are dressing the dead trees with artificial leaves to see how it looks.

"If it looks good enough, we may not even replace the tree," said City Manager Joe Latimore

Car to be Used As Voting Booth

GAITHERSBURG, Md (AP) — An automobile will be the makeshift voting booth for residents near this small town Jan. 31 in a vote on proposed annexation of a 13-acre tract.

There are not adequate facilities on the tract, and local law says this is where the election must be held, so a city automobile, curtained off for privacy, will be the voting booth. The 18 residents eligible to vote must vote alone, so the town clerk, Mildred I Smith, will leave the vehicle when a voter arrives.

Government Names Firms to Help With Medicare Insurance

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government today designated three firms to help administer the hospital insurance part of the medicare program.

The firms, which will receive and pay bills under the program, are the Blue Cross Association of Chicago, and Aetna Life and Casualty Co., and Travelers Insurance Co., both of Hartford, Conn. They will serve as agents for the government on a nonprofit basis.

Launch Pad Blockhouse Being Changed Over for Saturn 1B

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla (AP) — The blockhouse at Saturn launch pad 34 — silent since March 28, 1963, when the fourth Saturn 1 rocket thundered aloft — is a beehive of activity again today as technicians prepare for the first test of an even mightier Saturn booster, the Saturn 1B.

Since the fourth Saturn 1 roared into space, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration has poured more than 7.5 million into renovating complex 34 for the taller, fatter and more powerful Saturn 1B, second of the three generations of Saturn rockets.

While modifications were being made at complex 34, six Saturn 1 rockets rumbled skyward from complex 34's neighbor, Saturn complex 37 All 10 launches in NASA's Saturn 1 program were nearly flawless, and a $6 75-million contract has since been awarded by the Army Corps of Engineers' Canaveral District to get complex 37 ready for Saturn 1B rockets also Riding on the nose of the first Saturn 1B will be an Apollo spacecraft similar to the ones which will one day carry three Americans to the moon.

NASA originally hoped to carry out the launch in December or January. A variety of technical problems now point to the first two weeks of February.

It will be the first of three unmanned tests of the Apollo on Saturn 1B rockets this year. If all goes well, three astronauts may climb into a fourth Apollo late this year or early 1967 to take a test ride in earth orbit.

Ballistic Trajectory

The first unmanned Saturn 1B launch is scheduled to drill the Apollo spacecraft into a ballistic trajectory 5,000 miles down the Atlantic Test Range.

Between now and the first Saturn 1B flight, NASA plans to orbit a picture-taking Tiros weather satellite It will be the first of some 13 scientific satellites scheduled to ride aloft from Cape Kennedy on Delta rockets this year

The launch, originally scheduled about Jan 26, may be delayed about one week because of the late arrival of the spacecraft to the launch pad, project sources said

Georgia Won't Seat Negro Legislator

Julian Bond Has Denounced U. S. Policy, Urged Avoidance of Draft

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A young Negro civil rights worker from Atlanta has become the first elected Georgia representative in 98 years to be denied a seat in the legislature.

Rep -elect Julian Bond, 25, who last week endorsed a statement denouncing U.S. policy in

Bond

Viet Nam and urged American youth to avoid the draft, was barred from his seat Monday night.

House members voted 184-12 for a special committee's recommendation that Bond be denied the oath of office because of his stand on a statement issued last Friday by the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee. Bond is publicity director for the civil rights group.

Federal Court

Bond, who refused to comment Monday night on the House action, announced earlier he would take the issue into federal court if denied his House seat. An attorney said court action will be sought as "soon as possible."

A SNCC leader, James Forman, also said demonstrations would result and possibly a boycott of Georgia products.

A group of SNCC workers sat quietly in the gallery when the House took its vote, climaxing a marathon opening-day of the 1966 session.

Won by 'Landslide'

Bond, who won a landslide victory in his predominantly Negro Atlanta district last June, hurried from the Capitol with his lawyers and supporters after the vote.

The House committee which recommended the vote against Bond heard testimony and deliberated for more than four hours before reporting to the House.

The committee voted 23-3. The three votes favoring Bond's seating came from Negro members. They were among seven sworn in as the first Negro House members in 58 years.

Bond told the committee he stood on his endorsement of the SNCC statement. He said he had not advocated violation of any law when voicing admiration for anyone with the courage to burn his draft card.

Attorney Denmark Groover of Macon, representing Bond's opponents, said the Georgia Legislature had not refused to seat a member since 1868. He said eight Confederate veterans were barred from the House during Reconstruction.

The 12 legislators voting for Bond, seven white and five Negro, were from the Atlanta area — 10 from Fulton County and two from DeKalb County. Seven House members did not vote on the issue.

House Speaker George T. Smith said Monday night that the only chance Bond had of being seated was by apologizing.

KAC Slates Benefit Game For Jan. 24

Harlem Satellites Will Appear in Kaukauna Gym

KAUKAUNA — The Kaukauna Athletic Club will play a benefit basketball game against the New York Harlem Satellites in the Kaukauna High School Gym at 8 p.m. Jan. 24.

Proceeds from the affair will be used for the Athletic Club's sponsored scholarship fund. A 7 p.m. preliminary game will match two girls teams. Read Refrigeration, girls from the University of Wisconsin Milwaukee against the Boxes girls from the Wisconsin State University, Oshkosh, led by Lindy Kemp.

The Satellites were organized in 1956 and the roster includes players who saw action in the National Basketball Association with college players who saw action in the National Basketball Association with college teams throughout the country and with the Harlem Globetrotters.

Leading the team is Rookie Brown, owner-coach, who at 6-4 is an expert in passing, shooting and dribbling besides serving as court comedian.

Tallest man on the team is 6-10. One of the highlights will be the halftime show featuring a "Magic Circle" when spectators sit in darkness seeing only the hands, feet and basketball glowing as five players go through a routine.

Boxing Promoter, Cal Eaton, 58, Dies in Hospital

HOLLYWOOD (AP) - Funeral services for veteran boxing promoter Cal Eaton will be held Thursday in Los Angeles.

Eaton, 58, died Monday at Cedars of Lebanon Hospital where he had been under treatment for pulmonary edema.

Eaton and his wife, Aileen, promoted boxing and wrestling events for more than 20 years in Los Angeles.

Eaton promoted 25 world title fights. One promotion, a world double bill fight at Los Angeles Coliseum Feb. 4, 1960, drew a $280,000 gate, which a spokesman said is a western U.S. record.

On that bill, Jose Becerra of Mexico knocked out Alphonse Halimi, French bantamweight, and Carlos Ortiz, defending junior lightweight title, knocked out Battling Torres.

Besides his widow, Eaton's survivors include a son, Robert, and two stepsons, Mike and Gene LeBell.

The Game of Pocket Billiards is increasing in popularity, and women are taking to it as never before.

Jerry's Lane '5' Records Pair of Weekend Wins

KIMBERLY — The Jerry's Lanes basketball team extended its season record to 8-1 with a pair of victories in weekend action.

Jerry's downed Watertown Stagg's, 127-99 in an exhibition game Saturday and topped Reliance Printers of Green Bay, 97-90 in a BABA game Sunday night.

Against Watertown, Jerry's pulled away after a 50-50 halftime tie. Don Hearden had 29 points and Jim Peerenboom scored 28 to lead Jerry's. Former Marquette star, Rube Schulz had a game high of 34 for the losers.

Jerry's had a 19-point lead at halftime over Reliance and then held on for the win. Six players scored in the double figures for the winners with Tom Gossens and Jim Peerenboom each having 14. Wayne Plinska paced Green Bay with 25.

Jerry's will compete in the Reedsville tournament which opens Thursday.

Durocher Would Like Some Milwaukee Tilts

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The Chicago Cubs' new manager, Leo Durocher, leading a foray to Milwaukee to seek support at the turnstiles, said Monday night said he would enjoy playing part of the team's home games here, but there were no plans to do so.

Asked about rumors that the Cubs might play several night games in Milwaukee's County Stadium, vacated by the Atlanta-bound Braves, Durocher answered, "No, that has to be a National League matter. You've got to obtain permission of the league to do that."

He added, however, "Nothing would make me happier than to play some games here. I would be tickled to do that if Mr. Wrigley (Cubs' owner Phil Wrigley) and the league approved."

Seven Players

Durocher, two vice presidents of the Cubs and seven players, including Ernie Banks, Billy Williams, and Ron Santo, attended the reception and dinner here.

It was the first stop on a four-state tour to try to stimulate wider fan support. The Cubs obviously are hoping to draw to Wrigley Field in Chicago some of the departed Braves.

Durocher denied a statement what he was quoted as making as a television announcer for a Braves' game in September: "It's a crime that Milwaukee fans haven't supported this ball club."

The Cubs' manager Monday night blamed the Braves' owners for driving fans away by their announcement of plans to move to Atlanta for the 1966 season.

"Some cities have drawn more people, but I've never seen fans more rabid than those right here in Milwaukee," he told newsmen.

Rangers Acquire Bruins' Fleming For McKenzie

NEW YORK (AP) — New York hockey fans who thought the Rangers were after Boston's tough Ted Green had their signals crossed. Reg Fleming, another brawny Bruin, was New York's man all along.

The Rangers acquired Fleming, a rugged left wing, Monday in a National Hockey League deal that sent right wing John McKenzie to the Bruins.

The swap was made by the NHL's fifth-and sixth-place clubs less than 24 hours after an advertised vendetta involving the Rangers and Green, Boston's volatile defenseman, failed to materialize during a 3-1 Bruins victory at Madison Square Garden.

William Jennings, the Rangers president, had declared a "bounty" on Green after the Bruin's penalty spree — which included a spearing incident that put New York's Phil Goyette out of action for a month — in Boston's previous visit to the Garden.

First Lassiter Tip: Choose Comfortable Cue

Pocket Billiards Popularity Grows

BY LUTHER LASSITER

The game of American pocket billiards, known in every corner of the United States as pool, has popularity in the late 1920's and early 1930's.

This is the first of six installments of a series condensed from a best - selling book "The Modern Guide to Pocket Billiards," by Luther Lassiter, world's pocket billiard champion. Lassiter, who has been playing the game since he was 13, won the championship in April, 1963, in New York. The sport of billiards is anyone's for the taking, according to the author. It's toward the increased enjoyment of the sport that this series is directed.

The precise origin of the game is obscure. Historians of the sport feel that the present day variation can be traced to England of the 14th century where it was derived from the popular English pastime of lawn bowling or "bowles."

Until the last 30 years, other versions of billiards rivalled the pocket variation of the sport in popularity. Today, however, pocket billiards reigns supreme. No longer is the game played in dingy basement rooms by the more unsavory members of the community. Women are taking to the game as never before, and manufacturers are designing equipment with an eye toward appealing to female players. As a teen-age diversion, the game is supplying an important community need. New billiard centers are opening daily, adding to the almost 15,000 already in operation.

Choosing The Cue

Billiards is booming—and it couldn't happen to a nicer sport.

Your local billiard center has a wide assortment of billiard cue sticks or, simply, "cues," ready for your use. They range in length up to 57 inches, though the average is about 55 inches. In weight, they range between 14 ounces and 22 ounces.

Select a cue that feels comfortable for you. Don't choose one that is too light. Rather, try to have a little heft to the cue that you take, so that when you stroke the ball, the cue will do some work for you. If you are of average height and build, a 19-ounce cue stick should be about right for you.

Before you begin your game, roll the cue stick on a table or a counter top. If the cue rolls perfectly flat, you know it is a straight one. If the cue appears to arch up as you roll it, you can be sure it is bowed and that you won't be able to be accurate with it. Put it back and take another.

And, also, before you begin, stroke the cue through your finger bridge. Be certain that it moves smoothly, that it doesn't stick.

Examine the cue stick leather top. It should never be smaller in size than the point of the cue itself.

As you become a more accomplished billiard player, you may want to own your own cue stick. You'll find you can select a custom cue from a wide variety of styles and prices. They range in cost from $15 up to $100, and even more. The more expensive ones are hand-designed and hand-crafted and they have a really elegant appearance.

Most popular among the custom sticks are the jointed cues—those that break down into two pieces for easy carrying and storage.

Of course, you won't want to own your own cue stick until you gain experience in the game. Those cues that are available for your use at the billiard center are perfectly adequate.

Luther Lassiter, the world's pocket billiards champion, is the author of a series of articles, beginning today in The Post-Crescent.

Lemm Leaves Cardinal Job

would be a six-month coach," Bidwill said.

"However, each year we felt a little stronger in our beliefs that we should have a fulltime coach. When the issue came up again today (Monday), there was no compromise available, and by mutual consent, he is leaving the Cardinals."

Lemm, 45, who coached Houston to the American Football League title before taking over the Cardinal job, leaves after a dismal season.

The Cards had been picked as an Eastern Division contender, but finished with a 5-8 record in 1965 after a 9-3-2 finish in 1964. His overall record with the Cardinals with 27-26-3.

Will Honor Contract

Bidwill said the final year on Lemm's contract will be honored.

He said he and his brother had no one in mind for a replacement, but that they know who is available and every name will be considered.

"We prefer a man with professional experience," Charles Bidwill said, "either as a recent player or coach. It does not matter whether he now is coaching in college."

Among those names sure to be considered is Charley Trippi, one of Lemm's assistants who starred for the Cardinals in the late 1940s and early 1950s. Other assistants are Ray Prochaska, Chuck Drulis, Fran Polsfoot and Bobby Layne. Layne also would rate top consideration if he could be persuaded to coach full time.

Pond's Shares Lead With KC-Lakeview

Pond Sport Shop (16-2) and Kimberly-Clark-Lakeview swept three games from American Can and Appleton Coated, respectively, for the lead in the Appleton YMCA Volleyball League.

Kaukauna (8-4) moved into third place by winning two of three over Power Co. Appleton Tropny won two of three over Riverside.

Twins' Griffith Expects Trouble With Players in Contract Negotiations

By LEW FERGUSON

ST. PAUL - MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Success is going to Calvin Griffith's pocketbook in 1966

The Minnesota Twins owner mailed new contracts to players on his American League baseball championship team Monday, and he admitted

"There's going to be a lot of them squawking, but I've heard it before"

Griffith is caught in the bind of rewarding his players for winning the 1965 pennant and still holding his player payroll within what he considers reason.

Up 50 Per Cent

"I would think our payroll would go to $600,000," he said "That's second in baseball only to the New York Yankees who I would guess are around $700,000. If we got around two million dollars in radio and television money like the Yankees, we could do that too"

The Twins' payroll has shot up 50 per cent since the old Washington Senators moved here in 1961, from $400,000 to the expected $600,000 this year.

"Our salaries have steadily gone up as the team has improved," Griffith said "We've easily got a dozen at $20,000 or better now"

Griffith is offering raises to most of his players, holding a few at their 1965 level and asking only two to take cuts He won't identify the two, but speculation centers on pitcher Dick Stigman, second baseman Bernie Allen and, possibly, outfielder Bob Allison

The biggest contract fights are expected with shortstop Zoilo Versalles, the American League's Most Valuable Player, and pitcher Jim Grant, who won 21 regular season games and also chalked up two of the Twins' three victories in the World Series — lost last October to the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Both Seek $50,000

Both have announced that they plan to ask for salaries in the $50,000 range Griffith is adamant that neither will get that much

Versalles, who played for $28,000 last year said Monday he plans to ask for a $25,000 raise, which would put him at $53,000 "I feel I'm going to have trouble" the Cuban shortstop said

Griffith confirmed Zoilo's suspicion

"He won't get a $25,000 raise," Griffith said, "and I'd question if he'll get in the $40,000 range He's had only one what you'd call an outstanding year You don't get that kind of money until you have a lot of them One year doesn't make a ball player. You don't get that kind of money overnight"

Grant, on tour this winter with a song and dance night club act, said earlier that he expects to get $50,000 this year. He made about $21,000 in 1965

Stay in Entertainment

"Grant can stay in the entertainment business of he thinks he's going to get that kind of money," Griffith reiterated Monday

Griffith said slugger Harmon Killebrew, his highest paid player, got $55,000 last year and will get a raise to "not quite $60,000" this year "I've never had any serious trouble with Harmon," he added

Second highest paid last year was Camilo Pascual, at about $46,000 Griffith declined to say what he offered Pascual, but he apparently expects his curveballing right-hander to complain sought Halas' permission to talk to the Rams.

Five Pro Grid Jobs Are Open

"Mr Halas gave him this permission," said Reeves "Later, George Halas rescinded this permission and his objection was quite strong Mr Halas said he didn't want me to take Mr Allen, or, if you prefer, Mr Allen to take me."

But added Reeves:

"I can't believe George Halas will stand in his way"

Lemm, however, did let one thing stand in his way He wanted to be the Cardinals' head coach on a six-months basis

"When I hired Wally we wanted a coach who would be with us the year around" said Cardinal President Charles Bidwill "We knew that Wally wanted to be head coach on a six-months basis and that was fine

"In the ensuing years, however, we felt more and more strongly that we wanted a head coach that would be with us all the time When the issue came up again today, there was no compromise available, and by mutual consent, he is leaving the Cardinals"

Four jobs now remain open in the National League and one in the American League

The NFL openings are at St Louis, Atlanta, which still has not signed a coach for its new club, Pittsburgh, where Mike Nixon has been fired, and Washington, where Bill McPeak has been fired

With Joel Collier taking over for resigning Lou Saban at Buffalo, one AFL job remains open —at Miami, which still has not signed a coach for its new club

Acquired From Phils by Cubs

Covington Will Get Chance to Play Daily

MILWAUKEE (AP)— Chicago Cubs Manager Leo Durocher promised Monday night that his team's latest acquisition, pinch hitter Wes Covington, would be given a chance to play daily

The outfielder, who helped thrust the Milwaukee Braves to National League titles in 1957 and 1958, was traded to Chicago by the Philadelphia Phillies Monday

Chance to Play

Covington, 33, hit .247 last season His departure from the Phillies was considered imminent ever since he directed postseason criticism publicly at Manager Gene Mauch for the team's poor showing in 1965 and its collapse in 1964 when it appeared to have the pennant clinched

Durocher, here to court fans for the Cubs, said, "I'm going to give him a chance to play every day

"Don Drysdale (Los Angeles pitcher) tells me he would rather face Hank Aaron (the Braves' runnerup for the 1965 league batting title) than Covington Wes Kills him"

The new Cubs manager added "All you have to do is make a little mistake against this fellow and you are in trouble. If I can't play him every day I'll platoon him in left field And even if he is just on the bench I know I'll have the best pinch hitting threat in the league"

The Phillies said they sought waivers on Covington and only the Cubs were interested Since Philadelphia wanted players, not money, Covington went to the Cubs on a straight trade for outfielder Doug Clemens, 26, who hit .221 last season Covington has a lifetime batting average of .260

Covington said he welcomed the chance to play for a "real manager."

SPORT FANS! I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

By John Behnke

Here's a quiz for you to see how observant you are when you watch sports stars perform on TV or in person, or when you see pictures of them . . . Listed on the left below are eight of the greatest stars of the past and present in baseball, basketball and football . . . On the right are the uniform numbers they made famous . . . See how many you can match correctly:

Stan Musial	No. 3
Willie Mays	No. 6
Babe Ruth	No. 7
Wilt Chamberlain	No. 13
Red Grange	No. 19
Mickie Mantle	No. 24
Jim Brown	No. 32
Johnny Unitas	No. 77

Answer: Musial, 6; Mays, 24, Ruth, 3; Chamberlain, 13; Grange, 77; Mantle, 7; Brown, 32; Unitas, 19.

Here's a true story about what happened one day to the great golfer Bobby Jones — and, this is a story that illustrates the real meaning of the word "sportsmanship" . . . Jones was playing in the National Open of 1925 at Worcester . . . His ball went into the rough, and then accidentally moved very slightly when Jones' club touched a nearby blade of grass . . . Reporters later said that NOBODY saw the ball move . . . Jones, however, asked that he be penalized a stroke . . . Everyone tried to talk him out of taking the penalty because no one saw the ball move . . . But Jones insisted and as it turned out, that stroke cost him the title that year . . . Someone later asked Jones why he'd done it . . . He said, "That's the only way to play the game" . . . Is there a better definition of sportsmanship than that?

Kentucky Records 11th Straight Win

Wildcats Manage Just One Point In First Overtime but Still Triumph

BY ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Kentucky's unbeaten, second-ranked Wildcats scored only one point in an overtime period It turned out to be the biggest point of their basketball season

Tied 60-60 at the end of regulation time, Kentucky and Georgia each converted single foul shots to force the game into a second extra period in which Kentucky outscored the Bulldogs 8-4 for a 69-65 victory Monday night

Two other members of The Associated Press' Top Ten saw action and recorded victories — No 3 Vanderbilt, 106-58 over Mississippi and No 10 Kansas, 89-68 over Oklahoma

Kentucky started out at Athens Ga as if it would have an easy time in running its record to 11 0, building a 34-21 halftime margin But Georgia fought back and sent the game into overtime on Frank Harscher's basket at the buzzer

Dampier Scores

The Wildcats' Louie Dampier, who scored 23 points, sank one foul shot but missed a second in the first overtime The one enough to keep the Wildcats in the game as the only point the Bulldogs could put on the board in the period was a foul shot by Harscher

In the second overtime, Kentucky s Pat Riley opened with a basket, but Georgia came back with two free throws by Jerry Waller who also finished with 23 The Wildcats then went ahead to stay on a pair of foul shots by Cliff Berger and Tommy Kron's field goal

Big Clyde Lee scored 29 points and snared 28 rebounds in Vanderbilt's easy victory over Mississippi at Nashville, Tenn

Blocks Seven Shots

Another big man, Kansas' Walt Wesley, netted 27 points and blocked seven shots in the Jayhawks' defeat of Oklahoma at Lawrence, Kan

Iowa, who dropped out of the Top Ten after losing 69-68 to Wisconsin Saturday, got back on the right track with 70-58 triumph over Northwestern

In other action, No 5 Bradley beat the touring Polish National Olympians 81-77, Cazzie Russell got 27 points as Michigan trounced Indiana 88-68 Michigan State beat Purdue 89-78 despite 30 points by Purdue's Dave Schellhase, the nation's scoring leader. DePaul set a school single-game scoring record by routing Western Ontario 120-51, and Southern Illinois, the first-ranked small-college team, held off Kentucky Wesleyan 60-56

Halas Objects To Ram Signing Of George Allen

wins without great personnel"

He declined to set a time table to boost the Rams out of their losing ways but said every coach looks forward to a championship team He said he believes Los Angeles can desert the Western Division cellar eventually

"One hundred per cent output by every player is not enough in our league They must give it 110 per cent all the time to win Allen said

Halas accused Reeves Monday of attempting "to pirate our coaching staff"

"It is rather widely accepted that the Bears could be an outstanding team in 1966," said Halas, "and we feel strongly that anything that would disturb our organization would dilute our chances"

He added

"The Rams' utter disregard and contempt for legal obligations present a serious challenge not only to the Bears but to the entire structure of the National Football League

"Distasteful though an altercation is, the Bears must take whatever steps are needed to protect our best interest"

Six Cowboys Miss Drill for Pro Bowl Tilt

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Workouts continue for both teams preparing for next Sunday's 6th annual National Football League Pro Bowl game at Memorial Coliseum

All 34 of the West squad's players reported Monday for practice at Dodger Stadium

Six members of the Dallas Cowboys were absent from the East team workout at the University of Southern California They missed their plane in Miami Sunday after playing Baltimore in the NFL's Playoff Bowl

Both the East's coach, Blanton Collier, and the West's coach, Vince Lombardi, plan morning workouts the rest of the week

Lombardi said Monday he was surprised to find some of his squad in very good condition, considering they'd been out of action for three weeks

Knowles Explains Challenge of State Politics

MADISON (AP) — Gov Warren P Knowles told a University of Wisconsin audience Monday night that state government service is "one of the most challenging careers a young adult can pursue"

"We need young people in government with fresh ideas energy and enthusiasm to insure that our state will be prepared and capable of dealing with the problems of this fast-moving era" he told a student group

"Many of my top men in my administration are in their twenties and early thirties and are men with ability and imagination who saw a big job to be done and responded to the challenge," he added

Lemm, Allen Have Similar Wisconsin Grid Backgrounds

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A former Wisconsin high school and college player stepped down as coach of a National Football League team Monday while a former Marquette University end was hired as coach of another

George Allen Chicago Bears assistant coach who played at Marquette was appointed head coach of the Los Angeles Rams

Wally Lemm a Milwaukee native and former Carroll College halfback bowed out as head coach of the St Louis Cardinals

Allen 43 attended the University of Michigan and Alma College as well as Marquette

Lemm 45 returned to Carroll as an assistant coach after World War II also coached at Waukesha High School and eventually became head coach at Lake Forest College before joining the Cardinals as an assistant in 1956

He led Houston to the American Football League title in 1961 and became head coach at St Louis in 1962

The Cardinals expected to challenge Cleveland for the Eastern Conference crown last fifth St Louis owners said they preferred a full-time coach while Lemm has made it known he wants to work on a half year basis so he can spend more time with his family at his Lake Bluff Ill home

Allen moved from Michigan to Iowa to take a college coaching job at Morningside and he came head coach at Whittier College in California from 1951 through 1956 He joined the Bears' staff in 1958

Film on Series Plays Second Fiddle to One On Baseball Memories

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Lew Fonseca, movie king of major league baseball, has released a real sleeper

Fonseca, director of big league promotion, unveiled a double feature recently, but his all-color recap of the 1955 World Series played second fiddle to a black and white film entitled 50 Years of Baseball Memories

Baseball officials, including American League President Joe Cronin, and sports writers and sportscasters had loud applause for a 30-minute sound-movie review of the game's great figures and great moments,

Took 3 Years

The "memories" shown for the first time flashed from Babe Ruth and Ty Cobb to present day heroes, capsuling dramatic plays and classic performances

It took three years to compile mainly from clips in Fonseca's film collection and some shots from newsreels

Earlier, Fonseca showed the official film, in striking color, of the World Series in which the Los Angeles Dodgers won over the Minnesota Twins, four games to three It previously was shown in Los Angeles and the Twin Cities

The "memories" film opened with comment from Connie Mack and Baseball's first commissioner, Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis

The 30-minute film then tumbled out star after star, including a much slimmer Cronin in his American League playing days

After the lights went on, Cronin—who stopped here en route to a luncheon in Kansas City today—commented

Time for Baseball

"I just don't have enough adjectives to describe how fine I think this movie is for baseball"

Fred G Fleig, National League secretary asserted

"This is the most thrilling thing on baseball I've ever seen"

Mack, the patriarch of the old Philadelphia A's, got a big audience laugh with the comment that there was no worry about $6 a day hotels" by real old-time players

The film showed flashes of World Series games in which Herbert Hoover, Franklin D Roosevelt, Dwight Eisenhower and John F Kennedy pitched out first balls

It had clips showing Ruth, Cobb and Tris Speaker posed in a "dream outfield," and there were bits on Lou Gehrig, Rogers Hornsby, Mel Ott, Paul Waner, Pepper Martin, Bob Feller, Joe DiMaggio Ted Williams and Stan Musial

It showed action by Jackie Robinson baseball's first Negro major leaguer, and such World Series classic performances as Willie Mays' great World Series catch in 1954 and Don Larsen's perfect game in 1956

All-Star Heroics

It flashed All Star Game heroics by Musial and DiMaggio and Bobby Thomson's dramatic pennant-clinching home run for the New York Giants in 1951

The biggest laugh of all came from the audience when after Thomson's epic homer, Eddie Stanky raced to third base and in wild joy wrestled Giant Man after Leo Durocher to the ground

This year Durocher starts as new manager of the Chicago Cubs and Stanky is new pilot of the Chicago White Sox

Both the World Series and memories films now are available for distribution to clubs and civic groups at Fonseca's office 200 S Michigan Chicago

Stanky Assures Writers He'll Always Tell Truth

New White Sox Pilot Stages First Press Conference

By JOE MOOSHIL

CHICAGO (AP)—Eddie Stanky, the new manager of the Chicago White Sox, is a small man physically but big in other ways especially in being forthright

"One thing I can assure you is that I'll always be honest and tell the truth," Stanky told reporters after stepping down from the rostrum of the Sox' annual midwester press meeting Monday

Sox owner Arthur Allyn intimated one of the reasons the Sox delayed so long in naming a successor to Al Lopez was to get Stanky

Shortly afterwards Stanky proved his honesty They contacted me on a Thursday and the following Tuesday the announcement was made," said Stanky.

The 48-year-old scrapper, who played on three pennant winning teams and had a fling at managing the St. Louis Cardinals from 1952 to 1955, was intent on setting the record straight before taking the Sox helm

"I wasn't blessed with a sense of humor so I don't laugh much I wish I could I don't wield a big stick I'm not a tough guy as some people seem to think I don't hide behind a cloak of toughness

"Respect Theories"

"I expect my players to respect my theories I have been accused of copying Leo Durocher as a manager Maybe so, there's nothing wrong with that Leo was the best manager I played for I've copied from others including Paul Richards

"I can't name an opening day lineup in January I'm not that good I'm not going to say I expect my team to hustle I'm not that corny

I'm not going to get into any feuds with Durocher I can't out talk Leo But I will look forward to managing against him in Sox-Cubs charity game

I've read stories where I'm going to switch Pete Ward from third base to first I'm not going to do that because I'm 100 per cent satisfied with Moose Skowron at first

Having said everything about what he is not Stanky was asked exactly what he is

Knows Business

Just say I'm a baseball man who knows his business I demand a well conditioned and alert club My job is to remind a player what he has previously learned

The precise little guy finally was stumped when he was asked why he took the Sox job after having turned down other offers in recent years

After several attempts at grasping for an answer Stanky broke into a little smile and said

I can't answer that question because I really don't know Maybe it was because of Mrs Stanky Maybe I saw a gleam in her eyes when I told her of the offer She always knew I would return to managing

Kentucky Records 11th Straight Win

BY ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Kentucky's unbeaten, second-ranked Wildcats scored only one point in an overtime period It turned out to be the biggest point of their basketball season

Tied 60-60 at the end of regulation time, Kentucky and Georgia each converted single foul shots to force the game into a second extra period in which Kentucky outscored the Bulldogs 8-4 for a 69-65 victory Monday night

Two other members of The Associated Press' Top Ten saw action and recorded victories — No 3 Vanderbilt, 106-58 over Mississippi and No 10 Kansas, 89-68 over Oklahoma

Kentucky started out at Athens Ga as if it would have an easy time in running its record to 11 0, building a 34-21 halftime margin But Georgia fought back and sent the game into overtime on Frank Harscher's basket at the buzzer

Dampier Scores

The Wildcats' Louie Dampier, who scored 23 points, sank one foul shot but missed a second in the first overtime The one enough to keep the Wildcats in the game as the only point the Bulldogs could put on the board in the period was a foul shot by Harscher

In the second overtime, Kentucky s Pat Riley opened with a basket, but Georgia came back with two free throws by Jerry Waller who also finished with 23 The Wildcats then went ahead to stay on a pair of foul shots by Cliff Berger and Tommy Kron's field goal

Big Clyde Lee scored 29 points and snared 28 rebounds in Vanderbilt's easy victory over Mississippi at Nashville, Tenn

Blocks Seven Shots

Another big man, Kansas' Walt Wesley, netted 27 points and blocked seven shots in the Jayhawks' defeat of Oklahoma at Lawrence, Kan

Iowa, who dropped out of the Top Ten after losing 69-68 to Wisconsin Saturday, got back on the right track with 70-58 triumph over Northwestern

In other action, No 5 Bradley beat the touring Polish National Olympians 81-77, Cazzie Russell got 27 points as Michigan trounced Indiana 88-68 Michigan State beat Purdue 89-78 despite 30 points by Purdue's Dave Schellhase, the nation's scoring leader, DePaul set a school single-game scoring record by routing Western Ontario 120-51, and Southern Illinois, the first-ranked small-college team, held off Kentucky Wesleyan 60-56

wins without great personnel'

He declined to set a time table to boost the Rams out of their losing ways but said every coach looks forward to a championship team He said he believes Los Angeles can desert the Western Division cellar eventually

'One hundred per cent output by every player is not enough in our league They must give it 110 per cent all the time to win Allen said

Halas accused Reeves Monday of attempting "to pirate our coaching staff"

'It is rather widely accepted that the Bears could be an outstanding team in 1966," said Halas, "and we feel strongly that anything that would disturb our organization would dilute our chances"

He added

"The Rams' utter disregard and contempt for legal obligations present a serious challenge not only to the Bears but to the entire structure of the National Football League

'Distasteful though an altercation is, the Bears must take whatever steps are needed to protect our best interest"

Six Cowboys Miss Drill for Pro Bowl Tilt

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Workouts continue for both teams preparing for next Sunday's 6th annual National Football League Pro Bowl game at Memorial Coliseum

All 34 of the West squad's players reported Monday for practice at Dodger Stadium

Six members of the Dallas Cowboys were absent from the East team workout at the University of Southern California They missed their plane in Miami Sunday after playing Baltimore in the NFL's Playoff Bowl

Both the East's coach, Blanton Collier, and the West's coach, Vince Lombardi, plan morning workouts the rest of the week

Lombardi said Monday he was surprised to find some of his squad in very good condition, considering they'd been out of action for three weeks

Knowles Explains Challenge of State Politics

MADISON (AP) — Gov Warren P Knowles told a University of Wisconsin audience Monday night that state government service is "one of the most challenging careers a young adult can pursue"

'We need young people in government with fresh ideas energy and enthusiasm to insure that our state will be prepared and capable of dealing with the problems of this fast-moving era' he told a student group

'Many of my top men in my administration are in their twenties and early thirties and are men with ability and imagination who saw a big job to be done and responded to the challenge," he added

West DePere Man Bruises Knee in Kimberly Mishap

KIMBERLY - Gerald Jordan, 20, route 2, West DePere, suffered a bruised knee when the car in which he was a passenger was involved in a three-car accident on the 100 block of N Sidney Street about 12 50 a m Sunday

According to police, Jordan was a passenger in a car driven by Robert Dorn, 18, route 2, West DePere, which struck the back end of a vehicle owned by Cigarette Service, 1420 Christine St, Appleton, which was legally parked and pushed that vehicle forward into another parked vehicle owned by Howard Betters, 136 N John St, Kimberly

The Dorn vehicle skidded 60 feet and continued on into the 200 block of N Sidney Street after the mishap Dorn was issued a citation for driving at speeds not reasonable or prudent Damage to the Dorn and Cigarette Service vehicles was set at $350 damage each while damage to the Betters' auto was set at $200

"Respect Theories"

'I expect my players to respect my theories I have been accused of copying Leo Durocher as a manager Maybe so, there s nothing wrong with that Leo was the best manager I played for I've copied from others including Paul Richards

"I can't name an opening day lineup in January I m not that good I m not going t osay I expect my team to hustle I'm not that corny

I m not going to get into any feuds with Durocher I can t out talk Leo But I will look forward to managing against him in Sox-Cubs charity game

I ve read stories where I m going to switch Pete Ward from third base to first I m not going to do that because I'm 100 per cent satisfied with Moose Skowron at first'

Having said everything about what he is not Stanky was asked exactly what he is

Knows Business

Just say I m a baseball man who knows his business I demand a well conditioned and alert club My job is to remind a player what he has previously learned

The precise little guy finally was stumped when he was asked why he took the Sox job after having turned down other offers in recent years

After several attempts at groping for an answer Stanky broke into a little smile and said

I can't answer that question because I really don't know Maybe it was because of Mrs Stanky Maybe it was a gleam in her eyes when I told her of the offer She always knew I would return to managing

Parks Becomes First Negro to Sign Grid Grant-in-Aid at Duke

LYNCHBURG, Va (AP) — Allen Parks a 6-foot 2, 225 pound tackle and academic whiz at Lynchburg s Dunbar High School, has become the first Negro to sign a football grant-in-aid with Duke University

Parks who plans to study law announced Monday night he has accepted the Durham N C university s offer of a four year athletic scholarship Duke officials said they were greatly pleased

Ogdensburg Native, U. S. Forestry Agent, Succumbs at Madison

MADISON (AP) Robert H Beitzel, 34, supervisory procurement agent for the U S Forest Products Laboratory in Madison died Monday

He had been on the laboratory staff since December 1934 coming from Sheridan Wyo where he was procurement agent for the Big Horn National Forest

In 1959 he worked with his father C H Beitzel in operation of a lumber mill in Ogdensburg Wis

Lemm, Allen Have Similar Wisconsin Grid Backgrounds

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A former Wisconsin high school and college player stepped down as coach of a National Football League team Monday while a former Marquette University end was hired as coach of another

George Allen Chicago Bears assistant coach who played at Marquette was appointed head coach of the Los Angeles Rams

Wally Lemm a Milwaukee native and former Carroll College halfback bowed out as head coach of the St Louis Cardinals

Allen 43 attended the University of Michigan and Alma College as well as Marquette

Lemm 45 returned to Carroll as an assistant coach after World War II, also coached at Waukesha High School, and eventually became head coach at Lake Forest College before joining the Cardinals as an assistant in 1956

He led Houston to the American Football League title in 1961 and became head coach at St Louis in 1962

The Cardinals expected to challenge Cleveland for the Eastern Conference crown last fa finished a disappointing fifth St Louis owners said they preferred a full-time coach while Lemm has made it known he wants to work on a half year basis so he can spend more time with his family at his Lake Bluff Ill home

Allen moved from Michigan to Iowa to take a college coaching job at Morningside and became head coach at Whittier College in California from 1951 through 1956 He joined the Bears' staff in 1958

Press Will be Allowed at Braves' Official Questioning

MILWAUKEE (AP) Pretrial questioning of Braves baseball officials in Atlanta starting Wednesday will be open to the press a Milwaukee judge hearing the epic antitrust battle decided Monday

State and Milwaukee County attorneys will take depositions from Braves board chairman William C Bartholomay club president John McHale business manager Dick Cecil and possible manager Bobby Bragan

Circuit Judge Elmer W Roler said If there s going to be any question I will make an order that the depositions be open to the press the same as the taking of depositions would be in Milwaukee

We respectfully submit that your honor has no control over the way depositions will be taken in the state of Georgia objected Braves attorney Ray T McMann

The oral examinations are to be conducted Wednesday through Friday Attorneys for both sides agreed that various financial documents to be inspected by the state and city will not be made public without the court's permission

The state and county are asking that the Atlanta bound Braves be forced to remain in Milwaukee for the 1966 season under the National League grants this city a new franchise

CIA Chief Slated For Questioning on Contact With Hanoi

U. S.-North Viet Nam Contact Disclosed by Press Secretary

WASHINGTON (AP) — A congressional panel planned to question CIA Director William F Raborn today on the newly announced direct U S. diplomatic contact with Hanoi

The Central Intelligence Agency chief was to brief a joint subcommittee on the CIA at midafternoon on the Johnson administration's Viet Nam peace offensive.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk had been scheduled to brief the House Foreign Affairs Committee this morning on the Viet Nam situation. But he left for India shortly after midnight as a member of the U.S. delegation to the funeral of Indian Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri.

Presidential press secretary Bill D. Moyers disclosed the U S North Vietnamese contact late Monday but refused to tell more — including how, when or where it came about.

Handed Message

It was learned that a U S diplomat met for a few minutes with a Hanoi representative and handed him a message concerning U.S. proposals for peace in Viet Nam.

The two officials were reported to have exchanged routine remarks, but not to have engaged in any substance negotiations.

Johnson has offered unconditional discussions. To this the Communists have not yet given any significant response through diplomatic channels, it was stated. Publicly, the Reds are continuing to berate the United States as the aggressor in Viet Nam.

Not Significant

The U. S. - North Vietnamese meeting was said to have occurred some time ago. Johnson's current peace campaign began Dec. 24 with the halt in air strikes against North Viet Nam targets.

Hanoi's receipt of the U.S. communication this time — during last May's bombing pause it refused a U.S. message sent through the British — was not regarded as significant here

India Mourns Shastri; Nanda New Minister

New Chief Will Honor Peace Vow

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Millions of mourning Indians packed the streets of New Delhi today as the body of Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri was brought home for cremation beside the sacred Jumna River.

As representatives of governments hurried from around the world to attend the funeral rites Wednesday, the world's leaders poured in tributes to the frail little man who struggled for 19 stormy months after the death of Jawaharlal Nehru to lead this troubled land of 460 million people.

Within hours after Shastri's death from a heart attack, India's new prime minister, Gulzarilal Nanda, promised to carry through his predecessor's final work—the peace pledge he signed with Pakistan a few hours before he died

Shastri, 61, died early today in the Soviet city of Tashkent. The 5-foot-2, 110-pound prime minister had signed a limited peace pact Monday with Pakistani President Mohammed Ayub Khan agreeing to pull their forces back from territory seized during the September war between India and Pakistan.

Nanda in a nationwide broadcast said Shastri died "after successfully concluding a mighty effort for peace We shall honor the agreement he made and implement it faithfully."

A Soviet plane bore the remains of the humble-born little leader across the Hindu Kush Mountains to India's dusty plains.

Carried Coffin

Ayub Khan, whose forces fought Indian troops in a bloody 22-day undeclared war last September, and Soviet Premier Alexei N Kosygin, who was host to the Tashkent conference, helped carry Shastri's coffin to the plane in the Soviet Asian city.

Kosygin left shortly after to attend the funeral. Ayub returned to Rawalpindi, the Pakistani capital

Vice President Hubert H Humphrey and Secretary of State Dean Rusk flew from Washington for the funeral. They were accompanied by two former U S ambassadors to India, Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., and John Kenneth Galbraith.

Nation Is United as Never Before

By CONRAD FINK

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Lal Bahadur Shastri's successor has one advantage Shastri lacked when he became prime minister of India. The country is united as never before in recent years.

The war with Pakistan and the constant battle against economic misery has given India a new spirit that should help smooth the way for the country's new leader, Gulzarilal Nanda.

When Shastri succeeded Jawaharlal Nehru in June 1964, trouble was breaking out everywhere.

Language riots swept the south. Separatist tendencies flamed in other sections. The nation's chief unifying force, the ruling Congress party, was splitting into factions.

Middle of Road

Because he belonged to no faction, Shastri was acceptable to all. A middle-roader, he had gained a reputation for mildness and conciliation in years of quiet but solid party work.

Shastri had a tough time at first, barely putting down one trouble before another flared up. But gradually he gained real, as well as paper, power and led India with firmness.

It was not until he showed steel as a leader in war, however, that Shastri was accepted by the general public. And not until India's war with Pakistan in September did he pull India together.

After the September war, it was said in New Delhi: "He will be prime minister as long as he lives."

Submit to Election

His successor, Nanda, probably will submit to a party election soon to determine if he is to continue as prime minister. In India's parliamentary democracy, the ruling party's members of Parliament elect a leader who then is asked by the president to form a new government.

Nanda, home minister in Shastri's Cabinet, is a stern, ascetic man who has characteristics that have made him unpopular in some sections of his party.

Like many Indians, he regularly consults astrologers.

He has led anticorruption campaigns which have not ended corruption but have made many enemies for him.

As home minister, Nanda was Shastri's No. 1 "Communist watcher." He ordered more than 1,000 jailed last year, charging that they were plotting revolt.

Except for those who publicly renounced their ideology, most of the Communists still are behind bars.

Lindsay Gets Tough

Investigate Means Of Settling Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — New means of settling New York's transit crisis are being explored under a get-tough policy laid down by Mayor John V. Lindsay.

The Transit Authority and the striking transit unions were asked to give their reaction today to proposals suggested by Lindsay for ending the tieup.

In a biting statement Monday, Lindsay had told the city's mediators to take stern measures to end the strike by the bus and subway workers.

Face Issues

He said it was "time for Mayor Lindsay to face the issues realistically and deal with us fairly He should stop trying to cheat the people of New York with innuendo."

In the early hours of today negotiations again ended without agreement The mediators told the Transit Authority and the unions to come back later ready to give their ideas about Lindsay's suggestions.

Here is what the mayor recommended as alternatives to a negotiated settlement:

That the mediators make specific recommendations for a settlement, that a fact-finding commission be appointed to study the dispute and make recommendations, or that new procedures be adopted, such as advisory or binding arbitration.

Return to Work

Lindsay coupled the last two alternatives with a recommendation that the strikers return to work pending final settlement

Sylvester Garrett, one of the three mediators, said regarding MacMahon's public rejection that he did not believe the union leader's statement "necessarily represented a full exposition of the union's views to the various alternatives."

MacMahon seemed particularly enraged by Lindsay's suggestion that the strikers return to work pending a final settlement.

He contended Lindsay wanted to "defer our claims until the end of 1967 to give (Gov. Nelson A.) Rockefeller and Lindsay an opportunity to get together as far as their political problems are concerned and let the workers wait.

U. S. Writers Ordered Out By Sukarno

Sukarno issued the order in a speech at a ceremony installing the new Indonesian ambassador to Syria, H. M. Sudjono.

The president said he has decided to expel American correspondents from Indonesia in retaliation for lies he said were being written in the American press about the current Indonesian political crisis.

There are now two American correspondents in Indonesia: R.E. Staniard of United Press International and Donald Kirk, representing the New York Times

Antonie Yared of The Associated Press si a Lebanese.

Dominican Rebels Agree to Leave

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Seven rebel officers have agreed to accept diplomatic assignments abroad, a government source reported today.

The group, however, does not include such top rebel laders as Col Francisco Caamano Deno or Col. Manuel Ramon Montes Arache, the informant said.

Guerrillas Flee Into Jungle

'Operation Crimp' Chases Viet Cong With Little Success

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Large forces of disappointed U S troops mopped up today in two big Viet Cong hideouts northwest of Saigon and in the central highlands near the Cambodian frontier after the bulk of guerrillas once more had escaped into the jungles.

For U. S. officers the operation by more than 8,000 Americans and Australians 35 miles from the capital was particularly annoying. Although they raised the Viet Cong death toll to 84 and captured 38 in the four days of Operation Crimp, they had hoped for far better results from the biggest American offensive of the war.

Their goal was to snare a Communist regiment on the edge of the Iron Triangle, an old guerrilla redoubt that has been Communist territory since the days of the French Indochina war. But only rear-guard elements put up a fight while the main enemy force vanished.

Brisk Fight

Paratroopers of the 173rd Airborne Brigade took on one guerrilla band in a brisk fight Monday and killed 29 Communists, U S spokesmen reported. Another 16 bodies were found after an air attack.

Soldiers of the 1st Infantry Division killed six more guerrillas in a 20-minute gun battle when the Reds tried to protect a large tunnel containing 15 bales of cotton and six tons of rice

While U. S troops explored a maze of tunnels underneath more than 100 houses in the area, soldiers of the Royal Australian Regiment reported killing three Viet Cong in small actions in the afternoon and finding five more bodies

A U S spokesman reported "only light, sporadic contact in the whole battle area" by tonight.

Equally frustrating was an eight-day search for guerrillas by the U. S. 1st cavalry, Airmobile, Division in the central highlands on the Cambodian frontier, not far from the Ia Drang Valley where the Flying Horsemen battled it out with North Vietnamese regulars last November.

This time the Communists hurriedly pulled out, abandoning four rest camps capable of accommodating 3,000 guerrillas.

36 Killed in Brazilian Flooding

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — Thirty-six persons perished and many more were feared buried in the debris of 50 buildings — mostly in the slums—which collapsed Monday night after a downpour caused extensive flooding.

The rain continued into the early morning and more was predicted for tonight.

The Journal do Brasil said as many as 100 persons may have been killed, but a Fire Department spokesman declined to speculate on the number of dead

He said six of the known casualties had drowned or died from heart attacks

A shantytown on the steep hillside behind the fashionable Copacabar district was reported to have suffered heavy damage, and some of its buildings were swept away

The Maracana River overflowed into a middle-and lower-class neighborhood and flooded dozens of homes At some points in low sections of the city water was 6 and 7 feet deep.

Blast Wrecks New Ski Lodge

BRECKENRIDGE, Colo. (AP) — "I felt it first. I don't know if I ever heard it at all. Then there was a puff of smoke and the whole building just settled down. It was all over in about 15 seconds."

John Bos, 25, Chicago, lift manager at Breckenridge Ski Area, said he was about 300 yards from the new $62,000 week-old operations and administration building when it blew up Monday.

The blast killed one person and injured 11 others — three of them critically.

Bos and other employes said the apparent cause of the blast was a propane gas leak in a crawl space beneath the two-story building of rough-hewn timber Officials had not confirmed the cause

Harriman to Fly To South Viet Nam

CANBERRA, Australia (AP) —Roving Ambassador W. Averell Harriman will fly to South Viet Nam Wednesday U S. officials announced today. He is on a world mission for President Johnson to explain U.S. policy on the Viet Nam War.

Pat Nugent Starts Duty in Washington

WASHINGTON (AP)—Patrick J Nugent began his duty with the District of Columbia's air national guard Monday by reluctantly posing for photographs for an hour

The celebrated airman, fiance of the President's younger daughter, declined to answer questions about his transfer here from the Wisconsin Air National Guard

Nugent said he would live in barracks at the Andrews Air Force Base in suburban Maryland during his 120 days of active duty training

Enforcement Unit

Committee Hears of Klan 'Wrecking Crew'

WASHINGTON (AP)—A self-described former member of a Ku Klux Klan "wrecking crew" told today of the beating of a white youth in rural Louisiana

The witness before the House Committee on Un-American Activities was John H Gipson of Slidell La about 30 miles from New Orleans

Gipson 29 testified that he joined a unit of the original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan because the way they explained it it did sound good" But he said he became disgusted after finding the Klan engaged in violence

Youth Whipped

Soon after he joined the Klan in 1963, Gipson testified, he was recruited for the "wrecking crew" or enforcement unit He testified he was told the unit was to take care of smart niggers" and others and that it might be necessary to murder somebody"

Gipson said the only act of violence in which he participated was the whipping of a white youth in the community Clarence O'Berry He did not give an exact date, but said the incident was planned after a klavern meeting

He said Oscar Anderson, whom he named as chief of the Klan bureau of investigations for the area, told the "wrecking crew" that O'Berry "drank and didn't take care of his family and he needed to be straightened out with a belt."

Love of Land Leads to Success

BY LESLIE YOUNGSTEADT
Post-Crescent Correspondent

CHILTON — A love for the land on which he was raised brought Gordon Aebischer, this year's recipient of the Chamber of Commerce's man of the year award, years of success in the retail seed business and enjoyment through his collection of Indian artifacts, mostly spotted in the soil by Aebischer as he worked from his tractor.

Aebischer still lives in the home built by his father in 1895, the same home in which he and his two daughters were born.

His land is part of the farm settled in 1845 by his grandfather, who came from Switzerland as a young man.

One Room School

Aebischer attended a one-room school house near his farm, and then traveled to Chilton to attend the public high school.

He recalls walking to school in all kinds of weather, although he usually drove to high school either by horse and buggy or sleigh during the winter.

Although his father was a cattleman, beginning what Aebischer believes to have been the first herd of purebred cattle in the county, in 1945 Aebischer gave up his milking cattle entirely to concentrate on the retail seed business he had begun in 1928.

He feels he has made his greatest contribution in the field of Reed Canary Grass seed harvesting and processing. He has been recognized for this contribution by nomination to the Wisconsin Master Farmers and "Who's Who In the Midwest."

Aebischer said the Reed Canary Grass is very tricky to harvest as it scatters its seed spontaneously upon ripening. His first crop was harvested by hand and eight men worked a week to obtain 50 pounds of seed

Later, with the help of a self propelled wagon which he designed in 1945, a high school boy could harvest more than this in one day of work.

He said the grass grows in swampy land but puts forth a dense network of roots so that there is a firm base for harvesting.

Although Aebischer is no longer in the retail end of seed sales as of 1965, he still hopes to grow and sell it on a wholesale level.

Indian Artifacts

His crop, he said, runs anywhere from 50,000 pounds to nothing. The past two crops have been total failures.

His collection of Indian artifacts contains what he believes to be the largest collection of fluted points in the area. He has eight or nine of these, 25 axes and about 150 flint points. All but two, those made of petrified wood and picked up in Utah, were found on his farm.

The ages of some of his points date back some 9 to 11 thousand years, Aebischer says. The age has been confirmed by Robert Hruska, anthropologist and assistant director for the Oshkosh museum, who has borrowed the collection for study.

Aebischer is a member of the Fox Valley Chapter of the Wisconsin Archaeological society.

His only disappointment with

Incumbent, Two Challengers File Papers for Nomination

Kroes, Kemps, Gillespie Seek Outagamie County Board Posts

Three candidates, including one incumbent, have filed nomination papers for election to the Outagamie County Board in April.

The incumbent is George Kroes, route 1, Kaukauna, town of Vandenbroek supervisor for the last nine years. He will seek election from Supervisory District 36, which includes the towns of Kaukauna and Vandenbroek and may receive competition from Supv. Urban J. Nelessen, route 2, Kaukauna, (Town of Kaukauna.)

Nelessen took out papers several weeks ago but has not filed.

Kroes, a lifelong resident of the Town of Vandenbroek, is a beef cattle farmer. He is chairman of the county board's agriculture and conservation committee and is on the executive committee.

Kroes, who also served eight years as side supervisor for the Town of Vandenbroek, is married and has two step-sons.

Also filing nomination papers with County Clerk Mollie Pfeffer were Theodore Kemps, 221 S. Lincoln St., Kimberly, for Supervisory District 31, Village of Kimberly, and Stanley A. Gillespie, 3023 N. Richmond St., who will oppose Supv. Thomas Thorson in District 27, one of two districts set up for the Town of Grand Chute. Thorson filed papers earlier for re-election.

Gillespie, an insurance agent and underwriter for Integrity Mutual Insurance Co. for the past 25 years, has lived in the Town of Grand Chute all his life. Before entering the insurance business, he farmed for 10 years and was in nursery and market gardening 15 years.

A former town official, Gillespie was justice of peace many years, served as assessor in 1941 and 1942 and was a member of the Grand Chute Volunteer Fire Department from 1938 through 1954.

He presently is chairman of the Outagamie County Republican statutory committee and was a 4-H leader from 1947 through 1959 Gillespie also was a director of High Cliff Memorial Park from 1954 through 1956.

Kemps, a retired Kimberly-Clark Corp. painter, has lived in the Kimberly area about 40 years.

He served several years on the volunteer fire department.

Kemps, who is the only one to file papers for District 31, is married and has five daughters and a son.

Weyauwega Man Forfeits $36 Bond on Drunkenness Count

WAUPACA — Aaron B. Claassen, 28, 309 E. Main St., Weyauwega, forfeited a $36 bond when he failed to appear Monday morning before Municipal Justice George Whalen to answer a charge of drunkenness.

Claassen was arrested by Weyauwega police Jan. 8, after they were called when a disturbance began at Radtke's Recreation.

Police took Claassen to a restaurant when he asked for coffee before returning to his home About an hour later, Claassen returned to Radtke's where he was arrested

Strike Ends at New London Trucking Firm

NEW LONDON — The 15 striking members of the Teamsters Union returned to work Monday at the Young Bros. Trucking Co.

A verbal agreement between the strikers and the firm has been reached, according to William Young, president of the firm, but a formal contract must still be drawn up and approved.

Supervisory personnel manned the jobs usually performed by the men who walked out Dec. 7. The strikers were all service station and garage men.

Building Hits $727,990 At Waupaca

New Bank, Factory Addition Were Year's Main Projects

WAUPACA — Building permits for new construction costing an estimated $727,990 were issued by Otto Kiel, building inspector, during 1965.

Kiel's annual report lists $482,000 in commercial construction and 12 new homes at a value of $188,500 Topping the commercial buildings are the new Farmers State Bank, $135,000; Knerr Pontiac, $65,000; Glenn's Super Market, $15,000 addition; Waupaca Foundry, $160,000; Harri Rest Home, $65,000 addition; Waupaca County Post, $25,500; Dr. Frank Hayes Clinic, $15,000, and Pepsi-Cola Bottling plant, $2,000.

The annual report also includes 10 new garages at $18,240, and $38,750 in remodeling and repairs.

Odd Fellows, Rebekahs Set Installation Rite

WAUPACA — Officers of the local lodge of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows and the Samaritan Rebekah lodge will be installed during ceremonies at 8 p.m. Thursday at the Odd Fellows hall.

Youth Parley Set on New Challenges

Outagamie County Students To Attend Oconto Conference

"Challenge of Change" will be the theme of the 1966 Northeastern Wisconsin Youth Conference, scheduled from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Jan. 29 at Oconto High School, Oconto.

Squad Car Vote Deadlocked In Seymour

Mayor Truyman Refuses to Cast Deciding Ballot

SEYMOUR — The city council Monday night was deadlocked on bids for its choice for a new city squad car and Mayor Ben Truyman, as he had previously warned members, refused to break the tie.

The squad car issue never reached a vote at the last council session and appears to be doomed for at least another week. The council is not scheduled to meet again until next Monday night when a conference with Architect Jeffry Nichols of Green Bay on the new municipal building is planned.

Mayor Truyman told members they were charged with spending the taxpayer's money to the best advantage. Referring to lengthy discussions over the squad car bids, he said they could not base their arguments on suppositions but rather accept the bids on face value.

Suggests Changes

He suggested that next time the city advertised for a car changes might be made in the type of vehicle requested.

Aldermen Elmer Seidl (2nd) and Earl Brick (List) voted for Seidl's motion to purchase a 1966 Ambassador V-8 but Alds. Robert Kailhofer (2nd) and Earl Eick (1st) voted against the measure.

The council authorized Clerk Josephine Marnocha to write the Seymour Scout Committee advising them the council opposed renting the Scout Building at Rock Ledge Park for commercial purposes. It was noted that no known set of regulations governs use of the building which is owned and maintained by the city as a community center.

Scout Organization

The committee of Boy and Girl Scout organization representatives is given jurisdiction over renting the premises. The council felt that as long as it remained a community building no formal regulations were needed.

Mayor Truyman, in response to a letter from a committee of the Seymour Woman's Club, indicated a basement meeting room was being planned in the new proposed municipal building.

The club told the council its need for a permanent meeting place and offfered help as a community service organization in providing kitchen facilities for it Committee members are Mrs. Carl Tickler, chairman, Mrs. Maynard Sherman and Mrs. Carlton Stritzel.

Rink Opened

Earl Gosse, public works superintendent, reported that the new skating rink was opened this week. It is lighted for night skating and also has a heated shelter house Eldridge Boyden has been hired as the city's skating rink supervisor

The council approved a bartender license for Gerald Matuszak, 512 Seymour St

Woman Charged With Issuing 3 Bad Checks

WAUPACA — Carol J Peterson, 23, route 2, Ogdensburg, was bound over to Waupaca County Court on charges of issuing worthless checks, Monday when she appeared before Municipal Justice George Whalen

She was released after providing $500 bail

The Ogdensburg woman was arrested by the sheriff's department for issuing a check for $10.30 Sept 27 to Fred Birkholtz, Pine Tree Tavern, Town of Lebanon, a second count of issuing a check for $12.50 on Sept. 17 to Karen Fenne Town of Lebanon and a third count of writing a check to her landlord Howard Creamer, route 2, Ogdensburg for $35.

UW Offers Phone Course To Nurses

New London Hospital Has Hookup to Madison

NEW LONDON — Nurses here may participate in a University of Wisconsin telephone course beginning in February, the local chapter of Catholic Nurses was informed Wednesday.

Community Hospital currently has a telephone hookup with a number of other hospitals in the state and the University of Wisconsin for staff doctors. The program each Tuesday morning consists of a lecture period and question and answer session.

Mrs. Herman Platte reported on the Region Four convention of Catholic Nurses at LaCrosse.

The next meeting of the chapter will be 8 p.m. Feb. 2 at Community Hospital. A Capuchin priest will speak.

Accomplishments and services performed during 1965 by the group including staffing of the mentally retarded day camp for Waupaca County; volunteer nursing work and the sponsoring of an adoration program in the hospital chapel on the second Tuesday of each month.

New London Asks School Lunch Vote

Spring Referendum to Decide Fate of Plan for Hot Meals

NEW LONDON — A referendum to decide the fate of a plan to finance a school lunch program will be voted on at the spring election, the board of education decided Monday.

If electors decide in April they want the program, it would begin with the fall school term.

The board also approved hiring a consulting firm to study, draw plans and make cost estimates on the lunch program. This step is recommended by the State Department of Public Instruction.

One of Five

New London is one of only five school districts in the state that lacks hot lunch facilities. Appleton is the only other community in the Fox Valley area that does not have it.

Bids on phase three of a four-part electrical renovation program for the Washington High School building will be opened Feb. 14.

Work on phase three will consist of a complete rewiring of the building and installation of new light fixtures. Phase one and two consisted of preparatory work leading to phase three Previous work consisted of installing an underground primary feeder cable, installation of a major panel board and the installation of secondary panel boards throughout the building.

Vote Is Delayed

Action on joining a vocational educational district was delayed by the board. The Hortonville district has joined the Appleton area school which would be the closest one to the New London district under present plans.

The Hortonville action would make the vocational district contiguous to New London.

Approval was given to the administration to seek quotations on one new 66-passenger bus and a used 73-passenger bus. They will replace older models for the 1966-7 school term.

Feb. 18 is the fling date for persons wishing to run for the board of education. Letters of intent to seek office must be filed with the superintendent's office by then.

License of Manawa Youth Is Suspended For Leaving Accident

WAUPACA — Godwin R. Voss, 16, route 1, Manawa, had his driver's license suspended for 60 days and paid costs Monday when he appeared before Municipal Justice George Whalen and pleaded guilty of leaving the scene of an accident.

Voss was arrested by Manawa police after the car he was driving struck a parked car owned by Louis Dalson, Weyauwega, Jan. 7 in Manawa.

Witnesses gave the license number to police. Damages to the Dalson car were estimated at $100.

Swine Barn Burns Near Clintonville

CLINTONVILLE — Volunteer rural firemen contained a fire to a single story swine barn, but one of the pigs it housed, perished on the Henry Knitt farm in the Town of Larrabee northwest of here about 10:15 a.m. Monday.

The fire appeared to have started near a stove in the building.

No estimate of damage to the long, one-story frame building was available.

Patronage Power Shifts to Nelson

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

MADISON — The dismissal of two members of the federal government's agricultural stabilization and conservation committee (ASC) for Wisconsin is a demonstration that the patronage power in Wisconsin Democratic politics has shifted to Sen Gaylord Nelson and his intra-party organization.

Informed Democrats report that the appointments of Martin Thorson of Iola, Waupaca County, and William Tschudy of Monroe, Green County, to the committee are intended in part as a showing to the party that the patronage power of Lt Gov Patrick J Lucey, the former party chairman of the state, has vanished.

Thorson and Tschudy were chosen by Nelson, with the collaboration of National Committeeman David Carley and the concurrence of Sen William Proxmire, to replace two other men who were originally chosen by Lucey and were regarded as supporters of Lucey's bid for the governorship this year.

Displaced Officials

The displaced officials are Ralph Gehring of Shiocton, Outagamie County, and John Hansen of Franksville, Racine County

The ASC appointments have traditionally been regarded as political patronage and most of the officials who have had the posts in the past have known that their tenure is doubtful The appointments are made on an annual basis by the secretary of agriculture But this year Secretary Orville Freeman reappointed LeLand Mulder of LaCrosse County, the chairman of the state committee, while notifying Gehring and Hanson that he had decided not to reappoint them

Because Mulder is regarded as a friend of Nelson, the incident is being interpreted by Democrats as another sign of the intra-party struggle between Lucey and Nelson that has continued since Lucey was chairman and failed to get along with Nelson who was then occupying the governor's office

Because Nelson's friend Carley is a rival of Lucey for the party gubernatorial nomination this year, the affair is also regarded as an early test of power within the party of the lieutenant governor and the national committeeman, although the principals in the struggle have resolutely refused public comment about their roles

The offices involved in the dispute are also highly desirable among Democrats with rural backgrounds Ostensibly they are part-time, but the per diem arrangements are such that a member of the state committee can claim up to $11,000 a year if he desires to approach full-time effort

Generous expense allowances, equivalent to "portal to portal" compensation, also make the appointments attractive. The ASC state offices are in Madison, and members of the state committee are entitled to collect travel reimbursement from their homes to the headquarters There are also subsidiary patronage benefits, as in some control over the appointment of field men and in the staffing of the county offices of the organization, party informants noted

A vital consideration to the state party leaders is the potential influence of the organization in shaping the views of friendly farmers who are leaders in the rural precincts.

Lucey arranged the appointments of Hansen and Gehring during the administration of the late President John Kennedy. The replacement of the men is the first important showing of a loss of influence by the Wisconsin Kennedy forces in Washington since the succession of President Lyndon Johnson

Party men will also speculate that the patronage reshuffle may involve the interests of Vice President Hubert Humphrey, who counts Secretary Freeman, Sen Nelson and Carley as faithful friends and supporters.

Soviets Move To Realism In Economics

Stalin Era Created Imbalance Between Industry, Farming

By HENRY S. BRADSHER

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union has taken a major step toward economic realism

Budget and development plans for 1966 adopted by the Supreme Soviet last week indicate an intention to correct an imbalance created in the Stalin era between industry and agriculture

The announced plans suggest that the U S S R hopes to be able to concentrate on internal development instead of having to turn its major attention to the danger of a new world war.

Despite a hard-sounding line on Viet Nam and other East-West questions, new budget increases in projected military spending are regarded as only in proportion to the increase in total spending

Recovery Year

An apparent slowdown in the rate of growth of the Soviet economy does not mean it is failing to develop rapidly It has become so big that it is more difficult to increase the growth rate The planned rate for 1966 will be 6 7 per cent, a drop from a claimed rate of 8 5 per cent this year and the lowest since the 1946 postwar recovery year.

In 1958, for example, production of five million tons more steel meant a 9 per cent increase In 1966 it would take more than eight million additional tons to match that growth percentage

An attack on chronic agricultural problems also is a factor in slowing down the over-all rate of growth Soviet planners, charting rapid development for agriculture, know to their sorrow that farming in the U S S R does not lend itself to accurate planning

Crop failures in 1963 and again this year forced the Soviet Union to buy wheat abroad Meat and dairy products remain in short supply

5-Year Plan

In March, the leadership decided to invest 41 billion rubles in agriculture n the 1966-70 five-year plan This is as much as was invested in the previous 19 years

Stalin left agriculture to stagnate — and thus eventually failed to feed an expanding population adequately — because he demanded concentration on heavy industry His industrialization was relatively simple The U S S R would produce "the means of production" such as steel and other heavy industrail goods, and a limited range of goods for the consumer, such as the same kind of blue underwear for all Soviet men, for example

But it became difficult to control every nut and bolt from a centralized Moscow ministry

Now an effort at limited decentralization is in progress, involving more local initiative in enterprises and rewards for producing goods which sell, rather than meeting command quotas It means, simply, the profit system

Distorted Economy

There appears to be an effort to bring rational thought to a distorted internal economy The Soviet press in recent months has been full of horror stories about inefficient production, failure to utilize productive resources, inability to get new plants producing and general dragging of feet

More consumer goods are promised, but this will come slowly

Some new industrial equipment eventually will benefit the consumer Light industry construction is supposed to rise 22 per cent, while industrial investment over-all is up only 5 2 per cent This suggests a slow shift toward giving the Soviet people a larger share of what they produce, along with a better diet.

Fairchild Says Supreme Court Hears 'Dissatisfied Customer'

Justice Speaks At Chilton C of C Annual Dinner

CHILTON — "A case reaches the State Supreme Court because of a dissatisfied customer" said Supreme Court Justice Thomas E Fairchild, at the Chamber of Commerce annual banquet here Monday

In explaining the workings of the Supreme Court, he said the party seeking redress must convince the justices that the trial judge made an error in the legal principles of the case

The court does not dispute the verdict of a jury

Fairchild explained that although a small percentage of cases dealt with matters of constitutionality, many of the 250 to 300 cases heard each year concern damages from personal injuries and property boundaries

Areas Not Covered

In these areas, Fairchild said, the courts decide the cases by following precedent set by past court decisions in similar cases These precedents make up what is known as common law

Although the courts are not quick to change principles of common law, when it is apparent that they are no longer serving the cause of justice, changes are made, Fairchild noted

He said an example may be seen in the former common law doctrine which held that a person injured by the fault of a city employe could not sue the city

Person Bears Burden

If the employe could not be identified or was not financially responsible, the injured person was required to bear his burden alone, Fairchild pointed out

The rule had been criticized for many years, and several years ago the Wisconsin Supreme Court and courts in nine other states decided to get rid of it, he added

Besides changing common law rulings, courts may also reinterpret the provisions made in the Constitution to hand down new court decisions Fairchild noted

He said an example of this is the reinterpretation of the 14th amendment concerning "equal protection of the laws" which led to the U S Supreme Court decision regarding school segregation

1963 Ruling

The 1963 ruling stating that any person charged with a criminal offense is entitled to counsel and that the court must provide him with counsel if he cannot afford to hire one, is an example of reinterpretation of the clause concerning "due process of law" in the same amendment, said Fairchild

A recent reinterpretation led to the decision that district attorneys may no longer issue warrants This required a change in Wisconsin legal procedure, he said

A highlight of the 18th annual chamber dinner meeting came when Gordon Aebischer was honored as Chilton's "Man of the Year" The plaque was presented in behalf of the chamber by Atty Robert Lutz, a past chamber president

Retiring Secretary Honored

Last year's president, Arthur Hugo honored retiring secretary, F J Flanagan with a plaque for years of service not only to the Chamber, but to the whole city of Chilton".

In tracing chamber accomplishments of the past year Hugo listed the annual scholarship dinner, the purchase of three new welcome signs by the city with chamber assistance; the purchase of two acres of land south of Chilton for establishment of the Calumet County Historical Society's museum, and plans for a new city brochure

Other highlights of the year, Hugo said, included the investigation of a criteria for the new northeastern University of Wisconsin to be established in the Fox Valley area four sales promotions planned by the retail committee, the annual children's Christmas party, the Christmas home decoration contest, the raft contest, the antique car rally, and continuation of the Welcome Wagon program

Board Elects Berg County Treasurer

Grand Chute Man Selected on 5th Ballot to Succeed R. A. Bentz

Peter J. Berg, 38, Town of Grand Chute treasurer since 1955, this morning was sworn in as the new Outagamie County treasurer to fill the unexpired term of Raymond A Bentz who died Dec 16.

Berg, who lives at 3221 N Ballard Road, was elected by board members on the fifth ballot at 1 15 a m

He and Clarence H Wundrow, route 4, clerk of the Town of Buchanan, were neck and neck through all five ballots. Berg had 28 votes and Wundrow 24 on the final ballot. Some 55 votes were cast on each ballot

The new treasurer sworn in by County Clerk Mollie E Pfeffer immediately after the election probably will assume his duties Wednesday morning, according to County Board Chairman Alvin Fulcer.

Office Manager

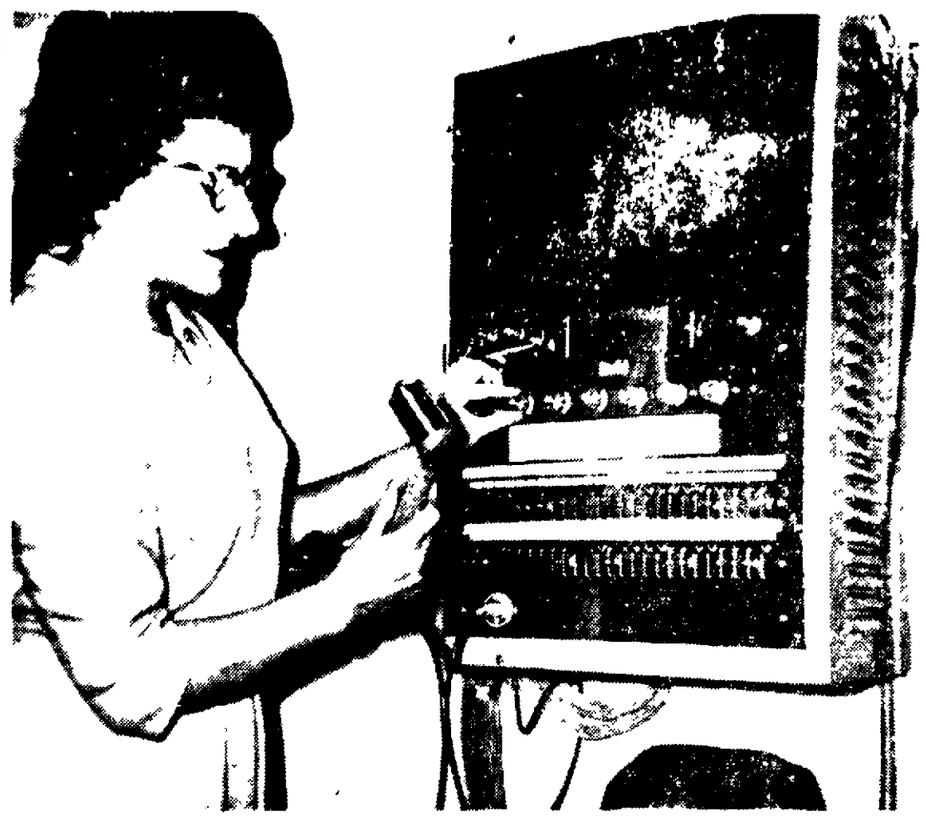
Berg is office manager and salesman at Western Elevator Co. where he has worked the past 19 years He has held the present position eight years.

A life-long resident of Grand Chute, Berg graduated from high school in 1945 He served in the Army from 1952 to 1954 having been stationed at Fort Jackson, S.C.

He has been on the Grand Chute fire department ten years

Civic activities include membership in the Catholic Order of Foresters, of which he is a trustee, Catholic War Veterans, and Catholic Club Association of which he has served on the board of directors for the last two years

He and his wife, Anita, have a son, Daniel, 7, and a daughter, Christine, 10.



Mrs. Edward Michels, Brillion public school secretary, adjusts the control board of the new public address system recently installed at the school. The new system, which cost $690, replaces one that functioned poorly. (Coenen Photo)

CAP Squadron Offers Free Aviation Classes

Flight Proficiency Ground School Teaches Navigation, Meteorology, Flying Skills

A free course in navigation, meteorology and other flying skills will be offered by the Civil Air Patrol for all those interested in, or active in aviation Classes will be held each Tuesday evening from 7 30 to 9 p.m at the Wilson Junior High School, starting today

The CAP Flight Proficiency Ground School is sponsored by the Fox Cities Composite Squadron as a community service.

The courses offered will cover all the material needed by a private pilot to pass his FAA written examination plus a number of specialized subjects. Primarily the course is intended for current private pilots who wish to update their knowledge, improve their proficiency in the subjects taught, or just review, Foundation for the course will be the Sanderson Films, Inc training program

The Sanderson training program covers the following subjects preflight facts navigation, meterology, and federal aviation regulations In addition films will cover radio navigation, emergency procedures and the flight computer There will be no charge for those who wish to attend the course, but text books will be available at cost through Civil Air Patrol channels

In addition to the Sanderson Films the CAP will use a number of Air Force Training films. The Squadron will draw upon its own personnel for instructors The course is not an accredited ground school but rather supplements and expands upon that training that the pilot or student has already taken It will be simple enough for the novice to understand

GREEN BAY — A $3 2 million addition to Green Bay's public water facilities was approved by the Wisconsin Public Service Commission Monday

Green Bay's major water source is Lake Michigan and $1.4 million of the project expenditure is for the construction of a larger filtered water transmission main

The $4 3 million expansion program will boost the utility's present 23 million gallon daily capacity to 38 m.g.d. to meet peak daily water demands which have increased 143 per cent since the city started getting its water supply from Lake Michigan in 1957.

The council has approved the program.

Under the program, the city will expand its intake, pumping, transmission, filtering and distribution facilities

The total program will cost an estimated $4 million, but the utility plans to delay several of the projects, reducing initial spending to $3 million

The proposed bond issue will finance a new pipeline between Green Bay and the filtration plant at Sugar Bush, midway between the city and Lake Michigan

Air Wisconsin Recognized by National Group

Air Wisconsin, Appleton, has recently been accepted by the National Air Carrier Service, Preston Wilbourne traffic manager, announced Monday

Although the normal waiting period for this appointment is generally three to five years, the Appleton-based airline, which began operations four months ago is already recognized as a commercial carrier

Wilbourne said he thought the quick acceptance came because of the high standards of safety practiced by the airline the fact they use a pilot and copilot and they subscribe to Flight Safety — a program in which high grade professional pilots are hired to check-ride the airline crew periodically

Menasha Town Has Judge Cane Disqualified

MENASHA — Circuit Judge Arnold Cane has been disqualified by [illegible] in the court mandamus served against the Town of Menasha by the city.

Everett Stecker, town attorney, said a writ of prejudice was served against Judge Cane because he is a resident of Menasha Stecker said the move was "without animosity."

Judge A W Parnell will sit on the bench until the writ, which asks that three town representatives be appointed to an extra territorial zoning board, is approved or denied, Stecker said

The suit stems from the city's attempt to exercise its extra-territorial rezoning jurisdiction in the Town of Menasha

Agreement, Then Death

The sudden death of Prime Minister Shastri of India only hours after he had signed a nine-point declaration to lessen tensions between his country and Pakistan leaves the question up in the air whether the Indian government will now honor that agreement

Soviet Premier Kosygin had worked far into Sunday night to persuade Shastri and Pakistani President Ayub Khan to end their discussions in the Russian city of Tashkent on a constructive note. And while he could not get them to agree on any solution to the basic problem of the future of Kashmir, the Soviet premier certainly did win a propaganda victory. Among other things the leaders of the two nations agreed to withdraw their troops to positions held before the current Kashmir fighting broke out in August, and to resume diplomatic relations.

Given the long-standing emotional hatreds of the two nations the Tashkent Declaration was as much if not more than was hoped for when the discussions began. It might even provide some basis for a long-range solution to the Kashmir problem after tempers have been given several years to cool.

But Shastri's death of a heart attack was tragic not only for the declaration. it is much more tragic to India which now finds itself deprived by sudden death of its second national leader in a space of a few years.

After the nation's mourning for Shastri is over, India will then have to decide if it will honor the agreements to which Shastri set his hand.

New Offensive in Viet Nam

The new American offensive in Viet Nam gives evidence of a new direction in the war. While we are still refraining from bombing raids in North Viet Nam as the various peace discussions go on behind the scenes, we are pushing much harder and perhaps more effectively on the ground.

"Operation Crimp" is composed entirely of American, Australian and New Zealand forces. In fact the South Vietnamese were not even told about the plan in advance. Presumably this was to keep the knowledge from the Viet Cong rather than to show any lack of confidence in the military forces of the country we are supposed to be aiding. But it is one more indication that the South Vietnamese are not the ones who must eventually win this war.

The extent of Viet Cong control or at least of Viet Cong infiltration is considerably more than most Americans have understood The current offensive is designed to try to trap major Viet Cong forces in the Iron Triangle, only 20 miles from Saigon. Information in recent weeks from Viet Nam has pointed out that, while the South Vietnamese and Americans control the larger cities, the jungle and many of the mountain areas are controlled by the Viet Cong. The fortified hamlet plan which the United States worked so hard to develop over several years apparently has not been a success. And unless the Viet Cong can be defeated and drastically so in the jungle, the war could drag on with increasing frustration on our part.

As some critics have complained, the jungle war unaccompanied by an all-out effort against the sources of supply in North Viet Nam and the supply routes through Cambodia and Laos is like fighting with one arm tied behind the back. Obviously our bombing moratorium is aimed at convincing any doubters in North Viet Nam that we do want peace while the offensive in the jungle is to emphasize our ability to win on the ground. Whether the strategy will work can only be shown by results But if it does not bring about negotiations or some other signs of willingness to consider peace talks, the bombing must be stepped - up and the immune areas of Cambodia assaulted whatever the outcries. There is a delicate area of diplomacy at this stage which one way or another could mean many American lives.

The addition of Australian and New Zealand troops is encouraging but we must hope for more units of Asiatics as well. There are some Koreans in Viet Nam and the new president of the Philippines has hinted about sending Filipinos. Since the Vietnamese war could easily spread into open fighting between Thailand and Cambodia and stepped-up action in Laos, the commitment of free Asian nations is important.

Martians Again

Those of us who like to believe that there are Martians swooping around in space have received a boost once more from a scientist.

Harvard astronomer Carl Sagan has been studying both the pictures taken of Mars by Mariner 4 last summer before it crashed on the planet and those transmitted back to earth by the Nimbus and Tiros weather satellites. The latter pictures are of Earth and are both closer and clearer than those of Mars. But Sagan says he can detect not one real sign of life on Earth from the photographs despite the thousands of miles of highways, railroads, skyscrapers, rivers and bridges which are in the areas photographed.

Obviously if that can be true about the Earth, then the failure of the Mariner photographs to show anything indicating life on Mars doesn't really mean anything at all.

If such news gets around there should be another rash of sightings of flying saucers and small people with antennas wandering around the fields. It gives us something else to think about in 1966.

Full Employment Nearly Here

The rate of unemployment in this country declined to 4.1 per cent of the labor force in mid-December, the lowest level in nearly nine years, and government experts forecast it will drop below 4 per cent during the first quarter of 1966. Workers in non - farm jobs increased during the month, defying the normal trend, and this increase more than offset the seasonal drop in farm employment.

Increased administration concern is reported from Washington over the effect of the tightening labor market on the nation's economy Labor Secretary Wirtz has called conferences with labor and management leaders in vital industries to discuss any manpower shortages that might hamper the Viet Nam war effort.

The same concern has been uttered by industrial leaders in the Fox River Valley for some months now Since industry in this area employs a high percentage of skilled labor the pressure of practically full employment began to be felt here some time ago

There is no doubt that the increasing manpower requirements of the Vietnamese War are a potent factor in the employment picture, and the probability that these requirements will increase in the not too distant future only aggravates the picture. Any future call-up of reserve or guard forces would complicate local industries' personnel problems considerably.

This is another of the basic economic facts of life which the Johnson Administration must take into account since it has taken over the responsibility for managing the American economy. A sustained period of prosperity such as we are currently enjoying reduces unemployment, and this in turn puts more pressure on increases in wages.

But the Administration so far has closed its eyes to rising wages as an inflationary pressure It has used strong-arm methods to crack down on companies raising prices, but the same tactics have not been employed against labor This is certainly understandable in an election year.

But this is a problem which must be looked squarely in the eye in 1966. Political leaders have long inveighed against unemployment, but now that it is practically disappearing we are faced with a problem of another sort and one which is also serious.

Looking Backward

Novel Ship-Canal Discussed

100 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for Jan 15 1866

A new plan for constructing a ship-canal around Niagara Falls so as to avoid the expense of locks, is being discussed.

The salient characteristics of this novel plan appear in the following remarks taken from a report of a committee made Jan 9 to the Detroit Board of Trade

The invention contemplates such a system of canal structure that no locks are required and commerce is conducted passing water from one level to another, as ordinarily used in canal navigation, thus lessening the first cost of construction and adapting them to any desirable depth of water and profitable navigation.

In passing ships around Niagara Falls where the system seems applicable a canal is built 100 feet wide, and of such a depth as to pass vessels drawing 14 feet beginning at Schlosser about three miles above the cataract, extending a distance of six miles to the brow of the hill at Lewiston, where ships are raised out of the canal into iron tanks filled with water in which, while floating, they are passed on inclined planes, so constructed that one vessel ascends as the other decends from the level of the water above the falls to that of Lake Ontario a few miles and with entire safety to ship and cargo.

The operation is simple, and in the judgement of your committee entirely feasible"

Some of the plans were presented to the Board by H H Day the inventor

25 YEARS AGO

Tuesday, Jan. 7, 1941

Henry Krause Jr. was elected clerk of the Seymour Congregation Church with other elected officers including Mrs F. E Doppins financial secretary, Mrs Mae Trauffer, treasurer and Sunday School superintendant Mrs. Julius Damon, deaconess; Mrs Hattie Graham trustee; Mrs. Anna Shepard, trustee and delegate

Gov. Julius P Heil took the oath of office that morning at the inaugural ceremonies held in the state Capitol.

Ray Mauire, succeeding Harry Van Himbergen Sr., took over his work that night as a member of the Kimberly Community Band Commission. Van Himbergen was village treasurer

New officers that year in Calumet County included Main Niles Jr., clerk of courts; Earl A Schwabe, sheriff and Dr John A Knauf, area county coroner. They took their oath of office the previous afternoon

10 YEARS AGO

Tuesday, Jan. 10, 1956.

Outagamie County Conservation Club officers elected for 1956 included Leonard Buchman, Hortonia, president, Clem McHugh, Appleton, vice president, Les Engleman, Appleton, treasurer and Henry Lemmer, Appleton, secretary.

Louis Vogt and Charles Klann, both of route 2, Seymour, started a 10-pound bobcat hunt in the hills of Seymour that week. They trapped the animal near their farms in Seymour's shooting grounds were left scratching.

Honor came to a Manawa National Guard man and the state water safety unit Dr Robert Thompson of Manawa was presented with the President's Marksmanship Award for being the best National Guard marksman in the United States In matches completed the previous fall, Capt. Thompson made the official score of 143 points out of a possible 150 Presentation of the award was made by Col. Dan Hardt, Appleton, chief of staff, 32nd Division

LAUNCHING

In Perspective

Congress Has Vital Role to Perform At This Session in Number of Areas

BY MAX FREEDMAN

The new session of Congress will have many ways to prove that it is an important branch of government and not a mere echo of the White House.

Freedman

The biggest domestic issue is the danger of an overheated economy leading to inflation. Tax revenues as a result of higher wages and rising profits may result in a smaller deficit at the end of the year than the President now plans. Even under the best conditions, however, the danger will still be present.

Simple equity demands that Congress be as much concerned with wage increases as with price stability. It cannot hope to retain the respect of the country if it sits in angry judgment on profits while turning a blind eye on wages.

The war in Viet Nam will produce higher profits in many industries This in turn will lead the trade unions to ask for wage increases. No fixed rule, in the absence of legislation controlling both wages and prices, can govern so many diverse situations. It should be possible, however, to impose special taxes to prevent unseemly or exorbitant profits directly out of the war. Profiteering from the war in Viet Nam is repugnant to the American conscience and Congress should close any tax loopholes that make profiteering possible.

NEED SOME RESTRAINT

Congress should not be afraid of estranging public opinion by the most vigorous measures in this field Moreover, trade unions will be less extreme in their demands if they have visible proof that corporations have also been placed under public restraint. Fair play and equity will carry us a long way towards a national policy on prices and wages if these two principles are impartially enforced.

With employment running at record figures, the time could not be more convenient for a long and critical look at the antipoverty program. One can criticize this program now without being accused of being indifferent to the suffering of the unfortunate and the unemployed Congress supported this program with enthusiasm but with reservations. The intervening months have justified the reservations and exposed weaknesses in concept and in administration, while leaving the essential purposes of the antipoverty program beyond challenge.

The administration has always said that it is ready to justify every dollar spent on the program, not by loose standards of social benevolence, but by the much harder standards imposed by the national interest in a time of huge deficit spending Congress should hold the administration to that pledge and evaluate the poverty program without illusion and without sentiment.

The members of Congress joined the Executive Branch in making possible the extensive tariff negotiations as part of the Kennedy Round of reciprocal reductions. Those negotiations are now in the doldrums. It would strengthen the position of the American negotiations if leading members of the House and Senate, whose views on economic matters are entitled to respect, reaffirmed their support of our commitment to liberate world trade to the maximum extent from the restraints of tariffs and quotas and exchange controls.

THEN THERE'S WAR

Inevitably the Viet Nam war will dominate the debate on foreign policy. That debate should not be a post-mortem, a mere inventory of past mistakes. It must grapple with the present crisis. On no easier terms can it hope to provide any guidance for the President. But Congress should debate all the issues sharply and resolutely. It is an insult to Congress to suggest that even the most extensive debate on Viet Nam is weakening the war effort or helping the enemy Congress has its own constitutional duties to discharge and it should not hesitate to meet them, even though it is easier to support the war-whoopers without question and without thought

Last year Congress broke many records in the volume and variety of legislation which it passed. It can usefully improve some of that legislation now in the light of second thoughts And it can enhance its own power for wise action by being more independent in its thinking and less fearful of crossing the President He can be trusted to defend his own powers and prerogatives with every weapon at his disposal. Now let Congress rouse itself to defend its place in the American system with equal skill and determination

Wisconsin Report

Lucey-Carley Battle Bound to be Related to Humphrey - Kennedy

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — A year and a half ago this reporter sat in a stuffy and tiny hotel room at Atlantic City and dispatched to Wisconsin a report on the state's delegation to the crowded Democratic national convention speculating about the Democratic presidential contest in 1972.

Wyngaard

No doubt some editors regarded that story as "far out," in the contemporary jargon, as indubitably it was. But it appeared justified at the time because of the manifestations of long-range thinking on the part of the Wisconsin politicians on the scene. There were those already hoping for the opportunity to get on the presidential bandwagon of young Robert Kennedy, the murdered President's brother, who had not yet been elected U.S. Senator for New York. There were also, as always, a substantial number of Wisconsin members of the Hubert Humphrey fan club. Off went the dispatch, misgivings notwithstanding. A little later Kennedy won in New York, with nearly universal realization that he had taken a great step forward in his career. In the fall Sen. Humphrey was elected to the vice presidency, and he was also on his way, it appeared.

There is some considerable satisfaction, it may be acknowledged, in the circumstance that the Washington reporters employed to cover the national political scene are now busily speculating about the 1972 Democratic nomination as top rank news material, and as a part of the equation, the apparent decline in the popularity rating of the vice president in relation to the far-off but expected bout with Sen. Kennedy.

The situation probably has more immediate interest here in Wisconsin than in any other states except possibly Minnesota, Massachusetts and New York, because of the peculiar lineup of the principal Wisconsin Democratic leaders.

The traces of the 1960 presidential delegate competition here between the late Mr. Kennedy and former Sen. Humphrey are everywhere evident. One of the common and perhaps inevitable descriptions of the forthcoming Lucey-Carley contest for the 1966 Wisconsin gubernatorial nomination, for example, pictures it as a kind of test of the Kennedy and Humphrey followings, respectively. That is an over-simplification, as are most such descriptions in politics, but it will persevere, nevertheless. There is enough truth in it to make it difficult to ignore.

Vice President Humphrey, moreoever, has for years enjoyed a large and enthusiastic following in this state. He was once known, among affectionate Wisconsin party admirers, as the third senator from Wisconsin, during the years of Republican possession of the two Wisconsin seats in the U.S. Senate.

THE SITUATION

Yet there are those pro-Humphrey leaders in Wisconsin who privately concur with the polls recently published and the worries of the vice president's staff in Washington about his current position as a rival of Sen. Kennedy.

Sen. Kennedy has one of the most conspicuous platforms in the country. His attitudes and his activities are subject to no will except his own. Vice President Humphrey is shackled in the lonely and dependent No. 2 office in Washington where it has become evident to the country, and to his friends, that the room for maneuvering permitted by President Johnson is even less than is normally expected For those in Wisconsin who know him well, the image of a muted, tamed and hesitant Humphrey is strange and almost unbelievable. Yet it exists, and there is little they can do about it except to regret his probable discomfiture.

Questions I Hope to Have Answered Some Day:

Why does a hosband complain bitterly if his wife is the least bit slovenly on occasion, but if he is left alone in the house for two days will turn every room into a rubbish dump?

How can we logically ask for a weaker government that will "step up" on activities we deem injurious to our self-interest, while at the same time ask for a stronger government that will clamp down on other elements in society whose demands we find unreasonable?

Why do we continue to build more and more expressways — which are usually overcrowded by the time they are completed — instead of spending some of that money to devise solutions for the transportation problem that gets worse every year?

Who makes up all those corny jokes?

How many persons who talk glibly and grandly about the course of foreign affairs would feel lost in the name of their congressman or state representative?

Why is the phrase, "to put it briefly," always the mark of a long-winded speaker who has already put it too lengthily?

Why don't more employers recognize the psychological truth that to grant an employe a small raise cheerfully and promptly wins twice as much loyalty and efficiency as granting him a larger raise slowly and grudgingly?

Why does seersucker look so attractive on women and so awful on men?

When people make the categorical statement, "You'll always have wars until human nature changes," why are they privately exempting their own nature from this indictment?

Why is there something about four or five boys riding around in an automobile that looks delinquent even when they aren't doing anything wrong?

What is the good of high-fidelity equipment for low-fidelity music?

Why should a well-made female leg be considered such an object of overpowering sexual attractiveness when a leg is just a leg, and bears about as little relationship to the desirability of the woman as a chrome bumper does to the handling quality of a car?

When will the advocates of a "dog eat dog" philosophy begin to treat people as well as they treat their dogs?

Has anyone else ever noted that the men we call idealistic usually have longish necks while more practical men are generally short of neck?

'Leak in Procedure at County Level'

Judge Claims Wisconsin Courts Too Liberal in Giving Divorces

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — County courts in Wisconsin may be granting divorces too easily, Charles E Kading, judge of branch one of the Jefferson County Court told the state Advisory Council for Home and Family Monday.

"The Supreme Court and the Legislature have minced no words in expressing their concern for home and family," Judge Kading said "If there is a leak in the divorce procedure in Wisconsin, it is at the county court level "

Judge Kading asked that a study be made by a responsible state agency of the possible tendency of county courts in Wisconsin to comply with the letters of the law in divorce proceedings, but to ignore the law's spirit

This tendency, he said, is that of permissiveness, which he said leads to the granting of divorces solely upon the request and consent of the two involved parties, and without even an effort in many cases to prove that there are legal reasons to validate the action.

Going Too Far

The tendency is going so far, Judge Kading charged, that there are now efforts to obtain annulments solely to allow the contesting parties to remarry without being subject to the compulsory one-year waiting period required under Wisconsin divorce law.

"There have been cases where I have been asked to set aside marriages legally performed in Illinois between minors with parental consent on the basis that they could not have been legally married in Wisconsin," Judge Kading said.

Often there are children involved in such cases and their interest cannot be served by such actions, he said.

Lawyers representing married persons in divorce proceedings often make no effort to prove that they have a case under the law, the judge said, it has been necessary to direct experienced trial lawyers to return to his court at a future date to show cause for such proceedings after a first hearing, he added

Question of Morality

"It is above all a question of the morality, ethics and dignity of the court," he said

Circuit Court Judge Robert H Gollmar of Baraboo, a member of the council, suggested that in many cases the lack of testimony other than formal presentation of a case in court reflects the adequate pre-court measures that are taken in family court matters These efforts at reconciliation and settlement "weed out" all but the serious cases from ever reaching the courtroom stage, he said

Family court commissioner John R Cashman of Manitowoc said that, "I have a very deep suspicion that at the county court level there is a lack of uniformity throughout the state in divorce procedures that cannot be permitted under the law "

Cashman added, however, that as a court commissioner and as a member of the council he would have reservations in attempting to direct county judges on proper methods of performing their jobs

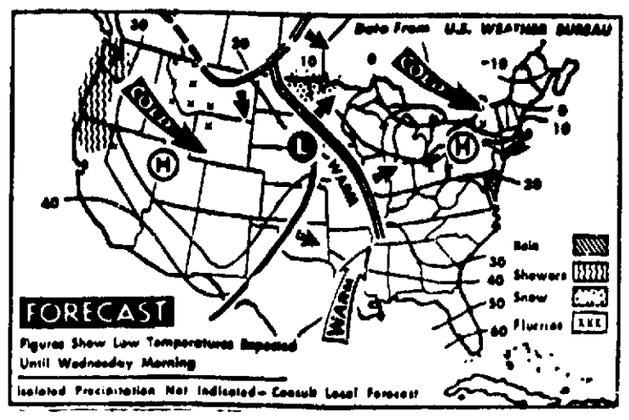
Fifth Year on Bench

Kading, entering his fifth year as county judge, says he handles about 95 per cent of the divorce proceedings in Jefferson county.

The council voted to recommend to Judge John Martin, state court administrator, and Chief Justice George Currie of the Supreme Court, directors of the State Judicial Conference, that the association study the whole area of family law, and added that the council was willing to cooperate in any way possible in the study.

The group also went on record as opposing an Assembly bill which joins the procedures of serving summons and complaint notices in divorce cases. The bill, said Judge Gollmar, constitutes a return to the divorce laws of 20 years ago

The group also re-elected as officers for the coming year Sen Allen J Busby, Milwaukee, chairman; Judge Robert W Hansen, Milwaukee, vice - chairman, Assemblyman Frank Nikolay, 2nd vice chairman; John R Devitt, Milwaukee, secretary, and Mrs Loretta M Ropella, Milwaukee, assistant secretary



Snow Is Expected Tonight in the lower Lakes, the northern Rockies and the northern Plains and the upper Mississippi valley. CIA Chief Scheduled for Questioning

pending a reply from the North Vienamese capital

At least a dozen Communist and non-Communist countries have both U S and North Vietnamese diplomats accredited at their capitals While Moyers declined to hint at the site of the contact, he lifted the administration's secrecy on its diplomatic efforts slightly when asked about the statement of three Americans just returned from an unauthorized trip to Hanoi

The White House spokesman said the three — Yale Professor Staughton Lynd and two others — were "incompletely informed" in asserting that there had been no direct U S government contact with Hanoi Moyers said it was a "safe deduction" that there had been direct contact.

No Change

While administration sources said the direct contact disclosure did not signify a change in the immediate diplomatic or military situation, the White House statement heightened already intense congressional interest in what might be done about Viet Nam

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, who headed a 13-capital tour by five senators late last year, called this new report "a hopeful sign"

Mansfield said he had no word from either the White House or the State Department on the development

"But it speaks well for the intensive (peace) efforts made by the President not only over the past two months but over the last eight months," he said.

The Mansfield group said in a formal report released last week that chances for a just, negotiated settlement are slim

Sen George D Aiken, R-Vt., one of those who accompanied Mansfield on the trip, said he knew nothing of the contact

"I hope it is true," he said "I hope it is a first step toward further understanding between the conflicting parties"

The Senate Republican Policy Committee arranged a luncheon at which Minority Leader Everett M. Dirksen expected to sound out GOP sentiment on Viet Nam in the light of the new development.

No Response

Sen. Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts, chairman of the Senate Republican Conference, said that if there is no acceptable Communist response to the U.S. peace probes, a decision on intensifying the war will have to be made soon. Saltonstall is one of the select group which gets CIA briefings

Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., a Foreign Relations Committee member, said in an interview he feels there may be some more "hopeful elements" in the Johnson search for peace that have not come to public light

Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., said Johnson should have complete freedom to "play out the string for peace"

"It would be foolish to start bombing again just when the President's strategy may be beginning to pay off," Clark said.

Menasha Girl Dies After She Is Hit by Auto

30 one year ago today. An elderly West Allis motorist also was killed Monday when his stalled car was struck by another auto on a freeway near Milwaukee County Zoo.

The Kobs girl was walking in front of 1049 Appleton Road, when she was struck by the right front fender of a car driven by Sylvester Zenefski, 56, 911 Mayer St., Menasha The car skidded 49 feet and the girl's body was found 21 feet from where the car stopped She never regained consciousness

There are no sidewalks on Appleton Road north of Ninth Street and the girl was walking along the road Miller said her footprints indicated she had turned into the roadway.

Zenefski told police he had just left his home to go to Appleton and turned onto Appleton Road shortly before the accident.

The death is the first traffic fatality in Winnebago County this year.

The Associated Press also reported the deaths of.

John Brzycki, 67, West Allis, who was killed Monday night when his stalled car was struck by another auto on a freeway near the Milwaukee County Zoo. Police said Brzycki's car had stopped in the middle of the three northbound lanes and the victim was looking under the hood when the collision occurred

Mrs Lloyd Wright Jr., 44, Eau Claire, who died Monday of injuries suffered Dec 15 in a crash near Hallie in Chippewa County. The death was charged to the 1965 toll, already the second highest in the state's history

The girl was born Sept. 7, 1952, in Appleton and was a Menasha resident for three years. She was a student at Butte des Morts Junior High School.

India Mourns Shastri; Nanda Is Sworn In

Mountbatten, last viceroy and first governor general of India, to represent her

Tributes to Shastri poured in from many parts of the world

President Johnson said his death was a "grevious blow to the hopes of mankind for peace and progress" He said Shastri had "proved a fitting successor to Pandit Nehru by holding aloft the highest ideals of Indian democracy"

Kosygin hailed Shastri as "a great humanist of our time"

British Prime Minister Harold Wilson, attending the Commonwealth conference on Rhodesia in Nigeria, said the loss of Shastri "will be felt throughout the Commonwealth, and indeed everywhere His qualities of statesmanship, sincerity and integrity are valued"

Ayub Shaken

Ayub said he was "profoundly shaken and grieved" by Shastri's death and had been "greatly impressed by his sincerity and dedication" during their week of meetings in Tashkent

The national flag was half-masted on all government buildings in Pakistan, and Ayub ordered his commerce minister, and defense adviser, Ghulam Faruque, to represent him at the funeral

Shastri died at 1:32 a.m. — 2 32 p m. EST Monday — in the villa where he was staying outside Tashkent. Aides said he had dined alone at 10:30 p m., telephoned his family in New Delhi, and went to bed half an hour later but could not sleep.

At about 1 20 a.m., the prime minister was seized by a coughing spell and staggered into the hall crying, "Doctor, doctor." His staff, packing to leave Tashkent today, put their chief back to bed and summoned his personal physician Dr R N Chugh The doctor said Shastri lost consciousness three minutes later and stopped breathing at 1 32 A team of eight Soviet physicians joined in unsuccessful attempts to revive the Indian leader.

Tass Report

Tass, the Soviet news agency, reported that death was due to a heart attack Shastri had had serious heart attacks in 1959, before becoming prime minister, and succeeding Nehru

Shastri had seemed in good spirits earlier in the evening when he and Ayub Khan were Kosygin's guests at a reception He smiled and clapped at a brief program of music and dances

Indian Defense Minister Y B Chavan said the prime minister, during the automobile ride back to the villa, said, "We must fight bravely for peace as we fought in the conflict"

Shastri and Ayub in their "Declaration of Tashkent" agreed to eliminate many of the after-effects of the conflict between their two nations last fall, but they solved no basic problems They left unsettled their quarrel over Kashmir, which has provoked two wars in Asia in the past 18 years

Spokesmen Differ

Official spokesmen for both sides also differed on how to work out withdrawal of the heavily armed divisions strung out along a 1,500-mile cease-fire line.

India received the news of Shastri's death in the middle of a chill winter night Except for lights and an unusual bustle at a few government buildings, there was no indication at first that the country had lost its prime minister.

Most people were asleep when the government national radio, normally silent at night, announced the death in English and Hindi

"The nation which only a few hours ago welcomed the Tashkent declaration is in deep mourning," the announcer said

About two hours after Shastri's death Nanda, who is 67, took over the reins of government. As home minister he was next in line, and he was sworn in by President Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan in a brief ceremony at the Presidential Palace.

The president and Nanda then went to Shastri's residence to pay their respects to the prime minister's wife, Lalita. They were accompanied by Indira Gandhi, Nehru's daughter, who is information and broadcasting minister.

Gradually a crowd of mourners formed at the Shastri residence Government ministers and family friends were admitted inside the brick and iron-barred walls, the public stood silently outside, a steadily swelling sea of humanity waiting to file past the body when it was returned to lie in state. An army officer predicted that more than a million persons would file past the catafalque before the funeral procession to the Jumna Wednesday.

12-Day Mourning

The government announced 12 days of state morning All government offices were closed today and Wednesday Most shops in the capital were shut.

Congress party members in Parliament will meet soon to decide whether Nanda will remain at the head of the government or be pushed aside for someone else, as he was after Nehru's death Observers expressed belief that he has a good chance of holding the post this time. He lost it to Shastri after five days.

New Radar Tells Speed, Distance

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP) — Purdue university scientists say they have developed a radar system which, they say, can determine for the first time both the distance and velocity of distant objects in space. Previously systems could determine either range or velocity but not both.

A team headed by Prof. C D. McGillen was able to obtain both kinds of information by introducing a random, continuously changing signal — plain noise — into the radar. The outgoing and reflected noise is identified by a special computer.

76-Year-Old Man Stopped On Long Walk

MILWAUKEE (AP)— For 76-year-old Charles E Borton, getting there might have been half the fun, but getting home was no fun at all.

The Stevens Point potato grader went to Detroit for a Christmas visit. The day after Christmas, with $7 in his pocket, he started for home — on foot.

Milwaukee police officers stopped him Monday, with 380 miles behind him and 154 to go. The $7 was gone, he'd had a few short rides, but mostly, he said, he walked.

"I didn't get too cold while I was walking but when I stopped, it was pretty cold"

There was a conference at the district attorney's office, and Borton was referred to Roger Hogan, an unsalaried court aide. By mid - afternoon, Borton was on his way to Stevens Point, but this time by bus, with a $5.60 ticket provided by Hogan, and an overcoat, from the same source.

Rare Coin Returned to Museum After 36 Years

TITUSVILLE, Pa (AP) — Drake Museum, operated here by the petroleum industry, says it recently received an unsigned letter with a rare coin enclosed.

The letter said: "Enclosed is an item taken from your museum by mistake. This happened in 1934 during the Diamond Jubilee I am sorry."

The letter had a Kittanning, Pa., postmark.

Crackdown by Mayor Catches Up With Mayor

PHOENIX, Ariz (AP) — The city's crackdown on illegal advertising signs caught Mayor Milton Graham. City inspectors notified an appliance store of which Graham is part owner that it has too many signs out front.

"If the sign is wrong, we'll take care of it," Graham said.

Shastri's Successor

India's New Minister Is Foe of Communists

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — India's new prime minister, Gulzarilal Nanda, is a trade union veteran who in the past year jailed more than 1,000 Communists while home minister.

Like all leaders of India's ruling Congress party, the 67-year-old prime minister is a disciple of Mohandas K. Gandhi, the leader of the nonviolent revolution against British rule.

"I believe in freedom of the individual because I believe individual freedom leads to growth," he once said "Therefore, I want to stave off totalitarian symptoms wherever they appear."

He viewed communism as a greater threat to India's democratic socialism than right-wing political groups because "of the proximity of China and the display of power there which has dazzled some of our people."

Nanda founded the Indian National Grade Union Congress to counter the Communist All-India Trade Union.

Not Marxist

He once described himself as a pragmatist and "a Socialist but not a Marxist."

"My heart bleeds for the working classes and this makes people think I am a leftist," he said. "But I am a Gandhian in and out and I want a fair deal for workers.

"If we enlist the sympathy and support of the underdogs that is the most effective reply to our Communist friends"

Nanda resigned as professor of economics at Bombay's National College in 1921 to join Gandhi's movement. Gandhi named him to head the Congress party's labor movement.

The British jailed Nanda five times for his independence work and he spent in all seven years in jail.

He entered the government in 1952 when Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru named him labor minister. Later he became home minister, the No. 2 post in Nehru's government.

After he became home minister, Nanda said in an interview he never imagined himself rising so high in the political world

Social Tasks

"I always thought I was carved out for social and economic tasks," he said.

One of Nanda's close aides once described him as "basically an economist, a social worker and a religious man."

He found a nationwide organization of the Hindu holy men known as Sadhus in an effort to put them to work in active social service.

When Nehru died last May, Nanda was sworn in as caretaker prime minister. Five days later he stepped aside for Lal Bahadur Shastri, who died Monday in the Soviet Union, and returned to the home ministry.

Nanda married while an undergraduate and has two daughters and two sons Both daughters and one son became doctors.

'Operation Crimp' Chases Viet Cong With Little Success

The cavalrymen destroyed the camps.

The operation netted eight Communists captured Some of the captives were identified as members of the 32nd and 66th North Vietnamese regular regiments There also were reports that an antiaircraft battalion with 18 Chinese machine guns had been in the area

Khaki and Black

As the Americans crashed into one campsite they saw a squad of armed men in a patch quilt of khaki and black uniforms flee across the Tongle San River the border with Cambodia 40 miles west of Pleiku A big cooking kettle still simmered A Viet Cong brigadier general left behind a small satchel with a single star pinned to it and his toothbrush and paste inside

Operation Dipping Mustang brought the 1st Cavalrymen within 100 feet of the Cambodian border and some of the 1st Cavalry's helicopters swooped down on the river to sink a Communist sampan Heretofore the American troops were under orders to keep at least three miles from the border to avoid charges from Cambodia of territory violation In most areas, the border is poorly defined in the thick forests

"Charlie" Watching

As a sergeant stood on the river bank in a clearing he pointed to caves on the Cambodian side and said I'll bet Charlie (the Viet Cong) is watching us from over there"

At some spots the river is 50 feet wide

The helicopters fired rockets and machine guns at a sampan camouflaged with vegetation in the river, and Lt. Col. Kenneth Mertel of Eugene, Ore., the battalion commander, said secondary explosions erupted as the boat sank.

Only light contact with the enemy was reported today.

A South Vietnamese battalion killed 30 Viet Cong and seized eight weapons in a push 65 miles south of Saigon near Than Tan the spokesman said.

Continue Search

Other Vietnamese troops were continuing the hunt for 400 guerrillas who inflicted moderate losses on government columns early Monday east of Xuan Loc, 40 miles east of Saigon The troops were protecting farmers preparing for the rice harvest

A dozen guerrillas opened fire Monday night on a guard tower two miles southeast of the huge Nha Be fuel storage dump on the outskirts of Saigon The government forces beat off the attackers without casualties a Vietnamese military spokesman said

Bombing Pause

The moratorium on bombing North Viet Nam went into the 19th day but U S planes gave no breather to Communist targets in the South Air Force and Navy jets flew 281 sorties against Viet Cong targets Monday

Hanoi radio charged that two U S helicopters attacked and sank a South Vietnamese ferry boat last Saturday killing more than 200 persons Vietnamese sources in Saigon said this may have been an exaggerated account of an attack by a U S helicopter on a civilian motor boat in the Saigon River 60 miles northwest of Saigon last Friday Although the boat sank, there was no report of casualties.

Humphrey Gets Chance to Build Party Structure

Needs Organization If He Is to Remain Presidential Hopeful

BY ROWLAND EVANS AND ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — Plagued by lack of a national political organization, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey is now getting unprecedented help from inside the federal government.

Assistant Secretary of Commerce Eugene Foley, a prominent Minnesota Democrat and one of Humphrey's most talented proteges, has given the vice president first crack at some 150 top-level field jobs in the new Economic Development Administration (EDA), successor to the old Area Redevelopment Administration (ARA) in the Commerce Department.

Evans

Novak

Foley took charge of the EDA in early September. Before that, he was head of the Small Business Administration (a vantage post which, according to highly placed Democrats, he used judiciously to help Humphrey in the bitter competition for the Democratic vice presidential nomination in 1964).

Can Help Humphrey

But now, as overall boss of the EDA, Foley is in a far better position to give Humphrey the help he most needs: building the underpinnings of a strong Humphrey organization.

A national organization is essential for presidential politics. But Humphrey never had either time or money to build outside Minnesota. Now, thanks to Foley, he is in a position to have the job started for him—if he can come up with the names of competent Democratic friends to man 150 jobs.

Once appointed, these regional directors and other top-rank officials of the EDA in the field, paid between $12,510 and $19,252 a year, could become the nucleus of an organization committed to Hubert Humphrey. Although the Hatch Act outlaws overt political activity by government servants, there are innumerable ways in which a politician can be helped discreetly without coming close to violating the law.

May Battle Kennedy

Furthermore, the Hatch Act was designed to protect the party out of power from unscrupulous use of government payrolls by the party in power. Humphrey's problem today concerns not the Republicans but his standing in the Democratic party. Particularly, it concerns a possible head - to-head battle for control of the party with Sen. Robert F. Kennedy of New York after President Johnson leaves the White House.

Unlike Humphrey, Kennedy has the nucleus of a national political machine dating from 1958 when his brother decided to go after the 1960 Democratic nomination. Although this organization is not nearly so solid for Bobby Kennedy today as it was for John F. Kennedy, it still overshadows the organization of Humphrey or any other Democrat with the exception of President Johnson himself.

The offer for Humphrey to submit names for the 150 top-level field jobs in the EDA is meant to start closing the gap between him and Kennedy. But not a single one of these jobs has yet been filled by Foley, indicating that Humphrey may be having trouble finding loyal men for the jobs.

Proposes Few Names

The agency came into being last August. Foley was sworn in on Sept. 13, and the location of the eight regional offices was announced in November. In all that time, the vice president, busy with multiple activities and his successful trip to the Far East, proposed fewer than 40 names to staff the 150 openings.

The delay in staffing is puzzling some other politicians. Michigan's two Democratic senators, Pat McNamara and Philip Hart, for example, agreed on a man to take over the regional office in Detroit and brought him here for an interview with Foley. For two months, however, they have been unable to get yes or no.

Foley's assistants say the reason is simple: he wants to interview a couple of other candidates. But politicians here wonder whether his arrangement with Humphrey might be a key factor in the delay.

The EDA regional offices are strategically placed in Seattle, Austin, Huntington, W. Va., Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Duluth, Minn., Portland, Maine, and Huntsville, Ala., as well as Detroit.

If Humphrey can come up with anything close to 150 Humphrey-style Democrats for the EDA jobs, he will have scored a key tactical victory. If he can't, it will be a lost opportunity—and a signal that his political fences are indeed in need of repair.

To Your Good Health

Control of Epilepsy Doesn't Mean Cure

BY JOSEPH MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: In a recent column you said that there is no cure for epilepsy. My son had several petit mal attacks and two strong seizures, and starting at the age of seven took Dilantin for almost three years without any attack.

The medicine was discontinued on the doctor's advice. Later when we asked whether his electroencephalogram should be repeated, the doctor said the irregularity was so slight that he did not believe it necessary.

This young man is now 21, works every day and never has had any recurrence. Wouldn't you say he has been cured? Or if you do not think so, isn't it possible for children to grow out of this illness?

From my experience I think a little more optimism would help people with this disorder. — Mrs. M. M.

My dear Mrs. M., I am delighted that your son is doing so well. So are many others.

Yet my previous statement stands: There is no cure for epilepsy except in the fraction of a per cent of cases in which a specific cause is responsible, and removal of that cause corrects things.

Perhaps the real, useful point to bring out on the basis of your letter is this: Epilepsy ocurs in all degrees, from very slight to very severe.

Your son, Mrs. M., had several attacks. He had medication. He reached a point at which he no longer needed this and his encephalogram (brain wave test) showed only a slight deviation. His case of epilepsy is extremely mild. Be grateful for that.

But can I, in good conscience, start being optimistic about epilepsy when some patients may have dozens or scores of petit mal attacks in a single day, and when others have grand mal attacks (the convulsions in which the patient falls to the ground helpless) and suggest that somehow or other their troubles may vanish? No, Mrs. M., I can't.

Almost all cases of epilepsy can be helped by medication. Very large numbers of patients, by taking the proper medication regularly, can avoid further attacks — meaning that the ailment is controlled, but it isn't cured, since they have to keep on with the medication.

Some lucky ones, like your son, have such mild cases that they need no more than to be helped over a rough period, if one occurs. Yet if I optimistically called a mild case a cured one, think what false hopes I would raise in the hearts of people whose cases are not so mild.

Dear Dr. Molner: My three-year-old son has a mild nose bleed on occasion, not much more than a trickle, but I wonder if you think it indicates serious trouble. It has occurred about three or four times in a year and a half, when he is asleep. — Mrs. M.

Tell your pediatrician the next time the youngster has a checkup. It could be a fragile capillary (small blood vessel) or a small ulcer in the nose. But don't worry about it and don't do anything else unless the nosebleeds increase or some other sign appears. He may bump or pick his nose when he sleeps.

Note to V.L.P.: The cause of Hirschsprung's Disease is not known. Medication will not correct it, but increasingly good results are being achieved by surgery.

Much heart trouble is preventable. Write to Dr. Molner in care of The Post-Crescent for your copy of his booklet, "How to Take Care of Your Heart," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

March of Dimes Drive Underway For $2,000 Goal

KAUKAUNA — The March of Dimes drive opened in the city this week under the direction of the Grace Circle of the Kings Daughters with Mrs. Kenneth Pawlak as general chairman.

Last year's effort, also conducted by the Circle, resulted in collection of $2,000 and drive members hope to reach this goal again. Publicity is being directed by Mrs. Henry Drechsler, business places and collection cannisters will be handled by Mrs. Pawlak, industrial solicitation will be arranged by Mrs. Dallas Werner. Mrs. George Greenwood Jr. will work with the American Legion in conducting a toll bridge effort.

Solicitation leaders on the north side will be Mrs. Joseph Bongers, Mrs. Bruce Carlson, Mrs. Robert Franz, Mrs. Robert Green, Mrs. Bernard Hupperts, Mrs. Kenneth Roloff and Mrs. Thomas Trettin.

South side workers will be Mrs. Irving Curry, Mrs. Drechsler, Mrs. Greenwood, Mrs. David Grunwaldt, Mrs. James Jeffrey, Mrs. Jerome Kroll and Mrs. Joseph Steger Jr. In charge of collections on the island will be Mrs. Walter Weihmuller.

Today in History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Tuesday, Jan. 11, the 11th day of 1966. There are 354 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1757, Alexander Hamilton was born a British subject on Nevis Island in the West Indies. He was a key aide to George Washington in the Revolutionary War and later first secretary of the Treasury.

On this date:

In 1788, a band of colonists set out for Ohio from Hartford, Conn.

In 1943, the United States and Britain relinquished extra-territorial rights in China.

Ten years ago — Widespread criticism of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles appeared in the American and British press for his magazine article about U.S. policy on "brinkmanship" without war.

Five years ago — The motor yacht Price sank in a storm off Spanish Morocco, drowning 43 Moroccan Jews on their way to Israel.

One year ago—Atlantic Coast longshoremen struck from Maine to Texas after rejecting a contract approved by union leaders.

VISTA Workers May be Returned To Red Cliff

WASHINGTON (AP) Federal officials may decide this week whether to return two college coeds to a remote Wisconsin Indian reservation where a ban on the domestic peace corps now has been lifted

Volunteers in Service to America (VISTA) officials made a quiet visit to the Red Cliff Reservation near Bayfield, Wis., last Thursday to determine whether the furor stirred by the girls presence actually had calmed

The Indians' tribal council voted 5 2 last Monday night to invite the return of Judy Rothman 20 University City, Mo., and Jill Hunt 22 Kewanee Ill who had been barred a month earlier in a controversy over the value of a VISTA project

Let's EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By Sylvanus M. Duvall, Ph D. and Evelyn M. Duvall, Ph.D.

A research study was made of 18 families in which there were children six years or younger, and of 12 families with adolescent children or older In all the cases, the older children shared fully and, in 7 out of 10 cases, children became confidantes The younger children were simply told that the father was ill and, in 14 out of 18 cases, were allowed to educate them, visit him Some tried to conceal the nature of the illness Others later felt it necessary to explain it as well as possible, especially because of the possible taunts of other children Actually, your children will probably take their cue from you If your attitude is wholesome, their attitudes will probably be, too So before you educate yourself

Age brings special financial problems with it!

True — False —

True, especially among those whose only resources are in their manual skills and abilities Many people can make the grade while they are young and agile But as soon as they begin to slow down, they can no longer meet the competition of younger workers This is one of the reasons why "drop outs" constitute such a serious problem As soon as they reach middle-age, they may be on the skids A major task is to train people so that, as age comes on, they will become more rather than less useful

Your Wisconsin Income Tax

Short Form Advantageous to Those With Yearly Income Under $10,000

By NORMAN E SCHLEY
For The Associated Press

Form 1A is a simple, easy to prepare short form return which is available to certain qualified Wisconsin taxpayers The form is similar to the federal card Form 1040A in many respects and has certain advantages as well as some disadvantages

Second of a Series

The primary requirements are that the total combined income of the taxpayer and his wife be subject to Wisconsin withholding and not exceed $10 000 00 Other income from dividends, interest and wages not subject to withholding, must be less than $200 00

Consult Instructions

In the preparation of this return, it is well to consult the instruction sheet known as Form 1S-1A First fill in carefully the identifying information at the top of the page, taking particular care to include social security numbers and your precise tax district Since some Wisconsin income tax is apportioned to the tax district in which you reside, indicate your county, as well as your city, village, or town Qualified personal exemptions reduce your state tax bill by $10 00 each Where the husband or wife is 65 or over, the exemption increases to $15 00 All persons who qualify as dependents on your federal return may be included on the state return The total amount of interest and dividends received may be entered in one total on Line 11 A detailed listing is unnecessary

One you reach Line 12 you may total your income and that of your wife, attach all Forms, sign the return and mail it The department of taxation will figure the tax for you and bill you if additional taxes are due, or send you a refund in case of overpayment

If you care to compute the tax yourself, Lines 13 through 17 should be completed The standard deduction only may be used when filing Form 1A This is one of the disadvantages of the short form If your deductions as itemized on the federal form exceed the standard deduction, you will save taxes by filing the regular Form 1 The minimum deduction of $300 00 should be claimed only when the combined income of husband and wife is less than $3,000 00 The standard deduction is limited to 10 per cent of your total income, but in no case may the standard deduction exceed $1,000 00 Your Line 12 total income reduced by the standard deduction develops the net taxable income on which you compute your tax Refer to the tax table on Page 4 of the instruction form, enter the gross tax on Line 15, deduct the personal exemption on Line 16 to develop the net tax, at Line 17

Q Our combined income from Wisconsin wages was less than $10,000 00, and we received less than $200 00 from renting our garage May we use Form 1A?

A No Use the regular Form The $200 00 limitation applies only to dividends, interest and wages not subject to withholding

Q We prepared our returns on the short federal form 1040A Do we attach a copy of it to our state Form 1A?

A No A copy of the federal Form 1040 is required only when you file the regular state Form 1

Q We used Form 1040A in reporting our federal income which amounted to less than $3,000 00 May we also use the short Form 1A? We plan on claiming homestead relief

A Those claiming homestead relief must fill out the regular state Form 1, as well as the State of Wisconsin Schedule H Homestead Tax Relief Credit Schedule

Q In using Form 1A where do we deduct for such items as taxes on our home, interest and contributions which totaled $2700 00 last year

Young Girls Rip Tabs From Shirts for Fad

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — Two girls ages 13 and 14 were referred to juvenile authorities after admitting they had ripped tabs from inside the neckbands of 39 men s shirts in a downtown department store

Police detective William Marohn said the girls told police there is a new fad at school whereby the girls make bracelets from the tabs

JAMES BOND "THUNDERBALL"

The was history is taught in school today it's almost as far back as yesterday's front page If you had kept a file of the paper for last year and the year before that, your youngster would have a head start towards honors in current events

You can do still better than that By obtaining a copy of THE WORLD IN 1965 — and, if you didn't get one already, of THE WORLD IN 1964 — you can provide him with an educational tool that will set him apart

No dry-as-dust yearbook, THE WORLD IN 1965 contains all the facts but recounts in dramatic, telling detail the big events, the interesting events, the significant events of the year The quality of the hundreds of news photos, in color and black and white, rivals that of the text

This large 2 page handsome book costing only $2 has been prepared by the news department gathering staff of The Associated Press which operates with this newspaper comprising you with the news of the nation and the world

To obtain your copy of THE WORLD IN 1965 fill out and mail the coupon at once The book will be ready in February
